FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1902.

There is one improvement that would cost the citizens, or the school board, or the city, upon whom it might fall, so very little that it seems a pity that it cannot be attended to immediately. The writer refers to the bareness of the school grounds. There is not a shrub of any kind growing. It is true there has been several attempts to plant and grow shrubbery, but only in a half-hearted way, and with very little encouragement from the citizens at large, and the result is that what was planted died. A row of maples could be put around the grounds at a small cost, that would greatly enhance the appearance of the grounds in two or three years. As a hint to the teachers it would not be a bad idea to start a small flower garden in the enclosure. Let a few of us contribute a few loads of sand and loam, call upon some of the good homemakers for a few choice bushes, and let the corps of lady teachers interest the students in the culture of God's choicest flowers. Let us make a presentable school ground. While we are at it, it would be a good idea to paint the flag pole and unfurl Old Glory once again.

It is particularly gratifying to the patrons of the Cottage Grove school that the board has seen its way clear to retain Professor A. L. Briggs as principal of the school for the ensuing term. When the directors, secured Professor Briggs two years ago, they builded wiser than they knew. He proved to be the proper man for the place, and the standing the schools of this city have today is due to his management and untiring energy. He has built up a school that was and had been for some years on the ragged edge of disgrace. Today we have a school of which we may all be proud, not only from point of advancement of the scholars in their several studies, but in the matter of behavior in and out of the school room. He has demonstrated his ability as a thorough teacher and as a disciplinarian, and the present board is to be congratulated upon the issue.

Some of the papers down the Willamette valley appear to be very much exercised regarding the next senatorial fight, particularly with reference to Harvey Scott's candidacy. Now the editors—especially Mr. Hofer—need not worry about Harvey Scott. That gentleman who stands prominently in the front rank of brainy men of Oregon, could have been United States senator long ago had he taken the interest in his cause that some others have taken for fear he might have aspirations along that line. Mr. Scott is at the head of the greatest newspaper published west of the Rocky mountains, and he has the honor of having made that paper, editorially, what it is today. While a senatorial seat would add to it, it would not eclipse it in honor already his.

Climate is not everything. This is a grand and glorious country, we are all in the habit of saying. And it is all that is claimed for it. But indiscriminate incoming immigration may become perplexing. The man without means should be well advised before leaving his surroundings in the east. There is a percentage of homeseekers who chase from one end of the country to the other and who are never sure what they desire. Oregon needs people of the right sort, and the right sort are those who know what to do with their limited capital to make the most of it when placed at work.—Evening Telegram.

Certainly this section of the state is particularly adapted to those who are desirous of an outing. Here may be found abundance of game from the field bird to the bear, deer, cougar and wildcat, while trout abounds in all the mountain streams.

Tracey was a little premature, but, nevertheless, he started the Fourth of July celebration at Seattle off with a good deal of excitement, powder and noise, at the same time declaring his independence for the time at least.

The latest and funniest thing on the list is the fact that Carrie Nation has become a follower of the healer Dowse. Poor Dowse!

The Oregonian says it is now up to Aginaldo to make a living. As a suggestion, he might join Tracy.

Star Route Box Delivery.

Notice is hereby given to the public that the contracts in effect July 1, 1902, for the performance of mail service on the star routes in the states and territories hereinafter named provide that, in addition to carrying the mails to the various postoffices, the carrier will be required to deliver mail into all boxes and hang small bags or satchels containing mail on cranes or posts that may be erected along the line of the route under the following regulations of the department:

Any person living on or near the route and not within the corporate limits of any town or within 80 rods of any postoffice, who desires his mail deposited at a given point on the line of the route by the carrier may provide and erect a suitable box or crane on the roadside, located in such manner as to be reached as conveniently as practicable by the carrier without dismounting from the vehicle or horse, and such person shall file with the postmaster at the postoffice to which his mail is addressed (which shall be one of the two postoffices on the route on either side of and next to the box or crane) a request in writing for the delivery of his mail to the carrier for deposit at the designated point, at the risk of the addressee. The small bag or satchel above described, as well as the box or crane, must be provided by the person for whose use it is intended without expense to the department.

It shall be the duty of the postmaster at every such postoffice, upon a written order from any person living on or near the route, to deliver to the mail carrier for that route any mail matter—placing in the respective satchels, where such are used, the mail for the persons to whom such satchels, where such are used, the persons to whom such satchels belong—with instructions as to the proper mail box or crane at which said mail matter shall be deposited; but registered mail shall not be so delivered unless expressly requested by the addressee in his written order. No mail matter so delivered to the carrier shall be carried past another postoffice on the route before being deposited into a mail box or hung on a crane or post.

The carrier on the route will be required to receive from any postmaster on the route any mail matter or private mail satchel that may be entrusted to him outside of the usual mail bag, and shall carry such mail matter or private mail satchel to and deposit it into the proper mail box or crane on the line of the route for this purpose; such service by the carrier to be without charge to the addressee.

The mail carriers must be of good character and of sufficient intelligence to properly handle and deposit the mail along the route. The department does not prescribe any particular design of box or satchel to be used for this service, but the person providing either should see that it is of such character as to afford ample protection to his mail. If there is a lock attached to the box, a key is not to be held by the carrier, as he is expected to deposit the mail without the necessity of unlocking the box. The box or crane should be so located on the roadside that the carrier can deposit the mail without leaving his vehicle or horse, and yet not where it will obstruct public travel.

The carrier is not required to collect mail from the boxes, but there is no objection to his doing so if it does not interfere with his making the schedule time. The law provides that every carrier of the mail shall receive any mail matter presented to him if properly prepaid by stamps, and deliver the same for mailing at the next postoffice at which he arrives, but that no fees shall be allowed him therefor.

The box delivery above described is required by the contracts effective July 1, 1902, on all the star routes (with but few exceptions) in Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Nevada, California, Alaska, and Hawaii.

W. S. SHALLENBERGER, Second Assistant Postmaster General.

C. W. Caldwell and family spent Sunday with Wm. Hogate of Sagleman.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this medicine in the house, especially in summer-time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by Lyons & Applegate, Drain. Benson Drug Co., Cottage Grove.
