Some of the Happenings About Town During the Past Week.

Dr. Lavis ophthalmologist—Eugene. Hand made handkerchiefs at the fair Dec. 3rd.

Call at H. C. Mathson's new store and see the finest line of jewelry in town.

FOR SALE—Fifty head of stock sheep, or will trade for cattle. J. H. Hawley.

Mrs. James Ostrander was visiting her daughter Nina at Eugene the first of the week.

Miss Florence Burnett, of Eugene, is in the city this week the guest of Mrs. O. D. McNeilan.

Mrs. Ed Jones accompanied her husband to Leona this week, where she will remain with him during the winter.

George Parker's mother arrived in the city last week for a visit with her son while Mrs. Parker visits friends and relatives in Albany.

George McQueen and wife were passengers to Eugene last Saturday where Mrs. McQueen made final proof on an excellent piece of timber land.

Rev. John Dawson, of Roseburg, will hold the regular Episcopal services in the Masonic hall on Sunday Nov. 20th at 11 a. m. All are invited to attend.

The Ashland Normal football team passed through here last Friday afternoon enroute to Eugene where they were to meet the Eugene high school team on the gridiron.

The recent continuous heavy rains caused the river to rise considerably the first of the week, and some of the old residents were fearful of high water this early in the winter.

Superintendent Morphy arrived in town from the east last Thursday morning where he has been for several weeks in the interests of the Oregon and Southern railroad.

The Ladies Guild of the Episcopal church will give a handkerchief fair on Wednesday Dec. 3rd in the afternoon and evening at Martin's hall. No admission. Everybody cordially invited.

J. A. Archibald with the Blawie Granite Co., Portland, Ore., has erected a fine granite monument at the graves of O. F. Knox and Howard Miller, in the L. O. O. F. cemetery.

The doctor's best efforts will come to naught unless his prescription is accurately compounded from drugs of known purity and strength. Take your prescriptions to the Benson Drug Co's store.

The full disciplinary order of service will be used next Sunday morning at the Methodist Episcopal church. The morning and evening subjects are: "The Trinity of Prayer" and "Death Necessary to Life."

GEO. M. Goodale, a representative of the United States Investor published at Boston, Mass., was in the city a portion of last week, in the capacity of that paper. He left for his home at San Francisco last Friday.

The atmosphere has been quite mild during the fore part of the week and it is generally thought that snow has been falling in the Bohemia mountains. However, the telephone is down and the weather up there can only be guessed at.

Almond Hemenway was on the head coach when the passenger was wrecked down near Creswell last Sunday, enroute to Eugene. We did not learn why Almond was going to that city on that day but suppose it must have been on business of some sort or another.

Albany and Oregon again played a game of football at Albany last Saturday afternoon although it is said that the university boys had the best of it from start to finish and kept the pigskin in Albany territory during the entire game. It will be a hard matter to decide to whom belongs the championship this year, three teams having tied for first honors.

Last Saturday was pay day at both the Booth-Kelly mills at Saguinaw and the saw mills at Comstock, and the boys were all in town for a jolly good time. In fact the town was full of people and some of the people were full of town before they left, yet they were neither noisy or disorderly, which fact is probably due largely to the fact that we have a marshmallow with underneath his business and does not drink his duty.

The venerable John W. Kelly, who has been sojourning in the city for a few days, shook the dust from his feet last Thursday and left for Eugene where he thought there was a much better opening for a first-class newspaper than there is here, and where a real genius would be more appreciated. Mr. John W. Kelly formerly edited the Drain Nonpareil but seems to have outgrown the town, and is now looking for more work to be done.

Tom Medley returned home the first of the week from an extended trip down the valley where he has been for some time in the interests of an eastern correspondence school. He reports considerable success in his work down the valley and expects to return soon and continue his labors. He declares that the correspondence from Bohemia in last week's paper earned in making the statement that he had returned to Bohemia for the winter, and intimated that they would have to get through the winter without him.

George Conners was a pleasant caller at this office last Monday, leaving the wherewith necessary to put him in good standing on our subscription books for the next year. He, like many other of our subscribers, declares himself well pleased with the "Nugget" and does not expect to be without it. He has been running an "setting house" out on the new railroad for the past two or three months and has been doing quite well, having from time to time a regular boarders during this time, all of whom were at work on the extension of the Oregon and Southern grade from Bedrock to the bridge at the mouth of Sharp's creek. He has now abandoned the boarding camp as the road work is all completed except at a couple of rock cuts at which blasting is now being done. He also stated that the necessary ties and rails are on hand for the track laying to this point and that work commenced laying the same on Monday despite the trifling rain.

