Salt Rheum

It may become chronic.

It may cover the body with large, inflamed, burning, itching, scaling patches and cause intense suffering. It has been known to do so.

Do not delay treatment.

Thoroughly cleanse the system of the humors on which this ailment depends and prevent their return.

The medicine taken by Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md., was Hood's Sarsaparilla. She writes: "I had a disagreeable itching on my arms which I concluded was salt rheum. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and in two days felt better. It was not long before I was cured and I have never had any skin disease since."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Promises to cure and keeps the promise. It is positively unequaled for all cutaneous eruptions. Take it.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Street-Car Pass for Dog.

A Detroit man has a pass which entitles him to carry his dog with him on the street cars. The pass is in the shape of a photograph of the dog, on the back of which is an order, signed by the superintendent of the lines, directing the conductors of all cars to permit the dog to ride. The dog—a Boston terrier—is known to nearly all the conductors, and it is rarely necessary for the owner to show his order.

St. Jacobs Oil for Chest Colds, Bronchitis, Croup and Pleurisy.

An outward application for bronchial difficulties is many times far more effective than syrups, cough mixtures, cod liver oil, etc., simply because it penetrates through to the direct cause, which is, as a rule, an accumulation of matter or growth tightly adhered to the bronchial tubes.

St. Jacob's Oil, possessing as it does those wonderful penetrating powers, enables it to loosen these adhesions and to induce free expectoration. Cases have been known where expectorations have been examined after St. Jacob's Oil has been applied, and the exact formation was clearly shown where the adhesions had been removed or pulled off the bronchial tubes. All irritation of the delicate mucous membrane of the bronchae is quickly removed by the healing and soothing properties of St. Jacob's Oil. In cases of croup and whooping cough in children St. Jacob's Oil will be found superior to any other remedy.

St. Jacob's Oil is for sale throughout the world. It is clean to use—not at all greasy or oily, as its name might imply. For rheumatism, gout, sciatica, neuralgia, cramp, pleurisy, lumbago, sore throat, bronchitis, soreness, stiffness, bruises, toothache, headache, backache, feetache, pains in the chest, pains in the back, pains in the shoulders, pains in the limbs, and all bodily aches and pains it has no equal. It acts like magic. Safe, sure and never failing.

CANCER SSS

THE ONLY HOPE

The diseases most feared are those which are inherited—handed down from generation to generation, and family to family. By far the most destructive of these is Cancer, which finds the greatest number of its victims among the children and grand-children of those whose blood was tainted with this dreadful malady. You may carry this poison in the blood for years, but as the vital powers begin to wane a slight bruise or cut, wart or mole, sore or pimple may develop into Cancer. From middle life to old age is the time when the slumbering poison is most apt to break out, a sore or ulcer often degenerating into Cancer, and Tumors become more progressive and ulcerate through the skin, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

The Cancer patient naturally grows despondent as one after another the usual remedies fail, and the sore shows no sign of healing. The impurities that have been accumulating in the system, perhaps for generations, cannot be eliminated nor the poisoned blood made pure by salves, washes and plasters. The proper treatment is to purify and build up the blood, remove the cause, when the sore or ulcer heals.

Mr. J. B. Arnold, of Greenwood, S. C., writes: "A tiny ulcer came, just under the left eye. It began spreading, and grew worse rapidly, destroying the flesh as it went. As Cancer is hereditary in my family I became thoroughly alarmed, consulting the best physicians and taking many blood medicines, none of which did me any good, when one of our leading druggists advised me to try S. S. S., and by the time I had taken the second bottle the Cancer began to show signs of healing, the discharge grew gradually less and finally ceased altogether, the sore dried up and nothing remains but a slight scar. I feel that I owe my life to S. S. S."

S. S. S. goes directly into the blood, destroys the virus, stops the formation of Cancerous cells and cleanses the system of impurities. What we say of S. S. S. as a cure for Cancer is supported by the testimony of those who have tested it and been restored to health.

Begin in time, don't wait until the blood is so polluted and the system so thoroughly saturated with the poison that no medicine, however efficacious, can check the progress of the disease. If there is a taint in your blood get it out at once, don't wait for some external evidence of it, the appearance of a tumor or ulcer. We have prepared a special book on Cancer which we will mail free. Our physicians are ready to help you by their advice and such direction as your case requires. Write us fully and freely—no charge for medical advice. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

HE FORGOT ABOUT THE DOG.

Man Returning from a Journey Finds His Horse Lon We.t Guar el.

Burglaries had been of such frequent occurrence in the neighborhood that when he decided to leave home with his family for a short sojourn in the country he hit on a plan that would insure his home against intrusion. A friend of his who conducted a saloon a few blocks away was the owner of two bulldogs of tried courage. The citizen bent on spending his vacation away from the city concluded that their joint guardianship could be divided and one of the canines left every night in his domicile would contribute much to his own ease of mind.

