

RECAPS AFTER 50 YEAR'S ABSENCE.

W. T. Lewis made his office a very pleasant call Tuesday. Mr. Lewis crossed the plains in 1851 when but 17 years of age. He arrived here in the fall of that year and began work for his brother up near Brownsville. Upon the discovery of the famous placer mines near Jacksonville in 1852, Mr. Lewis caught the gold fever and ran away from his home. He remained at Jacksonville only a short time and went over into California. During the 50 years since he left he has mined in California, Arizona and New Mexico and wandered over the great plains of Texas. He has two nephews with whom he is visiting, Sam Lewis, of Mosby creek, and T. B. Lewis, of Foster, Ore. Mr. Lewis has many interesting stories to tell of early mining in this state and California, which would make interesting reading for the younger generations.

DRAPPALED FROM HOME.

Report comes from Eugene that Charley Griffin, son of J. B. Griffin of the Griffin Hardware Co., has been drapped from his home on Monday last and has not been seen or heard from since. He left town sometime Monday afternoon going to the river, presumably to take a bath. A man by the name of Hunt saw him lying under a tree some distance from the river but held no conversation with him. Charley is quite a popular young man of about 25, years of age and well known both here and in his home town. This is the second time he has mysteriously disappeared. The other time he came back all O. K. but his family and friends fear that something had happened to him this time. It is hoped that he will show up all right this time.

KICKED BY A HORSE.

J. T. Rowland, of Eugene, was kicked by a horse at the Oregon Mineral Springs Saturday and quite seriously injured. Mr. Rowland is a company with Levi Gier, proprietor of the springs, had gone up the Coast Fork near Blackbluff fishing and had tied the horses to a tree. One of them became unbalanced at some time and Mr. Rowland went to quiet him. In passing behind the horse he struck his foot against something and fell. The horse began kicking and struck Mr. Rowland on the arm knocking the bone above and below the elbow. Dr. Schief was called and set the broken bones and reports the patient doing nicely. Mr. Rowland will remain at the springs for several days yet.

A FABLE.

A picture maker, who has been going the rounds giving exhibitions at which he presents a view of one class and another to the hungry plebs, was in this town last week, and the Nugget city truthfully says that he is a fable of the most exaggerated type. His best board had at the Imperial hotel, on the printer's in the hole and tried to get his graft in on the Fashion boys' barn. He is a fable, a fable, a fable, and undoubtedly a fable sort of a great, about middle size with black eyes, tangled iron wire hair, with a passion for women of color, virtue and a power game. His name is W. J. Stevenson.

LEFT FOR WASHINGTON.

Fred Gide, the popular business man on the west side who has been every sick for the past month, left Thursday for Puller Washington, in company with his uncle J. Shelton Berger. Fred is apparently improved in health that he will greatly enjoy his visit and his many friends hope to see him back in a few weeks entirely recovered from his serious illness. Al Steinhilber, who has successfully managed the business for most two months will be in charge during Fred's absence and will be pleased to entertain the many customers with big business bargains.

BETTER BY A DOG.

Mrs. J. T. Hunt, living near Wildwood, was bitten by a dog one day last week and her hand badly lacerated. It was during the illness of her little daughter and some dogs began to fight near the house when Mrs. Hunt undertook to separate them to prevent the little girl being disturbed. One of the dogs turned upon her and bit her three times through the hand before she could get away. She was brought to town and has been at the home of J. P. Curran all week receiving treatment from Dr. Hosmer who reports that she is improving rapidly and will be able to return home today.

SICK WITH TYPHOID.

J. B. Lyons, president of the Coast Fork Lumber Co., was brought to the city hospital Monday very sick with typhoid fever and is now under the care of Drs. H. C. and Katherine Schief. A Nugget reporter called at the hospital Tuesday and was informed that, though quite sick, he was getting along, as well as could be expected and would be out in a week or so. Mr. Lyons has been superintending the construction of a dam for the Blackbluff quicksilver Mining Co. and was taken suddenly ill while at the works, presumably from exposure.

SUELS WATER.

A fellow by the name of Clifton while under the influence of too much booze indulged in a little light, disagreeable exercise on Monday evening, relieving Jack Davis of a gold watch and chain. He was arrested by Marshal Underwood and landed in the city jail. He was given a preliminary hearing before Judge Vanatta Wednesday and bound over in the sum of $200 to await action of the grand jury.

No. 105, that cottage Grove boys are experts in twirling the spire.
