NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.
 Land Office at Roseburg, Oregon, June 4, 1903.
 Notice is hereby given that the following-named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final commutation proof in support of his claim, and that said proof will be made before J. J.
 Walton, U. S. Com'r., at Eugene, Oregon, on July 18, 1903, viz: George Kroil, on his H. E. No. 10,795 for the W 1/2 S 34, S 1/2 SW 1/4 Sec 28 Twp. 20
 S., R. 14 W.

He names the following witnesses to prove his continuous residence upon and cultivation of said land, viz:
 Samuel McManon, Charles Connell,

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how little you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds, coughs, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup
 and especially for Consumption,
 where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. Garman & Hemmway Co.

W. O. W. ATTENTION.

 late the bowels and impart natural activity to the liver. This, Herbine will do; it is a tonic, laxative and restorative.
 H. J. Freegar, Prop., Grand View Hotel,

THE PIONEER SCHOOL.
 A Sketch by one of the Early Teachers on School Keeping in Pioneer Oregon.

THE HOLIDAY DAY.

[The following article is the reminiscences of one of the pioneer school teachers of this section, and will be read with interest by many men and women who received their early education in this county.—Ed.]

The school houses were generally log cabins with puncheon floors. Some were "box" houses with better furnishings.

In the log houses we would generally find the puncheon floors and crude benches, a log cut out on each side of the house for windows—some times with glass, sometimes without. A long desk placed under each window and a long seat. This arrangement was for the "writers" while lower benches were provided for the smaller scholars.

In "box" or frame houses, more windows, better desks, and seats were furnished. Some were heated with big fire-places, some by stoves, with wood cut by the teachers and scholars. The wood was always hauled in long lengths, by patrons of the school.

The branches taught were: A. B. C's, spelling, reading, writing, arithmetic, geography and grammar. If public money was sufficient to pay for one term of three months, the school would be free; if not sufficient the directors would hire the teacher, pay what public funds they had on hand, and make out rate bills on the patrons for the balance and collect. When there was no money available the subscription method was resorted to.

The books chiefly used were Sander's and Webster's Elementary Spelling books, Sanders and Electric first, second, third and fourth readers; Mitchell's and Montez's Geographies, Thompson's Arithmetic, Smith's and Clark's Grammars.

"A. B. C." scholars had to be heard singly, but as soon as they could spell, they were placed in classes.

Generally, in beginning to read in the first and second readers, the beginner would have special attention until well started. Those in arithmetic would have to be attended to singly, except general exercises on the blackboard. Four lessons a day in "A. B. C's" and in 1st, 2nd and 3rd readers and two in the 4th reader, generally two classes (big and little) in spelling with two lessons a day, each. The order of business consisted of:

"Call the school to order by rapping with a stick on the door or side of the house, else shouting 'books', then A. B. C's" first, next spellers, then readers. Calling up of the classes: "Stand straight—hold up your head—touch the line (a joint in the floor)—proceed."

About twenty minutes in the forenoon and the same in the afternoon was devoted to writers, where those learning to write were required to practice under the immediate attention of the teacher.

Good spelling schools occasionally through the term, with challenges sometimes from rival districts kept a fine interest in the work.

Then comes Christmas! Merry, joyful Christmas! "We will beat the teacher to the school house Christmas morning, fasten or bar him out of the house—keep him out in the cold and rain!—Yes, we won't let him in until he promises to treat. If he starts for home without promising, we will send out our big boys to catch him take, him to a pond of water and duck him until he gives up." Then comes the battle royal. The teacher to get in and conquer, the scholars to keep him out. After many hard tussles the teacher fails, and shouts of triumph from his little flock, greet him. But he resorts to strategy. He quietly crawls under the floor, finds a loose puncheon and, awaiting his time, suddenly boists the puncheon, and quickly springs into the room. "Is all over!" The victory is won—peace is restored in the school room, but for bravery the teacher says: "Boys and girls, what do you want? 'Apples! Apples!'" "Well, Thomas and John, here is a dollar go and get as many apples as you can and hurry back, and let's have a merry old Christmas, and be ready to commence a happy New Year."

HOW UNCLE SAM COINS HIS MONEY
 (June Success.)

