SENATORIAL POSSIBILITIES.

An article of some length sizing up the political situation with reference to the election of the next United States senator to succeed Senator Joseph Simon, appeared in the Guard last week, setting forth, among other prominent men in the state, Hon. Harvey Scott, editor of the Oregonian, as a likely candidate for the high office. The writer goes over familiar ground, heretofore well threshed; but aside from that the article deserves the attention of those most interested in the political affairs of the state.

The political pot is evidently on the simmer, and more or less speculation is now rife, heralding the names of a number of good men, among them that of no less a personage than State Senator C. W. Fulton of Astoria, the energetic, broadminded, conservative republican, who has figured conspicuously in Oregon politics for these many years. It is known beyond a doubt that Mr. Fulton will be a candidate, and it is only justice to him and his constituency, as well as the voters of Oregon, that the fact be sent broadcast over the state. It is not necessary to review at length Mr. Fulton's record. It is a clean one, and is on the lips of every one acquainted with the politics of the state. This, in itself, does not entitle him to a seat in the United States senate; but it certainly makes him eligible, and when coupled with his magnificent ability, surrounded by his friends, who are legion, he becomes a formidable figure, not easily outdone by other candidates who may aspire to the high honor. He is one of those courageous republicans who has never been found wanting and always ready to put his best efforts foremost in support of his party and its interests, giving his own, at least on two occasions in his political career, a secondary place. No one can gainsay his ability. In fact today, if not the peer, he stands in the very front rank of brainy men identified with the political affairs of the state.

The writer of the article which appeared in the Guard intimates that Mr. Scott's chances are good, and it must be admitted that the assertion does not sound altogether like poetry.

Mr. Scott, like some others who have been in state and national politics has his enemies, political as well as personal; and the fact that he has been the head and front of one of the greatest and most influential papers on the Pacific Coast for a quarter of a century, does not serve to lessen the number of his enemies. Again, Mr. Scott's prominence in political and newspaper circles has served as the tie that binds, and has made his true friends the stronger, the better and more determined, when the time comes, to fight his battle hard, fast and furious, if possible, to a victorious finish.

The article also calls attention to the renewal of friendship of Senator Mitchell and Mr. Scott. While this is no new thing to many of the onlookers at the political ringside, it also is worthy of some consideration at the present time. The populace of the state has faith—implicit faith—in the ability and earnestness of Senator Mitchell, and the regrettable thing in his present term is the fact that harmony does not exist in the United States senatorial boat from Oregon; hence those who bank their all on Senator Mitchell would not be adverse to the election of a senator who would have something in common with him. A long time ago, Senator Mitchell and Mr. Scott quit sliding down the same cellar door, and since that time things have been in somewhat of a jumble, and many a powerful blow that should have been struck for the general good of Oregon has been blocked, as a result, directly or indirectly, of the estrangement of Mr. Mitchell and Mr. Scott. In some respects the condition of affairs was not unlike an irresistible force coming in contact with an invincible body. Without reference to the relative merits of the estrangement of these two political generals, let us as republicans congratulate ourselves in that they have buried the hatchet, and are ready to put shoulders together and work for the common good of the state. Of Mr. Scott's political aspirations the writer knows nothing. However, it is a fair presumption that he would not refuse the office if it were thrust upon him; but the fact should not be lost sight of that there are other good and brilliant men in Oregon, among whom stands the staunch figure of Hon. C. W. Fulton well to the front, who would make his mark as an energetic and forceful representative in the national senate, giving Oregon a team capable of accomplishing much good and exemplifying to the letter, the spirit of harmony so much needed in the Oregon delegation.

NOW WAITING FOR YOU.

