

REMARKABLE CURE OF CROUP.

A Little Boy's Life Saved.

I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steers of Goodwin, S. D., and when I got home with the poor baby could hardly breathe, I gave the medicine as directed every ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull phlegm out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth today.—JOEL DEMONT, Inwood, Iowa, For sale by Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove, Lyons & Applegate, Drain.

"Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail," says James Prendergast, merchant, Annato Bay, Jamaica, West India Island. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It countersacts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. Sold by BENSON DRUG CO., Cottage Grove, Lyons & Applegate, Drain.

A GOOD RECOMMENDATION.

"I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them," says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa. What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by BENSON DRUG CO., Cottage Grove, Lyons & Applegate, Drain.

A CURE FOR LUMBAGO.

W. C. Williamson, of Amherst, Va., says: "For more than a year I suffered from lumbago. I finally tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me entire relief, which all other remedies had failed to do." Sold by Benson Drug Co.

THREE VARIETIES OF BEES

The Cyprians are the greatest honey gatherers on record. Their honey has a watery appearance, which is caused by the cells being filled so full that the capping rests on the honey. They are easily offended and cannot be subdued without using a great quantity of smoke. The Cyprians are rejected on account of these faults by those who produce comb honey. Their symmetry and bright colors render them things of beauty, if not a joy forever. Italian bees were first introduced into the United States direct from Italy, early in 1860, by a purchasing agent of the commissioner of agriculture. They are liked better than other races, which though better honey gatherers are not as easily subdued and handled. I think their golden yellow color has much to do with their popularity. Italian bees do not winter as well in a cold climate as the common black or brown bees, but they defend their hives better against moth and robber bees, and are more energetic in gathering honey.

The smallest bees known are natives of the West Indies. They build in the open air, fastening a single comb to the branch of a small tree or shrub. This comb is no larger than a man's hand, is very fragile and delicate. There are one hundred worker cells to the square inch of surface. The tiny workers' bodies are longer than house flies and more slender. They are blue-black in color with part of the abdomen a bright orange. These diminutive bees gather very little surplus honey, therefore their cultivation would not be profitable.

WINTER BUTTER MAKER.

Late fall and winter butter making is attended with some difficulties not found in summer. One of these is that the cow feeds herself well and naturally as long as grass is good, whereas when the feeding work is thrown entirely upon her owner she is not always fed so well nor so naturally. A change takes place also in the fat globules, for they become smaller and harder, and the cream is more difficult to gather and to churn. This is especially true when spring calving is the rule. Much of the difficulty of winter butter making, however, arises from the fact that the cream is usually kept longer and is not properly ripened. In winter, too, a larger quantity of milk is usually taken with the cream than is customary in the summer, and this fact affects churning temperature in a way for which the butter maker does not always make allowance. Nearly all winter difficulties in churning are due to some one or more of these changes, or to the greater readiness with which the cream foams in a full churn in winter time. Nearly all of the winter churning difficulties can be avoided on lines which what has already been said will indicate. Fill the churn only about one-third full, so that there will be plenty of concussion. If it be necessary to hold the cream, do it in a temperature as low as possible, and at the same time avoid freezing, and then when sufficient cream has been gathered raise the temperature to a good ripening point. In making additions to the cream always stir well. Cream ought to be stirred two or three times a day.

TELEPHONES ON DINING TABLES.

There is a new quick-lunch telephone in Chicago, and the city has the honor through the Chicago Telephone Company of being the first in the world to provide diners with telephones while they eat. The broker, financier, merchant now eats his lunch placidly certain that his place of business can call him up and he can talk back to it without leaving his table. Three cafes of the city are already using the system, and it promises to be installed in all the popular eating places within a short time. All the dining table now needs is a stenographer and typewriter to make man absolutely happy.—Chicago Herald.

WHO HE WAS.

What the small boy knows sometimes surprises his elders. For instance, when one of President Roosevelt's boys entered the public school in Washington his teacher asked him the usual questions.

"What is your name?" said she.

"Kermut Roosevelt — K-E-R-M-I-T," he replied, spelling the name carefully.

"Who is your father?"

"He is IT," solemnly replied young Roosevelt.
