

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT.

Last October Rev. E. S. Ufford left his home in Massachusetts with the view of touring the world in his chosen calling, that of doing good to the vast multitude. He had prepared a splendid lecture which he would give under the auspices of some church in the several cities visited, without charge at the door, taking up a collection at the close, to defray his expenses. He has traveled over the most part of the United States, and has been loyally treated. Last Monday night he arrived here as per announcement, and gave his very interesting lecture at the M. E. church. The gentleman carries with him a life-saving equipment, which has been actual service, and with which he illustrates his talk and his sweet songs so cleverly rendered. His subject was "Out of the Breakers?" and was interesting from start to finish. He also sang his famous song, "Throw Out the Life Line." He is particularly noted for his wisdom with his children, especially his imitation of the mocking bird, was a very pleasing feature.

IMPROVING SCHOOL GROUNDS.

Through the efforts of Prof. Briggs and staff, the school grounds of this city have been greatly improved in appearance. Not alone to the teachers is the credit due, but to the students as well. The young ladies have contributed many choice plants and shrubs, while the boys have demonstrated their handiness in the matter of spading up and leveling off and planting the several beds. On the front and east sides of the grounds a row of sugar maples have been set out, while rows and triangles are neatly planted in front of the building. The students have brought and are bringing beautiful shrubs and plants from their homes to be set in the beds, and altogether the public school grounds present a very neat appearance.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY.

A party of geological surveyors arrived in town Tuesday evening and have established headquarters at the Imperial. The object of the survey is to establish a base line through Benton, Calif., and Portland taking exact elevations for each mile and every three miles an iron post is set with the elevation stamped upon it. This base line will be used to tie in all future surveys of the country and it will be the basis of an accurate survey of the whole country. The party will remain here the remainder of the week when they will move on to Eugene and on down the valley to Portland where they expect to be by June 1st.

BACK TO THE OLD HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Stinet, who removed to this city from their coast Fork ranch about a year ago, have decided to return to the ranch again. Mr. Stinet made the Nugget office a pleasant call Wednesday, and stated that he is glad to be able to get his affairs in shape to get back on the old ranch. He is now with the London Timber and Milling Co., his timber on the ranch, and will also accept a position with the company. The Nugget will follow Mr. Stinet to the old home, and it wishes them all kinds of success.

WONDERLAND.

The above title is the name of the Northern Pacific annual book, gotten out to advertise the west, and with each year's issue a marked improvement is made. This year's publication surpasses all the others. To Olin D. Wheeler is due the credit for the compilation, and in a masterly way does he describe the country contiguous to the Northern Pacific. His story of the Mandan Indians is particularly interesting, as well as his sketch of Yellowstone park. The book is beautifully illustrated and is well worth the close application of the reader.

SCHOOL LECTURES.

The local public school institute has the earmarks of splendid success. Among the prominent educators of the state present were State School Superintendent Ackerman and Senator B. F. Mulkey, president of the Southern Oregon normal school. Superintendent Ackerman will address the citizens at the Presbyterian church Friday evening, and Senator Mulkey will deliver an address, taking as his subject "Alexander Hamilton," Saturday evening at the same church.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT.

For some time past, Long & Bingham have been disposing of the company's surplus by having it hauled out on the company's roads, also on the road leading out of town to Bohemia. The condition of the roads have been so greatly improved that some one is led to believe that it would be a good idea to fill the side streets of the city with it. The one thing sure anything that will smooth up the mud and make a smooth road is worthy of investigation.

NEW LOGGING ENGINE.

Long & Bingham have received another logging engine which is now installed at the Limbaugh camp. One engine will be used for the yard work, and later on in the season when the company shall have increased the capacity of the mill one of the engines will be moved to a new logging camp. The business of the mill has so increased that the company expects to double the capacity in the course of two or three months.

INTO THE NEW OFFICE ROOMS.

The Pacific Timber Co., this week moved into its new office rooms opposite the company's store on the bank of the river. The rooms are commodious, and planned specially for the company's use. On the lower floor will be the main office, where the auditors office and private offices will occupy the upper floor. The rooms will be heated with steam and lighted with gasoline, and nicely furnished.

REMOVING THE MACHINERY.

Geo. Long, assisted by Thos. Allen and Geo. Lea, is removing the flouring mill machinery from the Long & Son's flour mill, this city, this week. Mr. Long is temporarily storing the plant in the warehouse now occupied by the O. & E. R. R. for a depot. He expects to reload the plant later on and ship it to the new flouring mill site on Hood river, where it will be put in operation by fall.

WINTER CLUB.

The Winter Club met at the Woodman hall Tuesday evening and as usual a delightful evening was spent. Mrs. Hugh Behne was the winner of the first, while F. H. Rosenberg won the "consolation." The club has met regularly and has had and has afforded much pleasure to the members. Mesdames Alkin and Woods committee on entertainment prepared a splendid luncheon which was enjoyed by all.

THE NEW DEPOT.

Thos. Allen will commence the work of lowering the foundation of the building for the new depot of the O. & E. R. R. by the first of the week. It will probably be sixty or about a day before the new quarters will be ready for occupancy.

LOHANE TELEPHONE.

Work has commenced on the construction of the Lohane telephone line from this place to Lohane. The company will have the line completed in a week or so, or as soon as poles can be obtained and placed along the line, and then "Hello Lohane."

NEW MEAT MARKET.

The old Lohane building is being fitted up this week by Al Crusan, for G. C. Ewen, recently from the east, who will open a meat market next week. The room already presents a neat and tidy appearance, and Mr. Ewen states that he shall make it his particular business to furnish his patrons the choicest meats obtainable. Frank McFarland has taken a position with Mr. Ewen and will preside over the blocks.