BAD WRECK NEAR CRESWELL.

The North-Bound Passenger Wrecked Sunday—Traffic Delayed 24 Hours.

FIVE CARS AND ENGINE DITCHED.

The wrecking of the passenger about a mile north of Walker station and about five miles north of this city, last Sunday on a straight track is as mysterious as it is remarkable from the fact that but one man was seriously hurt and he was not on the train at the time of the accident, but walking beside the track.

It seems that the train, in charge of engineer Elliott and a helper engine run by Engineer Hale had just got under good headway after wooding up below Walker station and was scanning the track when the accident happened and was not even aware that anything was wrong until his engine increased its speed on account of becoming freed of its burden of the load. Then he looked around and was dumfounded on seeing Hale's engine being dragged sideways across a small embankment which was broken through on account of the crushing weight of the engine bumping along the ties. Then all the coaches save the last Pullman sleeper lurched the rails and rolled down the small embankment a confused mass of twisted iron and broken timbers. Both the baggage and mail cars which bore the brunt of impact were smashed into matchwood and acted as cushions checking the momentum of those following with the result that small damage was done.

A great many of the crew and passengers were badly shaken up and somewhat bruised and yet only one man was hurt seriously and he was dug out of the dirt under the tracks of the mail car.

The driver drove down to the scene of the accident arriving there just as a freight engine that had pulled in, was starting back to this city with the Pullman sleeper the only car remaining on the track, into which the passengers had been crowded.

After viewing the wreck one could scarcely believe that all of the passengers had escaped without anyone being seriously hurt. The track and grade were torn up for a distance of several hundred feet and the helper engine and baggage and mail cars were badly wrecked and lying across the track, while several of the coaches had left the track and were lying in the ditch.

As the Roseburg wrecker was already at work on a freight wreck in the Cow Creek canyon, the wrecker was summoned from Portland, but it was noon Monday before the track was repaired to enable trains to pass. The injured man was Stephen Hamaker, whose place of residence is not known. He was brought here and his being cared for at the Sherwood hotel. His left arm is broken in two places, two ribs are crushed and there is a bad contusion under the eye. He has an honorable discharge from the Third United States Cavalry and saw service in the Philippines. He also carries a card as a member of the miners' union, but refuses to give his address, as he does not wish his mother and sister to learn of his mishap. The attending physician opines that he will pull through all right.

Mrs. Marguerite Fisher and her company are showing in the city this week commencing Monday evening. They have had quite good houses every night, which goes without saying, as this city is noted far and wide for the good turnout it gives the show to do stop here and of late there has been plenty of them for a city of ten thousand people.

Special attention is called to the Thanksgiving services at the Methodist church next Thursday at 11 a. m. There will be special music. The pastor will select some suitable theme for the Thanksgiving discourse. The Epworth League is assisting in the preparations for the days service. I trust that there will be a full representation of our congregation in attendance upon the Thanksgiving day services next Thursday at 11 a. m. Out of respect for the proclamations of the president of our land and the governor of the state as well as in response to the prayers of gratitude toward the Almighty for his manifold blessings during the past year we should assemble at the house of worship to render thanksgiving and praise. And a cordial invitation is extended to all to worship with us upon that day who may not be called to other places of worship.

THE MISSISS NEWLAND.

Best Limestone on Earth.

M. McElany, Greenville, Tex., writes Nov. 20, 1902: "I had rheumatism last winter, was down in bed six weeks; tried everything, but got no relief, till a friend gave me a part of a bottle of Ballard's Snow Lintiment. I used it, and got two more bottles. It cured me and I haven't felt any rheumatism since. I can recommend Snow Lintiment to be the best liniment on earth for rheumatism." For rheumatic, sciatic or neuralgic pains, rub in Ballard's Snow Lintiment, you will not suffer long, but will be gratified with a speedy and effective cure. 25c, 50c and $1 at New Era Drug Store.

Quite A Scare.

Wednesday evening about eight o'clock, what came near being something serious took place at the Cash Grocery when something went wrong with an electric light and upon turning it off it ignited the wrapping of the cord and refused to be turned off or carried out. It was pulled down and carried out into the street where it sizzled and hissed until Mr. Abrams was called up, and shut it off by twisting the wires together, which seems to be the only way. However, it occasioned quite a scare and resulted in Frank Wheeler getting an electric shock and a severely burned hand.

Football Game.

There will be a red hot football game on the C. M. A. ground here this afternoon between the Ashland Normal team and the C. M. A. team of this city. It will be played on the grounds near the school house and an admission fee of 25 cts. will be charged; but the game promises to be worth twice that amount.
