KNOWLEDGE IS WEALTH!

Do you know

That a Railroad is being constructed from Cottage Grove to the Bohemia Mining District through one of the finest timber belts on the Pacific Coast?

Do you know that the ore now being transported by wagon from the Bohemia Mining District to Cottage Grove is the same character that made Cripple Creek famous?

Do you know that this ore from the Helena Consolidated Mine contains values from Four to Eight Hundred Dollars per ton, and is being shipped to the Omaha Smelters through Long & Bingham's warehouse.

Do you know that the present population of Cottage Grove will double in the next eighteen months?

Do you know that the fine, high, slightly tract of land adjoining Cottage Grove (formerly owned by G. W. Long) has been platted in lots and acreage and is being offered on terms that will enable you to double on your investment in a very short time?

The above is a few of the facts with which we can make you acquainted if you will call upon us or write.

SALTEM TRAIN WRECK.

The Southern Pacific officials are unable to explain the cause of the accident or to fix the responsibility therefor to their own satisfaction. All theories are formed on the basis that the switch was partly opened, but no one is able to explain how it happened to be left that way. A south-bound freight passed down the switch track and backed down the main track to the depot, and then pulled out of the station over the main track just an hour before the arrival of the passenger. Section Foreman Prunty, who passed the switch about thirty minutes before the express arrived, declares the track was in the natural position and the switch closed. This declaration adds to the mystery. However, the switch is what is termed a "split-rail" switch, and the slightest irregularity in its placing would easily cause a derailment. The speed of thirty-five miles per hour, at which the train was approaching the station, and the result of the vigorous application of the air brakes by Engineer White, which was so severe that a majority of the shoes were torn from the train for its entire length, is thought by some to have forced the switch entirely open. The fact remains, however, that the switch was not locked as it should have been upon the departure of all trains and the lock of the switch has not yet been found.

Wreckage from the main track was cleared away at an early hour Sunday morning and trains resumed their runs on schedule time, beginning with the Albany local, which carried to Portland the remains of Engineer White and Fireman Fish. Engineer White had been in the employ of the Southern Pacific Company for about twenty-eight years, and although he had figured in numerous accidents, he escaped all without serious injury. He was the last engineer to pass over the Lake Labish trestle before the collapse of the structure in 1890.

A NEW BIBLE.

Episcopal Committee Will Complete its Work Today.

New York, Dec. 6.—A new Bible, authorized by the late General Convention in San Francisco, to be read in all Episcopal Churches in the United States, has been in process of completion by the committee on marginal readings which has sat at the Episcopal General Seminary in this city since last Tuesday, and will conclude its work tomorrow (Saturday), says the Times. It was stated that an English firm had undertaken the publication of this Bible without expense to the committee.

The new Bible is to consist of the text and renderings of the King James version, the renderings of the English revision and the renderings of the recent American revision. The renderings of the Episcopal Commission are ordered to be printed in an appendix for preservation.

The late convention, while it praised the scholarship of its commission, did not place their work upon the same level as that of revisers who had included lay scholars and who had spent many more years at the work, besides being far larger in numbers. The new Bible insures the very latest renderings, although the reading of them is permissive only, not obligatory.

The silo cheapens food for cattle because it induces farmers to grow corn for ensilage, which saves hay in winter. Where the winters are severe and the farmer leaves his fodder in the fields to go to waste the best thing for such farmers is the silo, which is of itself an object lesson in economizing the foods for cattle. Ensilage corn can be planted late, and therefore enables the farmer to grow and store away an enormous amount of green fodder when the drouth has injured the early crop.

WONDERFUL CAVE.

A dispatch from Butte, Montana, says that a new and wonderful natural cave, believed to be one of the largest known has been discovered in the canyon of the Jefferson on the line of the Northern Pacific Railway about fifty miles east of Butte. An exploring party from Butte spent several days in the cave, going over an area of ten miles, and to a depth of nearly one thousand feet. A large river, with a cataract of about one hundred feet was explored for a distance of several miles, without discovering its source or outlet. A few articles of stone and copper utensils and some bones, believed to be human, were also found in one of the large apartments of the cave. There were other evidences that at some time in a prehistoric period the cave was inhabited. It is believed that an earthquake closed the entrance to the cave and killed its inhabitants. The stalactites and other natural decorations throughout the cave are most beautiful.