LOHANE CREAMERY.

The Lohane creamery organization has been perfected and articles of incorporation filed with the secretary of state. The company will be incorporated for $3000 and will be ready for business in a very short time. The incorporators are I. P. Luman, B. M. Stone, W. B. Hawley, et al. This will be quite a boon for this part of the country as it insures a first class quality of goods from a creamery managed by men whom we know. It is the beginning of a business for this part of the country that will, ere long rank as one of the greatest money making institutions of Southern Lane county.

COMMENTS.

Laugh, and the world laughs with you. Weep, and the world laughs at you.

Cy Bingham never did care much about his mustache, anyway.

It is announced that Tom Aubrey is now giving daily exhibitions of the "idle o' cork."

Dr. Wall's friends were, apparently, very apprehensive of his defeat, hence the big vote rolled up for him.

Anyone can, and sometimes in life will, suffer defeat; but it is not everyone who can take it good naturedly. Dr. Job takes it not only good naturedly but philosophically. He is of the opinion that it "does a fellow good to get licked once in a while."

A look at the public school grounds will advise you that the teachers and students are making an effort to beautify the grounds. The public schools of a city should have every advantage of this kind. It not only adds to the beauty of the grounds proper, but to the city. It creates favorable comment with strangers. As before said beautiful beds have been made and set out to flowers, ferns and shrubs. Some fine trees also adorn two sides of the grounds. The city should now show its hearty support of such a move by placing a hydrant and hose at the command of the school, that the start made in the direction of improving the grounds may not die for want of irrigation during the summer months. The Nugget has often advocated the improvements now under way, and expresses its compliments to Professor Briggs and his staff for their good work done.

HON. BINGER HERMANN

Wins The Congressional Nomination On The 23rd Ballot.

A SPIRITED CONTEST

The congressional convention was called to order at 2:40 p. m. and George R. Brownell elected as chairman and Benson, Tongue, Snider, Brown, Wagner and Bartlett were appointed tellers. Kay of Marion then nominated Claud Gatch and made quite an extended speech, the gist of which was that a young man should represent this district in the house.

Gus Newberry then made a good speech nominating W. I. Vawter. Mr. Brownell, chairman, then called Mr. Huston of Washington county to the chair, while he made a rousing speech in nomination of Hon. Binger Hermann of Douglas county, which nomination was seconded by District Attorney Geo. M. Brown of Lane. The effect upon the convention was plainly discernable from the start and while Hermann's friends were not sure of success they felt that he must be the man. After Mr. Hermann's nomination, Judge Hewitt of Linn nominated Percy Kelley, and the convention proceeded to ballot. On the first ballot the vote showed Herman, 79; Gatch, 42; Vawter, 12; Kelley, 40; and Brownell, 1. It was known from the start that neither Brownell nor Harris were candidates though both had some supporters. The balloting proceeded without intermission for supper, until midnight when upon the 23rd ballot the chair announced the nomination of Hon. Binger Hermann. While the delegates fought hard for their men it was evident when the contest closed that all were pleased with the result and that Hon. Binger Hermann will be elected by an enormous majority.

Grizzly Mountain.

The Grizzly Mountain Mining Co. reports considerable success in the sale of their stock for the past few days and look forward to a very good business in the district this season. This company is following the plan of a great many mining companies throughout the country, that of individual display advertising in the newspapers and magazines and feel confident that it will prove greatly beneficial to them in the sale of stock.

Johnson Creek District.

Ira Buzan, of Eckley, Ore., representing the Johnson Creek Placer Mining Co., of the Johnson Creek District, Coos county, was in the city Thursday visiting with Bohemia mining men and transacting business for his company. Mr. Buzan reports considerable interest being taken just now by Oregon capitalists in the Johnson creek placer mines. He also reports some quartz discoveries in the same vicinity and says they show up quite good.

RAILROAD AND MINING

Steam Shovel Arrives.

The steam shovel of the O. & S. E. railroad arrived yesterday in charge of a special crew of men employed to operate it and will be moved out to the end of the line Monday, where the work of construction will begin immediately. A force of seventy-five men will be put to work now and more added as soon as the management can make the necessary arrangements for caring for the men. The road will be completed to the Champion basin as soon as the men can construct it. This has been looked forward to with eager anticipation by mining men interested in Bohemia District and citizens of Cottage Grove. It means transportation facilities so absolutely necessary for the immense bodies of ore in that great district and that Bohemia will make strides in advancement as soon as the echoes of the steam whistle is heard in the hills, such as was never dreamed of by the most optimistic. The O. & S. E. are at work on their new depot and office buildings and pushing the work with all the speed possible that they may have it completed and ready for occupancy at once.

Lewis Hartley, mining manager of the Great Eastern Mining Co., arrived in Cottage Grove Monday and is now at the company's mine in Bohemia. Mr. Hartley has been east and comes home highly pleased with the mining prospects in the east. Mr. Hartley took out with him three men, Jas. Miles, W. R. Harper and Geo. Stedham. The company owns three groups of claims, one on Sailors Gulch, another on China Creek, and still another on Twin Rock. The new work will be done on the Sailors Gulch group. The property has over 635 feet of tunnel besides shafts and other open work, good outbuildings, steel track and car. On the Sailors Gulch group there are two tunnels of 75 feet each with a 3 1/2 foot vein of splendid free milling ore. W. W. Calkins, of Eugene, is president of the company, and Geo. E. Lilly, of Corvallis, secretary. The company is composed of conservative and responsible men, and is on a good footing, with a splendid property behind it.
