FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1901.

The agricultural display at the State fair is the greatest ever seen on the Pacific coast.

What the followers of Johann Most need is a club—in the hands of a stout policeman.

Representative Tongue is enthusiastic over the Lewis and Clark Exposition and will help it in every way he can.

If a reason is sought why anarchists are so courageous it should be remembered that most of their meetings at which they talk of great things to be done are in saloons or in rooms adjoining saloons.

It is time that the law of treason had its grasp so enlarged that it may seize and hold those men and women who openly preach and write the overthrow of the government and the murder of presidents.

A forest fire covering over fifty square miles is now devastating Colorado. How it started is not explained, but it is safe to say that it was through the carelessness of some person who ought to be in the penitentiary.

President Roosevelt is a brave man. He does not need to prove this by disdainful protection and taking long rides or walks alone in the suburbs of the Capital City. Such proof of his courage is not necessary and hardly prudent.

The strength of the foundations on which our government rests is demonstrated to the world by the self restraint with which the American people have accepted their great affliction, the peaceableness with which a new chief magistrate has been installed and the loyalty with which they pray for his success.

On Tuesday, September 24, Leon Czolgosz, the slayer of President McKinley was found guilty of murder in the first degree. This verdict the jury arrived at in thirty-five minutes. The court instructed the jury that he deemed the prisoner sane. The sentence of death will be imposed today and his electrocution will soon follow.

The Socialist journals are taking occasion to point out the wide difference between socialism and anarchy. Anarchy opposes all government, while socialism believes in the government owning and controlling everything. They are two extremes between which civilized people find the practical and happy mean.

The storm that began last Friday night is still with us. Some of the days has been fair but the down-pour each night has been copious. The ground is now thoroughly soaked and our farmers will all be glad to see it clear up so they may begin plowing. It has been indeed a welcome rain and done a vast deal of good, but the silent prayer is now going up for sunshine.

Contractor Lea is making good headway with the laying of the water mains considering the battle he is having with the elements. The connection has been made from the east side across the Coast Fork and the residents along River street now have a supply of water from the east side reservoir. It may be two weeks yet before connection will be made with the new reservoir beyond Gowdyville. The contractor is making every exertion to that end, and when the pipes are finally strung together Cottage Grove will have a bountiful supply of water for all purposes.

BOHEMIA NEWS.

Advises from the mines this week are indeed very flattering. Steady development goes ahead on all sides and new bodies of mineral are being uncovered every week. This past week the workings of the Vesuvius on Fairview have run into a 10-inch vein that is far richer than any ore that mine has heretofore uncovered—and it has in the process produced some mighty rich rock.

J. B. Eggen came out from Bohemia on Tuesday, and took the night train for his home at Fort Ransom, North Dakota. He carries with him a quantity of ore from the Sunrise Group, in the development of which he has spent the summer. This group of mines is owned by E. S. Lovelace and B. Holmes. Its location is on the east side of Adams Mountain and it is composed of the May, Home, steak, Sunrise, Dakota, Sampson, Winchester, Camp and Giant. The most work has been done on the May. No. 1 tunnel is now in 325 feet and the face shows, by a cross-cut to the footwall, 25 feet of ore which assays from $30 to $60. There are two pay streaks and the filling in between these two rich streaks gives $17 to the ton. No. 2 tunnel is in now 80 feet and the face shows a 7 foot ledge of fine base ore. This tunnel follows right in on the ledge and up to 60 feet the ore was free milling. All the work has now been done that can be done to advantage without machinery, which will be forthcoming next spring. It is quite probable that a cyanide process will be installed for the working of these ores. However the proper treatment of these ores will be decided upon this winter and next spring the machinery will be shipped in and work thereafter be pushed.

The Helena's ten stamps are falling night and day on high grade ore, of which they have about 300 tons in the ore bin and a new and large ore chute to stope from. A force of about 30 men are now employed.

"Systemizer" is the name of a profession that has sprung into use of late years, and the pay is said to be larger than that of any traveling professional man known. A "systemizer" is an expert who goes from city to city taking temporary charge of large business establishments, and placing them on a systematic basis. One of these experts recently struck Portland and is said to have made $5000 within 50 days, his pay being $100 a day. He is now engaged in the cities of Puget Sound, and notwithstanding the big salary he demands, the firms for whom he has worked declare that they have made money as a result of his systematizing.

