

REMARKABLE CURE OF CROUP.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—John Demoser, Lakewood, Iowa. For sale by Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove, Lyons & Applegate, Drain.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Island. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to develop pneumonia. Sold by Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove, Lyons & Applegate, Drain.

A GOOD RECOMMENDATION.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove, Lyons & Applegate, Drain.

A CURE FOR LUMBAGO.

W. C. Williamson, of Amherst, Va., says: "For more than a year I suffered from lumbago. I finally tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me entire relief, which all other remedies had failed to do." Sold by Benson Drug Co.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA EXPOSITION.

It is a greater show, a far greater one, than people have any idea of. Any part of it is well worth all that it would cost to come many miles to see it. The "Midway" alone would draw thousands of eager sightseers to every country town if it were a traveling exhibition. Yet it is only an incidental feature, "a side show," of the great show all around it.

The simplest statement must suffice where no amount of printed description will avail. The ends of the earth, from the Arctic regions to Egypt and far South America, from Europe to the Hawaiian Islands; three continents and the isles of the seas have sent here for exhibition for a time the most interesting things of all kinds that they have to exhibit. It is a world show; a costly and a comprehensive one. Nothing like it has ever been seen in this part of the country before, and nothing like it will be seen again for years or perhaps generations. The opportunity to see it and study it and profit by it is the opportunity of a lifetime, and is not to be thrown away. The money required to see it could not well be better invested, except for necessary food. Clothing can wait. It is well worth a sacrifice of many familiar luxuries, and even some comforts, to enable any man, woman or child to see it. The opportunity will not be repeated.

"Every one who can possibly raise the money," says Senator Tillman, "ought to spend a couple of days in Charleston at the exposition." And he is right. The advice holds good for five months, and wise people will heed it.

CHICKEN FACTORY IN BOSTON.

A Boston letter says: In one of the largest poultry-producing places of the east a large chicken-raising plant has recently been installed which is probably the most perfect in the world. The entire plant, in fact, is but one vast machine, each floor of which is devoted to the chicken-producing business. On the top floor are located the incubators, in which the unhatched eggs are placed on a tray and subjected to a heat of about 90 degrees. Beneath the tray, in which are hatched about 1000 chickens a day, are the brooders, and here in a temperature of about 90 degrees the chicks remain for twenty-one days. After being born one day feeding commences, the fare being millet, ground oats and canary seed. For the first week they are fed five times a day, the amount of food being gradually increased, although given less often, their diet being gradually changed to include coarser grains. By the rapid forcing method of feeding adopted it takes only a week or two to bring the chicken to a weight of two pounds.

The chicken is then taken to the floor beneath, where a very limited space is allowed for the running around and where a number of crammering machines are located. The crowded pens on this floor are the first and last glimpses of the modern chicken catches of the world into which it was born, for here it begins to fatten rapidly, as the crammering machines force an abnormal quantity of food down its throat. It takes from two to four weeks to bring the weight of these chickens up to about six pounds, at which time they are exactly in shape for market.

They are then removed to the floor below, where are the gullotines and plucking machines. Here they are disposed of more rapidly than in any of the foregoing processes, the killing and dressing being carried out with the greatest speed possible, so that the fowl may be placed in the packing barrel as nearly warm as possible and reach the market while perfectly fresh.

It is a surprising fact that the products of this establishment receive better favor at the hands of poultry buyers in the large cities than does the old-fashioned farmed product. The owners of the plant expect to make a fortune out of their enterprise and are really making money fast already.

Postoffice Department Ruling

Washington, Dec. 27. — The Postmaster-General said today that the department had received a large number of telegrams and letters asking if a ruling had been made that only subscriptions to newspapers and periodicals which must be paid in advance are legitimate. He said that no such ruling had been made, and that he supposed the inquiries were the result of a ruling made by the Third Assistant Postmaster-General in the case of a New York publication the subscriptions to which were mainly induced by premiums, and which ruling applied only to the conditions of that particular case, or to similar conditions in other cases.
