

BOHEMIA NUGGET.

LEE W. HENRY, Editor and Proprietor.

Entered at the postoffice at Cottage Grove, Oregon as second class matter.

Subscription price, $1.50, in advance. Advertising rates made known upon application.

This paper is kept on file at E. C. Drake's Advertising Agency, 61 and 63 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, California, where contracts for advertising can be made for it.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 29, 1902.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

With this issue of Bohemia Nugget C. J. Howard who with the substantial support of his sister, Miss Ethel Cottle, founded the paper three years ago last January, steps down and out, surrendering his half interest in the business and the editorship to Mr. Lee W. Henry who some five months ago assumed a half interest in the business, and who has successfully presided over the business office during the intervening time.

When a man has served nearly half a life time in any one chosen field, it certainly is with some degree of sadness and not infrequently with a feeling of emotion that he severs his connections, and parts from the vocation to which he is bound by the strongest ties.

Such is the case at hand. The writer came to Cottage Grove when the prospects were not so bright as they are today, and by earnest effort, no small amount of work and a strong faith in the future possibilities of this community, a paper was founded which has grown into considerable influence, enjoying a local circulation exceedingly gratifying, while its foreign circulation is not surpassed by any paper in the county, by reason of its columns devoted to mining interests.

The paper has been royally supported by Cottage Grove and Bohemia, and in this support the appreciation of the poor efforts of the founders and owners, by the patrons, is in evidence. In view of this patronage which has, in most part, come unsolicited, other than by persistent effort and a desire to please as well as to improve the facilities of the plant, the outgoing editor is grateful toward those who have stood by and staunchly aided and supported him by patronage and kind advice—advice given in the right way is always beneficial—shall ever have his heartfelt thanks and tender memories.

The future destiny of the paper will be guided by Lee W. Henry, the junior editor of the old firm, who has had many years experience in newspaper work from the press room to the editorial staff; a thorough gentleman, well informed, a pleasant, agreeable, manly man; and he who steps down and out, by reason of pressure of other business affairs, divorces himself from a business founded before the sand upon which the framework was laid, turned to granite, feels that the paper could not fall into better hands, and that under the new management and editorial ability of Mr. Henry, it will grow as it has in the past, in proportion, if not in advance of the town in which it is published.

Extending sincere thanks for the many kind acts administered, and wishing the patrons of the paper unbounded success; Cottage Grove a thrifty and rapid growth; extending a hearty hand-grip to every miner in Bohemia, I bid you, good-bye.

C. J. HOWARD.

By reason of my purchase of Mr. Howard's interest in the Bohemia Nugget, I become sole proprietor of the paper over which destiny Mr. Howard has for several years presided. It is with a feeling of responsibility that I take up the pen he lays down and assume editorial management of the paper with which I have been identified as half-owner and business manager for a few months only.

It is with regret that I bid adieu to Mr. Howard as a partner in business, our relations having been most pleasant and agreeable.

It will be my earnest endeavor to give to the people of our little city a clean, newsy, and up-to-date paper, fully abreast of the times and a credit to the city in every respect, in return for the hearty patronage I feel sure it will receive from its many patrons.

Politically, the paper will be as it has been, republican, fair, faithful and fearless. It will also be devoted largely to "Mines and Mining," awake to the interests of the great Bohemia Mining District and ever "Standing up for Cottage Grove," "the biggest town of its size" in Oregon.

LEE W. HENRY.

Harry Supple's writeup of Bohemia in the Pacific Miner of the 15th inst. is strictly up-to-date and should not be missed by those desiring to keep posted on the greatest mining district in the northwest.

It is now intimated that J. J. Hill of the Great Northern is behind the Coos Bay, Salt Lake City, railroad proposition, and if this proves correct we may look for something to hum down there in the near future.

At their state convention last week the Idaho republicans declared in favor of a revision of the tariff for the regulation of trusts, also an amendment to the constitution for the suppression of the same. Their faith in President Roosevelt is demonstrated by the following plank from their platform: "We believe that in President Roosevelt our party has found a worthy leader, whose fearlessness in the discharge of his duty, and whose devotion to the best interests of the whole country prove him to be a worthy successor to his lamented predecessor, and the republican party of Idaho extends to President Roosevelt its hearty support."

The Nugget's new editor and proprietor has been in Oregon but a short time and in this city only since April 15, hence advice, information and news items from friends of the paper will be fully appreciated. The office is now located within twenty feet of the postoffice and there is no possible excuse for not calling.

There is a feeling of loyalty to each other and the city in general, among the professional and business men of Cottage Grove that is indeed commendable. "Patronize home industry" and every body thrive. Stand together and "Stand up for Cottage Grove."

Our job department has been crowded with rush orders for the past two months and some of our patrons have been obliged to wait for their work. We expect to get "caught up" this week after which all work can be got out promptly.

Everybody seems to be prosperous and happy in this little city at present and its growth and development has but commenced. In the next two or three years our growth will certainly be phenomenal.

Silk Creek Items.

Aug. 18, 1902. C. W. Caldwell and family accompanied by his mother and brother arrived home Friday morning from a 10 days outing by the restless ocean at Winchester Bay.

Miss Minnie Comer and Mr. L. Tucker returned Saturday eve from Eugene where they had been wrestling with all the problems attendant upon a teacher's examination. Mr. Tucker, who is lately from Minnesota, contemplates wedding the bride at the Divide school the coming winter.

Last Thursday an old fashioned rag bee was held at the home of Mrs. Gertie Owens. As is usually the case much chatter and laughter was indulged in while the needles were busily plying by the ladies' nimble fingers. At the noon hour a substantial feast was served to which all did ample justice. Space forbids the mention of the ladies' names attending, but all voted it one of the most enjoyable events of the season.

Aug. 26, 1902. Threshing has begun in our section. Little Ruby Ashby is quite ill with an attack of bowel trouble.

Miss Nellie Martin of the Grove is visiting with friends at this place. Mr. Elliott had the misfortune to lose one of his team of mares last Friday.

Rev. Gardiner of Sagleman, preached an interesting and instructive sermon to a goodly crowd in our school house last Sunday. He will be with us again upon the fourth Sunday of next month.

Al Ellidge has about finished hauling the lumber for his new residence in the Grove, which is fast approaching completion. Madam Rumor has it that Mr. Ellidge expects to remove with his family to town this fall, which fact we regret exceedingly. While this region is well supplied with good neighbors we don't feel as if we had any to spare.

A small dinner party in honor of Mrs. Caroline Caldwell, of Swanton, Neb., was given at the residence of her son, C. W. Caldwell, last Wednesday. Those present were: Messdames Mrs. Elliott, L. Single, M. Comer, Minnie Ashby and M. Tompkins of Glenwood Heights. A pleasant time is reported. Mrs. Caldwell and son Irwin boarded the 12:53 train Friday for Salem, where they will visit a short time and from whence she will return to her home in Nebraska, while he goes to Philomath where he has accepted a position in the U. S. College.
