FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 14, 1902.

Everything points to a rush year in Bohemia. All we need is an early spring.

An irreverent remark is dispicable whether it is made in the dance hall or in the pulpit.

Sampson and Schley each have many friends. If this statement is true, it is equally true that their friends are becoming woefully tired of the long drawn-out naval controversy. It is time the matter was dropped. Sampson and his friends should be satisfied in the findings of the court of inquiry, and Schley can take much satisfaction in the thought that he was "there"—in fact, it is the thought that Schley was "there" that hurts the aristocratic Sampson—in this there is satisfaction for Schley. The people at the present time stand with him. This is also satisfaction for Schley. An honor that he should love and appreciate to a greater extent than any finding of a court of inquiry. Now, if Schley is all the people at large believe him to be, he will drop the subject. In other words, to be plain about it, shut his mouth and give the public a rest. It is not expected that the aristocratic snobbery that surrounds Sampson will stop their foolish prattle, but it is expected of Schley that he will not commence it; then he will not have to stop it. He should take his wife's tip and drop the matter forever. The errors that he is alleged to have made at the great naval battle are of little moment in the eyes of an indulgent public, but the errors that the brave old sea-dog may make by too much wag of the tongue are apt to be reckoned against him. Take awarnin', brave Admir'l, take awarnin'.

ONE OR TWO.

Eugene Register: Next month the campaign in Lane county will be inaugurated. There seems to be less of scramble for preferment this year than usual in the republican ranks, and we see no valid reason why a clean cut body of men cannot be selected for the ticket by the party that will make a clean sweep for all the offices from legislature down. The party can elect every man on the ticket, provided the right kind of men are nominated and the republicans loyally support them at the polls.

Harrisburg Bulletin: It is a question whether Lane county has enough of this kind of men.

Just to ease the mind of the Harrisburg man, the Nugget would suggest that if Lane county only falls short one or two, upon diligent search, that many of that "kind of men" might be purloined from Linn county.

ALMOST PERSUADED.

Joe Lauterbach, the eminent New York jurist, is a Hebrew. It is told of him that when he had made a successful trial of case as young lawyer he wished to make the bill as large as possible without offending his client. So he made it out and took it to Mr. Joseph Choate for advice. Mr. Choate said nothing, but pulling out a fountain pen just added a cipher to the bill, increasing it tenfold.

Mr. Lauterbach was filled with admiration and looking up at Mr. Choate said: "Joe, almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian."

Of all the tough pieces of roads in Oregon, it would be hard to pick out worse ones than those surrounding Cottage Grove. A good-roads committee could do some valuable work here this coming season.

IN THE SIUSLAW.

Lorane, February 3, 1902.

EDITOR BOHEMIA NUGGET—The Lorane Grange are now trying to secure a shorter route for a public road from the Lorane valley to Cottage Grove. The Grange detailed some of the Patrons of Husbandry as a committee to view out the said proposed route for the road. The committee made a tour of inspection on Tuesday.

A road up the Maxwell Fork or south branch of the Siuslaw is favored. The road will come out at Gowdville on the Cottage Grove side. A $6,000 sawmill plant will be put in on the Siuslaw by the Anlauf Brothers. This proposed new road will bring the upper Lorane (or Catright valley) within 6 or 7 miles of Cottage Grove. A 2 per cent grade can be had over this new proposed road and the distance to one of the richest little valleys in Oregon will be shortened several miles.

A good road over this proposed route means a good deal for Cottage Grove as well as for Lorane valley. The distance on the Cottage Grove side would be less than one-half of the grade on the Siuslaw side. We hope Cottage Grove will wake up on the road question and "get a move on."

BORN.

WEEDEN—On the Coast Fork on February 7, 1902, to the wife of John Weeden, twins, a boy and girl.

This is the first to come from this union, and since the advent of the little ones John goes about with his hat on the side of his head and his chest stuck out, and a turkey gobbler on a front lawn with his tail feathers spread could not be more proud. All are getting on fine.

EMMERSON—At Divide on February 1, 1902, to the wife of A. S. Emmerson, an 8½-pound boy.

Al has charge of the James Hawley stock ranch and is not much given to celebrating, but he was in town on Saturday last and felt so happy at being the papa of so big a boy that all his friends had cigars on the event.

MARRIED.

JONES—LUNDY—At the home of J. I. Jones, Wednesday evening, February 12, 1902, Miss Laura E. Jones, and Mr. W. Emerson Lundy. Rev. Eugene Zimmerman of the First M. E. Church of Cottage Grove, officiating.

Promptly at to o'clock Mrs. W. H. Abrams played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered the beautifully decorated parlor, little Lela Lewis and Frankie Jones leading the procession, bringing the ring on a silk cushion. Next came the bride and her maid, Miss Laura Spalding, of Roseburg, who were followed by groom and best man, C. E. Huling, of Myrtle Point. All took position under a beautiful arch formed of ivy and ferns. The bride was dressed in white silk crepe de chine over white taffety, the bridemaid wore silk organdie and chiffon, while groom and best man were dressed in conventional black. The pianist played softly "Oh, Promise Me" during the ceremony.

The bride is one of Oregon's fair daughters, and Cottage Grove has been her home for years, although for some years past she has been associated in business elsewhere, for several years being publisher of the Drain Watchman, and until recently city editor of the Roseburg Plaindealer.

The groom is a well-known business man of Myrtle Point, of the firm of Huling & Lundy, having only recently disposed of his interests, preparatory to his marriage with the view of making his future home in the metropolis of California.

Among those present from abroad were the Misses Bell and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Conner, of Roseburg. The bridal couple took the morning overland for San Francisco, where they will be at home after March 15.

The wedding supper was a magnificent spread, and happy were the hearts of those who feasted.

Without doubt this was the prettiest wedding ever solemnized in Cottage Grove, and certainly bride never left her girlhood home on wedding journey, with more sincere wellwishes and with a larger circle of friends.

The Nugget extends congratulations.

CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE.

Of the First District Will Meet in Portland February 20th.

T. W. Harris of this city, who is chairman of the republican congressional committee of the first district, has issued a call for a meeting of the committee to be held in Portland February 20 to set a time for holding the congressional convention. They are: Benton, Clackamas, Coos, Curry, Douglas, Jackson, Josephine, Klamath, Lake, Lane, Lincoln, Linn, Marion, Polk, Tillamook, Washington and Yamhill. There will be one delegate from each county and Dr. Harris, in addition to being the chairman of the committee is also the Lane county delegate.—Register.

DIVIDE ITEMS.

Mr. J. Simpson and wife have purchased Mr. I. J. Taylor's farm and will make their home here.

The Rev. Cole has been holding revival meetings here for the past two weeks.

Quite a number of cases of colds and sickness here now.

The large amount of piling put out here this winter will bring in quite a sum of money for some of our people.