"I will give you a $5 bill if you will bring one of those dogs over to my house at dark every night and take him away in the morning," said the inventive resident to the bartender. "With one of those dogs there overnight no one will have the nerve to try the windows."

The offer was an alluring one to the dispenser of drinks and he readily accepted it. The householder had little fear for his residence during the daytime, as an obliging neighbor had promised "to kind of keep an eye on the place."

A telegram from the city rudely interrupted the tourist's good time. One of his business associates was coming to town the following day and it would be necessary for the man on his vacation to hurry home for at least 48 hours. His journey to the railway station was interrupted by an accident to the rig and by the time repairs were made the train had pulled out of the depot. This necessitated a weary wait for several hours at the station until the night train arrived.

It was nearly 12 o'clock when the traveler, thoroughly tired, mounted the front steps of his residence. The click of his latchkey caused him to stop suddenly in his musings. He opened the door a few inches and then slammed it in great haste as a heavy dog, growling fiercely, sprang against the panels. Then for the first time he realized how well guarded his home had been in his absence. Incidentally he regretted that his concern had prompted such a method of protection.

The owner of the house had a "speaking acquaintance" with the dog that stood in the way of his entrance, but the animal was not disposed to recollect it. The man at the door said many pleasant things to the canine, but the more he pleaded the louder the animal expressed its resentment. At last he concluded that he was wasting time in his efforts at conciliation and that the only thing left for him to do was to enlist the aid of his friend the bartender.

Arriving at the saloon, the weary traveler found to his sorrow that another drink mixer was on duty.

"You know the bulldog that's over at my house, don't you?" he inquired, pleadingly.

"Oh, yes, of course."

"Well, I've been giving your partner $5 for taking him over at night and bringing him away in the morning these two weeks. I'll just give you $5 if you'll go over this one time and remove him."—Chicago Chronicle.

SOCIAL ENGINEERING.

How a French Mining Company Looks After Its Employes' Welfare.

In Cassier's Magazine appears an entertaining article on the industrial betterment of workingmen by Dr. W. H. Tolman. Speaking of the policy of the French Mining Company, at Anzin, which was a pioneer in this movement, the writer says:

To help its employes save money the company established, in 1869, a department for deposits, in which the workmen could make deposits up to 2,000 francs, on which the interest allowed was at 3 per cent. The company no longer encouraged these deposits in its own department after the creation of the postal savings banks, since these give the workers every facility and every guarantee for banking their savings.

A cor-operative society was founded in 1865 on the initiative of the company. In addition to foodstuffs of all kinds, which are bought in bulk, this society had its own bakeries, dairies, butcher shops and wine cellars. All sorts of household utensils, clothing, and, in fact, all articles for which a demand exists, are supplied. The company itself buys from the co-operative stores soaps, brushes, pails and other small supplies for factory and office use. The society has its own chemists, who analyze all the foodstuffs and test the merchandise, so that the members are protected in having the purest supplies and standard products at the lowest market rates.

To-day the stores are absolutely independent, with 19 branch establishments and a force of nearly 100 of their own employes. The present number of co-operators is 5,642. The sales in 1899 reached 3,934,611 francs, with a net profit of 744,471 francs to be divided among the co-operators.

SAVED BY A FRIEND

One Woman Rescued From Death by Another.

"If it had not been for one of my friends I would not be here to tell the tale."

These were the words of Miss Frances Hathaway, of No. 416 Pine street, Kalamazoo, Mich., whose interview is published in the Holland, Mich., Times.

"It is really remarkable that I did not lose my life," she said. "When I was 16 years old was taken ill. I was pale and weak and grew easily tired and the family doctor seemed unable to help me at all."

"Didn't you try any other physicians?" asked the newspaper man.

"Yes, but they did not help me either. My parents tried various remedies and treatment but I only kept getting worse. By the time I was 19 years old I was thin and bloodless as a ghost."

"What did the doctors call your disease?" inquired the reporter.

"They said my blood had turned to water and I had anaemia. I felt dreadful. It was about this time that Miss Huntley advised me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People, as she had been cured of a somewhat similar trouble by their use. I bought a box and before I had taken all the pills I found that they were doing me good. My appetite increased and the healthy color began to show in my cheeks and lips. I continued to use the pills until I had taken fifteen boxes when I found myself entirely cured."

"Have you ever had any return of the trouble?" asked the reporter.

"No; never a bit. I cannot remember a time when I was as strong and healthy as now. I know that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People saved my life and I believe that no other medicine could have done so."

Anaemia is not the only disease which succumbs to the potent influence of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after-effects of the grip, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions and all forms of weakness either in male or female. They are sold by all druggists or direct from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Price 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.
