VOL. IV.

COTTAGE GROVE, OREGON, APRIL 18, 1902.

NO. 14.

FARM NEWS.

A California beekeeper, one of many others, figured his profits for 1901 somewhat like this: Spring count 120 colonies, increased to 200; 50 pounds beeswax at 22 cents $11; 400 pounds comb honey at 10 cents, $40; nearly 11 tons light amber extracted honey at 4½ cents, $500, and some sold at retail which will bring the receipts up to over $1000. The honey season proper began in April and was over by the last of July. This gave him plenty of time to attend to other crops, and as he was under little expense and did all the work without hiring, he made a very nice living from the bees.

Many so-called cases of chicken cholera are simply cases of indigestion and constipation. Fowls affected with indigestion may be cured by giving a teaspoonful of molasses to which has been added five drops of castor oil and three drops of crude carbolic acid. The never-failing symptoms of cholera are an apparently unquenchable thirst and sulphur colored droppings. The fowls stand at the watering place and drink in a drowsy, sleep mania until they drop dead. There is positively no cure for chicken cholera.—Homestead.

Except for the effects of a partial winter killing of wheat in portions of Eastern Oregon and Washington, the crop outlook in the Pacific Northwest is excellent, and for fruit is said to be as good as was ever known. The prolonged rains and cool weather have delayed spring work, but have done little or no actual damage otherwise.—Telegram.

Farmers often keep pickpockets, and yet do not seem to be aware of the fact. Every time that they retain on their place cattle, sheep hogs or other livestock which are maintained at a loss, they, in effect, do this very thing.—Home and Farm.

In 1850 the total value of the live stock of every state in the Union was less than $1,200,000,000; today it is worth $4,555,827,375, a sum incomprehensible to the mind of man. In the year named there but 17,000,000 cattle, 21,723,220 sheep, 4,895,050 horses and mules; today the figures are 50,602,414 cattle, 15,623,551 horses and mules, and 50,203,000 sheep.

Two farmers at Dyea, Alaska, raised 25,000 bushels of potatoes this year, and will receive for them $2 a bushel. They are described as large, solid, mealy and palatable, and contain more sugar than potatoes grown in lower latitudes.

At the West Virginia experiment station it was found more profitable to feed corn to hogs after it had been well soaked.

Ten week's care should bring a chick to marketable size—a longer time means actual loss.

Guard against mites at all seasons of the year—in winter as well as summer.

Never crowd too many fowls into one house or yard. Overcrowded flocks are always failures.

Filthy yards and houses invite disease, and are sure to cause failure.

Cull out all the poor layers and give the good hens a chance.

Never keep ducks, geese or turkeys with the chickens.

Correct feeding means much toward successful keeping.

After the second year, the hens will lay fewer eggs.

Good stock always finds a ready market.

"A neighbor ran in with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy when my son was suffering with severe cramps and was given up as beyond hope by my regular physician, who stands high in his profession. After administering three doses of it, my son regained consciousness and recovered entirely within twenty-four hours," says Mrs. Mary Haller, of Mt. Crawford, Va. This Remedy is for sale by Lyons & Applegate, Drain. Benson Drug Co. Cottage Grove.

BETTER THAN PILLS.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets superior to pills?" Our answer is: They are easier and more pleasant to take, more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable as they can always be depended upon. Then they cleanse and invigorate the stomach and leave the bowels in a natural condition, while pills are more harsh in effect and their use is often followed by constipation. For sale by Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove.
