FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1902.

For years Congressman Tongue has been laboring in behalf of the Indian war veterans, having introduced a bill asking for a pension for those who fought for the preservation of this country against the attacks of the Indians in the pioneer days of the Pacific coast. Mr. Tongue is an untiring worker. He never gives up as long as there is a streak of daylight ahead of him, and he has been known to "go some" after the daylight seemed pretty well shut out on more occasions than one, and then come out victorious. At last Mr. Tongue sees the end of his labors regarding the Indian war veterans bill. It has passed both houses, and it is now only a question of some days until it becomes a law by virtue of Mr. Tongue's loyalty to the cause and the president's signature. Oregon has never produced a more sincere and untiring worker than Thos. H. Tongue.

It would be a commendable thing in the street committee if they would make an effort to improve Main street a little this summer. At the cost of a few day-laborers for a day or two the largest of the rock now loose on the street could be picked up or raked to the center of the street and leave the sides fairly passable, and by fall the center of the street would be worn down smoothly again. It would seem that it would be better to have the sides smooth this summer than to have the entire street present the rough and ugly appearance of the present time. Another suggestion is also presented to the effect that the loose rock might be hauled off and dumped at some of the abominable side street crossings in the city. Perhaps this would be the better way.

The chase instituted at Salem, in which dozens of Salem men under one Durbin, who poses as sheriff of Marion county, was a farce from the start, and it bids fair to play the original role until the "scare" wears off and the posse simmers down to a half dozen gun men as reckless of life and as daring as Merrill and Tracy. It is only a question of time until the murderers will be taken either dead or alive, but the longer a gang of amateurs camp on the trail the longer will the men taste the exhilarating air of liberty. The Salem outfit was successful in making noise enough to drive the convicts out of the state and to give the Telegram a chance to work off some hot air on "Sheriff Durbin's bravery" (?)

What a glorious time Tracy and Merrill are having on their summer's outing! To be sure they laid off their vacation a little early in the season, but then the air is all the more invigorating—and the longer they stay out the less danger of a relapse in health. At present there seems to be only one danger confronting them. People have been known to die in convulsions of laughter over the amusing and ridiculous mistakes of others. However Sheriff Durbin has returned home.

The official returns on the election of governor have been made, giving Mr. Chamberlain, democratic candidate, a plurality of 265 votes. While Mr. Chamberlain is a bitter pill for the republicans, still it is but just to extend to Mr. Chamberlain our hearty congratulations and extend to him the courtesy to which every official of the land is entitled—our loyalty to state and national principles.

The Oregon Mining Journal headed an article last week "The Italy of Oregon," referring of course to Josephine county. Now this is a fright, but the Journal could have just as well broadened out a little without detracting in the least from Josephine county. All Oregon is the "Italy of the United States."

How pleasant it must be for a man to make an honest 30 mile race to secure a choice claim as did many on the Ft. Hall Indian reservation recently only to find a "sooner" there ahead of him.

The grass and weeds growing in the streets and along the sidewalks of the principal streets of Cottage Grove does not add to the city's appearance, and should be cut down.

There are a number of bad sidewalks in this city. They should be looked after by the proper committee and repaired.

PLAN TO SETTLE OREGON.

The management of the Harriman lines has just perfected the details of the largest colonization plan ever attempted by a railroad in the west. The organization of a colonization bureau, and the appointment of G. M. McKinney to be general colonization agent, in charge of the bureau, with headquarters in Chicago, has been announced. A large sum has been appropriated to carry on the work which is to be on a scale hitherto unattempted. It is the purpose to appoint colonization agents in all the Eastern and Middle West centers and to draw largely from the population of the Eastern states. The bureau will represent the Southern Pacific, the Union Pacific, the Oregon Short Line and the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Co. It is the purpose of the management of these roads, thru the combined traffic department, to thoroughly exploit, develop and settle Oregon and Washington. Especial attention will be given the mineral, agricultural and timber resources. It is stated there are many millions of unoccupied fertile lands in these states, and that no other states have so brilliant futures from a mineral standpoint. The bureau, with all the railroads back of it is going to pay especial attention to irrigation in the way of inducing the government to promote irrigation, and render the immense areas of land which need only water to become the most fertile fields of the northwest.

EUGENE DEFEATS ALBANY.

The ball game at Bang's park at Eugene last Sunday between Hampton Bros. team and the "Ramblers" from Albany was one of the best exhibitions of baseball it has been the sporting editor's privilege to witness this season. It was neat, spirited, close and snappy from start to finish and the large crowd in attendance was well pleased with the exhibition. McFarland, Hayes and Coleman played battery for Eugene and did nice work. The infield work of Eugene was especially good. Score by innings was as follows:

| | |
|--------|------------|
| Eugene | 0020000226 |
| Albany | 1000030004 |

Umpire "Deacon" Davis.