At the rate of ten cents per pound America's hop yield this year is worth close to $4,000,000, the estimated total crop being 210,000,000 bales or 380,850,000 pounds. Oregon's harvest will bring nearly $1,500,000 and it is not at all unlikely that the price will range much higher.

To a large extent the low passenger rates that have been in effect in the territory west of Chicago during the summer are to prevail throughout the Winter months. Independent action has been taken by a number of Western roads providing for excursions on the first and third Tuesdays in October, November and December to Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington, Manitoba, Canadian Northwest and British Columbia.

OLD SOLDIERS' BANQUET.

If the weather is good on Saturday the basket banquet of the old soldiers ought to be a big success. At this writing it looks a little dubious, as the clouds are still lowering and the gentle rain continues to fall, but the old boys have weathered many storms and a little dampness will not abate their ardor when it comes to a reunion feast.

Advertise in the Nugget.

Through the kindness of Dr. Wall the Nugget has the Journal of the American Medical Association, which contains the full and official report of Medical attendants upon President McKinley through the crisis of his assassination. The direct cause of death was as follows:

The necropsy showed that death was the result of sepsis due to gangrene resulting from the wound and that it could not have been avoided. Had the President lived twenty-four hours longer the gangrenous area around the stomach would have sloughed and death would have resulted from diffuse peritonitis. The result of the operation so far as it went was perfect. No peritonitis was present, no particles of food were found outside the stomach, but Nature had made no effort to repair the injury.

About twenty-four cultures were taken from the pericardium blood, right auricle, the healthy part of the peritoneum, and along the entire gangrenous track.

The Roseburg Review sums up the result of its recent street fair as follows:

The second annual street fair in Roseburg is a matter of history. That it was a successful one is the general verdict. While hundreds of people in all parts of the county were detained from coming, it is believed the attendance during the four days was the largest ever seen here—and what is better, all seem to have had an enjoyable time. The street displays were more numerous and attractive than last year, the music was plentiful and of an excellent character, the floats were well gotten up, and a spirit of general good feeling was prevalent. An opportunity was afforded for the people of all parts of the county to mingle together, renew friendly greetings, gain an interchange of ideas and enlarge their circle of acquaintances. However fine the shows or extensive the exhibits the people are the main feature, and they were here in goodly number and all enjoyed their visit. Our business people who expended their time and money on the entertainment in various ways are generally satisfied with the result. While they may not have secured immediate returns for their outlay, they have made our city known abroad in such a favorable manner that future good results will in all probability follow.

CARNIVAL AND EXPOSITION AT PORTLAND.

Greatly Reduced Rate to Pioneer Day Celebration, October 3.

The great Portland Carnival and Exposition is now in full swing, with a splendid array of attractions, and two full military bands playing afternoons and evenings. On October 3 there will be a grand celebration of Pioneers' and Native Sons' and Daughters' Day, and Portland's Front Street will be reproduced just as it was 50 years ago, and those of the Portland pioneers who are still living will be back in their old place of business for the day and evening. It will be a very enjoyable occasion for everybody.

The Southern Pacific Excursion train will leave Ashland at 5 a. m. on October 2, reaching Portland the same evening. Fares will be only $10.50 from Ashland, round trip; Phoenix $10.00; Medford $9.85; Grants Pass $8.90; Glendale $7.90; Riddle $7.00. Other points at proportionately low rates. On these excursion tickets passengers will be allowed 5 full days in Portland, during which time Hermann, the daredevil of the diamond frame will make hair-raising rides for life on a bicycle from a tower 80 feet high, down 180 steps, with no saddle on his wheel.

When you want a pleasant physic try the new remedy, Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at Benson Drug Co's drug store.

FIXING THE BRIDGE.
The force of carpenters at work on the repairs of the bridge at the west end of Main street are doing a good job and have had many difficulties to contend with. The bridge has been raised and new bents put under, making it staunch for heavy teams. New planking will be put down and by another week the bridge will be in fairly good shape for the winter.

"The Great Carnival, which opens at Portland on September 18th and continues until October 19th, 1901, will be well worth a visit to the metropolis. Exhibits of agricultural and horticultural products, mining and manufacturing industries, athletic exercises, a horse show at which feats of horsemanship and the various forms of fancy riding will be seen, and a magnificent military tournament, participated in by picked companies from the Oregon National Guard, are a few of the attractions at the Carnival this year. The Southern Pacific Co. will sell tickets at low rates for this occasion, and will also run a special excursion from Ashland to Portland and return, stopping at all intermediate stations, the date and rates for which will be announced hereafter."
