FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1902.

It requires capital to develop a mining district like Bohemia and it is slowly but surely awakening to the fact that it is needed. Bohemia mining stocks are finding a ready market throughout the West and in portions of the East.

There is at least one mistake that is usually made in the history and development of every town and city in the country and our city may be no exception to the general rule, especially just at this time when so many business and professional men are coming west and seeking new localities. If they have money to purchase a property or can rent one, they are often encouraged to enter a field which is already fully covered by those that are already established, and the ultimate result is ever the same. Somebody is forced to quit, and it is usually the latest arrival on the scene, who sells out to his competitor and leaves the town completely disgusted, and wherever he may roam thereafter, he never fails to give that town a "black eye." How much better for all concerned to encourage those to locate among us whose business or profession is not already overdone.

That the Bohemia Mining District has a great future before it no well posted man can doubt. That Cottage Grove is and will remain the gateway into the same, is a foregone conclusion, and this is assurance enough to us that those who invest their surplus money in Cottage Grove realty or Bohemia mining stock, will surely realize many fold on their investment before many years roll around. We have great faith in the Bohemia hills and feel confident that development of the mines in that region will make nearly every property there a large dividend payer. Since we became a permanent resident of this city and connected with this paper, we have interviewed dozens of men from Bohemia and they all tell the same story of the richness of the "diggings" there. Many of them have no interests there and are perfectly disinterested hence we attach some importance to their reports. There are others among them who have large interest there but whom we know to be thoroughly reliable. It is the reports of those men more than ought else that convinces us fully that Bohemia is destined to become a rival of Cripple Creek, which startled the world with its wealth of gold, but not until millions had been spent in developing it.

John Ashby had the misfortune to lose a fine colt Monday morning. He has quite a series of ill luck this whole summer, dating from a fire catching in the roof of his house during which he fell from a ladder and broke one of the small bones of his ankle.

Last Friday evening a surprise party was tendered Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott the occasion being the 61st birthday of Mrs. Elliott and the 44th wedding anniversary of the worthy couple. Their neighbors (to show the esteem in which they are held) about 35 in number armed with refreshments marched in upon them and took possession of the house after recovering from the first shock of the surprise Mr. and Mrs. Elliott bade the visitors welcome and an exceedingly pleasant time was enjoyed by all present. Candy, nuts, cake, pie, fruit and lemonade were served to which all did ample justice. One entertaining feature of the evening was the congregating outside of the youngsters of the party who with tin pans, bells, whistles and etc., proceeded to furnish charivari music until they compelled the "bride and groom" to make their appearance on the front porch, after which the musical youngsters were treated to the candy. About 11:30 p. m. the crowd united in singing "God Be With You," when all dispersed to their several homes after wishing the host and hostess many happy returns of the day. Among those present we noticed Shade Barcham and family, C. W. Caldwell and family, H. Damewood and family, Miss Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Sam Damewood, Mr. and Mrs. L. Slagle, Mrs. Baker Slagle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tompkins of Gledwood Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Shreeves and son Roy, Mrs. Overholster and sons Frank and George, and Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.