MEDFORD COAL.

A Medford dispatch says: "More cable and rails for the Southern Pacific's coal mines east of Medford have arrived. Nothing new has developed. The tunnel is in about 450 feet, and a crosscut extends 150 feet, making about 600 feet of tunnel. The coal is there in great quantities, an 11-foot vein having been exposed, but the quality is not favorable yet for locomotive purposes."

W. O. W. CONVENTION.

Word reaches us just before going to press that the next district meeting of the W. O. W. will be held at this place. This was secured, no doubt, thru the efforts of Frank Jordan, W. W. Masterson, John Veatch who are in attendance at the convention being held at Grants Pass this week. Things are certainly coming our way.

BAD LUCK WITH HORSES.

Chrisman and Bangs who have the mail contract from here to Bohemia have had bad luck this year with their horses. They have lost four in the last four months, the last one this week. The accident occurred this side of Mr. Hawley's place, where the horse plunged into a mud hole and turned a somersault breaking his neck.

COMING! COMING!

Dr. H. Levinson, the well known oculist-ophthalmic of San Francisco, who visited here many times before, will be in Cottage Grove the whole of next week. Those who were previously fitted by him with spectacles can have new lenses made if a change is necessary free. Don't miss seeing him. Examination free.

MATERIAL PURCHASED.

J. H. Bingham visited Eugene Monday and purchased from Booth-Kelly Lumber Co. 40,000 feet of foundation material for the new saw mill to be erected in Long & Bingham's addition. The material is to be placed on the grounds in ten days and work on the structure will commence at once.

BOHEMIA ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

The Pacific Journal published at Ilwaco, Wash., last week devotes a column to the Bohemia Mining District, in which it gives quite an up-to-date write-up of the district and its future prospects. This rich district seems to be attracting more attention just now than any mining district on the Pacific coast.

FOR CORRECTION.

In the article regarding the saw mill to be erected in Long and Landess' addition, an error was made in the columns of the Nugget last week regarding the dimensions of the building which read 34x50 feet. It should have been 34x150 feet.

ATTRACTS ATTENTION.

The construction work on the new railroad attracts much attention. Each day many Cottage Groveites visit the scene of construction, and last Sunday the new track was lined with people nearly all day.

Several enthusiastic meetings were held this week by the business men of the city and arrangements made to hold the biggest celebration of the year at this thriving little city. The committee on funds reported favorably, having secured a large subscription list from business men here who want to see a way-up celebration, and all necessary committees were appointed and put to work at once.

The committee on program reported that a splendid list of attractions and amusements have been secured for the day, but the program cannot be announced until next week as it is not yet complete. The following committees were appointed:

DIVIDE ITEMS.

School closed Friday. The closing exercises were given Monday followed by a picnic dinner. The program consisted of recitations, songs, dialogues, acts and instrumental music, several selections of which were well rendered. The exercises and dinner were held in the grove which had been nicely prepared for that purpose. At 2 o'clock the annual school meeting was convened at the school house.

W. W. Tucker and son Reuben returned Sunday from a week's visit to relatives down the valley.

A dancing hall is being erected a short distance below the postoffice. This place is growing—slowly perhaps—but surely.

Jay and Guy Despain have returned from Bohemia where they have been employed for a short time.

Miss Cleesla Bridges is here from Southern Oregon on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Will Coffin.

"The Old Man."

There is a class of men who are seldom, if ever, appreciated at their true value. In this enlightened age they are commonly called "Dad." It is Dad that humps himself year in and year out on the farm, in the office or the workshop in order that his boy or girl may go away to school, and upon their return, that the boy may have a fine horse and top buggy and the girl a costly piano. It is Dad that hustles and cultivates great calloused knots on his hands and becomes stoop-shouldered in order that his offspring may revel in luxury and make tawdry fools of themselves. His sons and daughters have learned at his expense to despise his old fashioned ways. They secretly laugh at the style of his coat and the shape of his bell-crowned hat. On Sunday when his daughter has company and he would like to sit in the parlor and listen to the music, he is given in various ways to understand that his presence is not desirable, and the poor old man goes out in the kitchen and stays the rest of the afternoon. God help the son and daughter who goes back on Dad. In the catalogue of low-down enmities that of ingratitude to parents is the most contemptible.—Junction Times.
