VALUE OF MINING REPORTS.

The receipts of two inquiries—one from Colorado, another from Oregon—asking if $50 would be a fair price for a 'mining report' or a 'mine test' indicates some mental haziness regarding some facts. Cheap and dear are relative terms. Cheapness is usually regulated not by what one pays, but what he gets for what he pays. A mining report may be worth $50,000 or 50 cents—much depends. A mine test that would cost $50 would be probably worth that much. One that would cost $5000 might be the cheaper of the two. It is impossible to give accurate reply to either of the questions. A 'mine test' involves so much; the kind of a mine or prospect it is; the cost of getting there; the kind of ore; its extent and value; the amount of development; assaying; treatment of ore; the fee of a competent mining engineer and his assistant, the extent of the required report, that is, how much it shall include. We have seen a mining report, from a man claiming to be a mining engineer, that cost in total $25. We have also seen a mining report that cost $25,000. There are not a few mining engineers who will not take up anything in the way of a mine examination for less than $1000; there are more who can be had for from $25 to $50 per day and expenses. It is not however, a matter that could be determined by competitive bids. A valuable report is worth all it costs, and in this, as in other things, true economy consists in judicious expenditure. A $5000 report can be cheaper than one costing $50. The man making the $50 report would very probably have honestly earned his money and given value received, but so much more value might be given for the $5000 report that it would be the cheaper. A report upon which may be based the expenditure of considerable money can not ordinarily be secured for a trifling sum. Better employ a competent man of reputation and experience and pay what such experience and reputation is justified in charging. It would be cheaper in the long run—or short run.—Mining and Scientific Press.

tion is comparatively small, and it is still remote from the more thickly settled parts of the country. Under the circumstances patronage will be limited, and if the exposition is to be a financial success it must be planned and managed with a proper understanding as to what it will cost and what support it may expect from the people of the Pacific coast. No doubt the attendance from the Middle West and the East will be considerable, but it is the patronage of the coast and the Rocky Mountain states that must be depended on.

RICH ORE CONTINUES.

Helena Mine, in Bohemia, Gives Gold Assays Across Face of Tunnel of $339.35

The office of the Helena Consolidated Gold Mining & Milling Company, in the Sherlock Building, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Bruneau, the superintendent of the Helena mine in the Bohemia district, that the rich strike made about a week ago in the No. 1 level continues. The whole face of the tunnel is now in solid sulphide ore of a very high grade. Average samples taken from across the face assay $339.35 per ton in gold and from 3 to 5 per cent in copper, making it a very desirable smelting ore. Development work upon this level will be continued through the winter. The No. 4 level, 200 feet below No. 1, will also be driven ahead in order to tap the rich chubte encountered in the higher level.

James P. Kimball, the engineer, left for the mine yesterday morning, accompanied by V. H. Behne, the superintendent, to take levels and make a survey of the big double-track tunnel to be driven from the west side.

The new buildings now under construction at the terminus of the Cottage Grove & Bohemia Railroad are nearing completion and work on the west side tunnel will be begun at an early date.

WISE CONSERVATISM.

Lewis and Clark Exposition Will be a Credit to Portland.

Spokane Spokesman-Review Portland is preparing for a Lewis and Clark Exposition in 1905, and if the plan outlined by The Oregonian is followed the exposition should be creditable alike to Portland and the whole 'Oregon country,' whose early discovery and exploration it is to celebrate.

Portland has wisely decided that first of all it must raise at least $300,000 among its own citizens. The chief labor will fall on Portland people, and they of course should demonstrate in the beginning that they are willing to give their time, their money and their individual effort that the exposition may be made a success. When this has been done it will be proper to ask Oregon to grant official recognition and lend financial aid and also to invite the United States government and neighboring commonwealth to assist in this 'Oregon country' celebration.

While the exposition will represent Pacific coast growth during a century, and to indicate the possibilities of the future may have prominent Oriental features, it has been determined not to attempt too much. This conservatism is to be highly commended. Whatever the hopes of the Northwest as to future achievement, it is well to remember that its popula-

Sheriff's Sale on Execution.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an Execution duly issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Lane, on the 18th day of September, 1901, on a judgment rendered in the Justice Court, for the Justice district of Cottage Grove, of the State of Oregon for the County of Lane, on the 4th day of May, 1901, which judgment was entered and docketed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court on the 23d day of August, 1901, in a suit in the Justice Court, for the Justice district of Cottage Grove, wherein Dr. G. U. Snapp is plaintiff and J. B. Fisher is defendant, and to me directed commanding me that out of the personal property of said defendant, or if sufficient could not be found, then out of the real property belonging to said defendant in said County on or after the said 20th day of August, 1901, to satisfy the sum of Forty-two and 25/100 ($42.25) Dollars, and a further sum of Six and 25/100 ($6.25) Dollars costs, and the costs of and upon this writ, and being unable to find personal property of said defendant to satisfy said judgment and costs and accruing costs I did on the 23th day of September, 1901, levy upon the following described real property belonging to said defendant in and to the above described premises, to-wit: Lot No. 12 in block No. 120(2) of Park addition to the City of Cottage Grove, Lane County, Oregon, as the same is platted and recorded. Now therefore in the name of the State of Oregon and in compliance with said writ I will offer for sale at public auction for cash, subject to redemption, all the right, title and interest of the said defendant in and to the above described premises, at the South-west door of the County Court House, in Eugene, Lane County, Oregon, on Monday the 4th day of November, 1901, between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. to-wit at 1 o'clock p. m. on said day. Dated this 28th day of September, 1901. W. W. WITHERS, 041ml Sheriff of Lane County, Oregon.