Three thousand people are kept busy under the shadow of the Washington monument keeping the country supplied with new paper money, postage stamps and internal revenue stamps. The present daily output of the bureau of engraving and printing, which, like the new mint at Philadelphia, ranks as the finest institution of its kind in the world, is 160,000 sheets of silver and gold certificates and United States notes, 25,000 to 50,000 sheets of national bank currency, 215,000 to 250,000 sheets of international revenue stamps and 150,000 to 200,000 postage stamps. Last year there were 116,700,000 pieces of new paper money issued, of an aggregate value of $466,800,000, or one-fifth of the entire national circulation. The silver certificates are $1, $2 and $5; the United States notes $10 only; while the gold certificates, as stated, range from $20 to $10,000. The demand is for notes of the small denominations. In 1896 there were 17,000,000 pieces of government paper issued, of the average value of $6.61; last year the quantity had been trebled and the average value had fallen to $4. The average value is now only $3.62. The actual increase in the paper currency last year was $76,000,000.

The number of coins struck at the mints was 190,000,000 of the value of $95,000,000, of which $62,000,000 were gold. The Philadelphia mint handles the gold received at New York, the San Francisco mint the output of the Pacific coast and Alaska, while the new mint at Denver will receive the product of the central west. Colorado's mines produce one-third of the gold of the country. The mint at New Orleans is coining only silver dollars, and it will probably be discontinued. The old mint at Carson City, Nev., one of the most important in the country in its day, went out of use with the demonetization of silver.

Two-thirds of our circulating currency is paper—about $247,000,000 in gold certificates, guaranteed by gold coin in the treasury; $45,000,000 silver certificates backed by silver dollars in the treasury; $379,000,000 national bank notes, against which government bonds are deposited with the treasurer to guarantee their payment; $345,000,000 United States notes—"greenbacks," originally issued to help pay for the civil war, and guaranteed by the credit of the United States; $25,000,000 treasury notes, issued in payment for silver bullion, and, like the "greenbacks," guaranteed by the government credit. Of the coin in circulation $624,000,000 are gold and $175,000,000 are silver.

In supplying the country with currency seven assay offices, five mints and a great printing office are kept busy. The assay offices are at New York, Charlotte, St. Louis, Boise City, Deadwood, Helena and Seattle; the mints are at Philadelphia, New Orleans, Denver and San Francisco; all the paper money is made in the bureau of engraving and printing at Washington.

One of the remarkable things about this gold is that, despite the fact of its forming one-half of the country's circulating money, it is rarely seen in the course of ordinary business. One may live in New York or Chicago or San Francisco without seeing a single gold coin for a year. This is in striking contrast to conditions abroad, where gold is everybody's coin. The gold sovereign of England is as current as the $5 silver certificate of this country. There, a man with a small income may not have a piece of paper money (the £5 Bank of England note is the smallest) in his hands for months. What becomes of all our American gold? The mines of Colorado, California, Alaska and other gold producing regions of the west add $80,000,000 a year to our hoard of gold, and three-fourths of this output goes to the mints. The yearly coinage of gold actually approaches in value the entire circulation of silver dollars.

SILK CREEK ITEMS.

Mrs. A. J. Ellidge and children spent last Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Geo. Thompson.

Mr. Edwards, of Eugene, was up Tuesday inspecting the work being done by the crusher.

Mr. and Mrs. Gosnold, of California, are the guests of their sister, Mrs. Geo. Comer.

Mrs. Lawson Slagle is enjoying a visit with her daughter and granddaughter from California.

Quite a number of our young Silk Creekers drove to the Divide last Wednesday eve to attend singing school there.

Recently about ten or a dozen of our energetic ladies invaded the peaceful precincts of our school ground, and the teacher being a young and bashful man, hastily vacated the premises. All hands fell to work, the seats were all carried out, the school apparatus yanked around, and in an incredibly short space of time the whole interior of the old school house was treated to a bath of scalding soapsuds, vigorously applied. Many hands made quick work, all things were placed to rights and the house fairly shined, and is in first class order for the Quarterly Meeting, which we hope to see largely attended.

The measles have finally reached this locality, L. P. McCoy and Charlie Comer both being down with them.

Mr. Joseph Pomerville, of Stillwater, Minn., after having spent over $2,000 with the best doctors for stomach trouble, without relief, was advised by his druggist, Mr. Alex. Richard, to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. He did so, and is a well man today. If troubled with indigestion, bad taste in the mouth, lack of appetite or constipation, give these Tablets a trial, and you are certain to be more than pleased with the result. For sale at 25 cents per box by Benson Drug Co.