Since the splendid tract of sixty acres of the most desirable land in town has changed hands a grand transformation is taking place. The land immediately adjacent to the depot on the east has been plotted and staked into town lots and a number have already found their way into the possession of intending builders. The first generous act the new owners did was to donate a strip of fifteen feet wide the entire length of their possessions for road facilities. This strip will bring the road on an even line with east Main street in the south side. Now if the City Council can prevail upon the property owners on the north side of this street to be equally generous then a grand thoroughfare is assured through that district. The new owners of this property, Messrs. Long & Bingham, will extend every courtesy to intending purchasers of lots in this tract, and will be willing to make liberal concessions at all times. That the lots in this tract will go off like hot cakes and that the improvement will be rapid goes without saying. It is expected and the expectation will no doubt be fully realized in the construction of a fine union depot on those terminal grounds of the Bohemia and Cottage Grove railroad. That a commodious and first-class hotel will be a feature of the near future is without doubt, as an assurance of $5000 has already been given, and the hotel when built is designed to be three stories high, of brick and stone, to contain fifty rooms and be modern in every and all conveniences, and when completed will have cost $12,000. The large display 'ad' on our front page this week is replete with interrogations which will be gladly explained by the advertisers.

NOTICE OF FORFEITURE.

To WILLIAM B. GAMBLE:
You are hereby notified that we have expanded during the year ending Dec. 31st, 1900, one hundred dollars in labor and improvement on each of the three following described mining claims, to-wit: The "Oursy" located in the Bohemia Mining District and recorded on page 275 of Book 5 of the Mining Records of Lane County, Oregon; the "Denver" located in the Bohemia Mining District and recorded on page 276 of Book 5 of the Mining Records of Lane County, Oregon; and the "Detroit" located in the Bohemia Mining District and recorded on page 277 of Book 5 of the Mining Records of Lane County, Oregon. In order to hold said claims under the provisions of Section 224 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, and the amendment thereto, approved Jan. 22nd, 1880, concerning annual labor upon mining claims, being the amount required to hold each of said three claims for the period ending the 31st day of December, 1900. And, if within ninety days from the personal service of this notice, or within ninety days after the publication thereof you fail or refuse to contribute your portion of such expenditures as co-owner, your interest in the claims will become the property of the subscribers, your co-owners, who have made the required expenditure, by the terms of said section.

RESOLUTIONS IN MEMORIAM.

At the regular meeting of the Cottage Grove Lodge No. 63 I. O. O. F. held Saturday evening Nov. 16, 1901, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Creator to remove from our midst our beloved brother, John A. Stinnett and,

WHEREAS, It is but just that a fitting recognition of his many virtues should be made, therefore be it resolved by Cottage Grove Lodge No. 63 that while we humbly bow in submission to the will of our Creator, we do nevertheless mourn the loss of our brother who has been taken away from us.

Resolved further, That in the death of our brother this lodge laments the loss of a brother who was ever ready to proffer the hand of aid and voice of sympathy to the needy and distressed of the fraternity; an active member of the lodge, whose utmost endeavors were extended for its welfare and prosperity; a friend and companion who was dear to us all; a citizen whose upright and noble life was a standard for emulation to his fellow men.

Be it further resolved, That the heartfelt sympathy of this lodge be extended to the bereaved family and,

THAT these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this lodge, a copy furnished the family of the departed brother and each of the newspapers of Cottage Grove.

Signed: C. W. WALLACE
A. H. CURRAN
H. C. SCHLEEF.

MARRIED.

SCOTT-GAROUTTE.—At Eugene on November 12, 1901, Walter Scott to Miss Lela Garoutte.

They were former residents of Cottage Grove and are well and favorably known here and have the best wishes of their many friends. They will reside in Wendling.

DIED.

HAWLEY.—At Creswell on November 19, 1901, Mrs. Ira Hawley, of cancer of the stomach, aged about 80 years.

The deceased lady was one of the early pioneers, having come across the plains with her husband in 1853, settling at Divide in the southern part of Lane county, where for 20 years or more Mr. Hawley conducted a stage station before the railroad was built. They lived in Eugene for several years. They then moved to Creswell where Mr. Hawley died on August 6th, this year. The deceased was a woman of prominence and was well known all over the east in the early stage days. She leaves five sons, M. M. of Moscow, Idaho; W. D., G. M. and J. H. of Cottage Grove, and R. D. of Creswell. The remains were brought to Cottage Grove on Wednesday where funeral services were held on Thursday and the remains were laid to rest by the side of her husband at Divide.
