THE SUNDAY CLOSING

In Compliance with Ordinance Business Houses Closed Last Sunday.

ALL BUT CIGAR STAND.

O. O. McClellan Opened Wide his Doors and Had Land Office Business.

When it was generally known last week that the City Council had passed an ordinance declaring it unlawful for any person or persons firm or corporation to keep open any shop, grocery, billiard room, card room, tipping house, or other place of business, all kinds of speculation was indulged in on the part, and many comments of a nature uncomplimentary to the promoters of the scheme were heard. Some were of the opinion that it was class legislation. Others thought, and it would appear that the majority of the business class of the city is of this view, that it was a piece of foolishness on the part of the City Council to be influenced to pass such an ordinance. Many were in favor of opening up regardless of the ordinance and fighting the issue to a finish. Later on it was decided that our house had better open up and the rest remain closed. Then if an attempt should be made to convict the one violating the new ordinance, the business houses would stand together and bear the expense of trial carrying the case to the Supreme Court if necessary. According to this plan O. O. McClellan, proprietor of the cigar, confectionery and ice cream stand, who had a large order in for his ice cream, was chosen as the one to open, and sure enough Sunday morning Mr. McClellan threw wide his "gates," and the usual amount of business—some hint a little more so—was done.

O. O. Willard, who seems to have taken much of the responsibility of supervising the business interests of the city upon his own shoulders walked in an purchased a five cent cigar. Straightway Monday morning Mr. Willard swore out a warrant for Mr. McClellan's arrest on the ground of violating the ordinance. The trial was set for Tuesday at 10 A. M., and when the time rolled around quite a crowd of interested and disinterested people gathered at the office of Recorder J. E. Young. All classes were represented, ministers, church members, newspaper men, business men and sports, but in all the vast assemblage the familiar face of the prosecuting witness, Mr. Willard, was no where to be found. The court, however, was patient; and the hour dragged slowly by, while the crowd rested first on one foot and then on the other. As the hour hand crawled well along toward 11 o'clock and the prosecuting witness failed to appear, Recorder Young dismissed the case for lack of prosecution.

About ten minutes after court was dismissed Mr. Willard was seen coming in the distance, not exactly with the speed of the wind, but "by hand," working one propeller after the other with steady strokes. Mr. Willard was much wroth, at His Honor, for dismissing court without his (Willard's) permission, but the mischief had been done, and the prosecuting witness, after giving some expression to his pent-up passions submitted to the inevitable. Mr. Hubbard, the proprietor of the Stoneberg cigar and candy store near the bridge was also arrested, but was also discharged. As the prosecuting witness failed to appear at the time set by the Court.

PETITION.
To the Hon. Mayor and Council of the city of Cottage Grove, Oregon. Whereas at a good citizenship mass meeting held at the M. E. Church of this city, June 21, 1903, and at which meeting we believe there were more than 300 persons present, a vote was taken whether a rigid enforcement of the Statute and City Ordinance relating to gambling and closing of saloons is desired by the citizens and there being almost a unanimous vote for enforcement of the law.

And whereas at a similar meeting held at the C. P. Church, of this city, July 26, 1903, where we believe there were more than 300 persons present and a like vote was taken with the same, almost unanimous call for enforcement of the law.
Therefore, we the undersigned, who being present at these meetings, respectfully submit this petition as the sentiment, wish and demand of the good citizens of Cottage Grove.
G. H. FEENEY, C. M. JACKSON,
T. M. MEHREY, A. H. KING,

The following is the ordinance which was drafted, and upon which the above petition has bearing.

TEST SMELTER.

T. K. Richardson, who is a prominent stockholder in the improved Mineral Smelter Co. with principal business office at Roseburg, Oregon, was in the city last Friday. Mr. Richardson is highly elated over the test already made by his company, and states that his company will this week commence the erection of a plant at Anaconda, Montana, which is put in at the instigation of prominent mining men, with the view of making a complete test of the new system, to determine the merits claimed for it.

C. D. Williams and M. Blanchard were the founders of the company. Mr. Blanchard being the inventor, while T. K. Richardson, having become a prominent stockholder, is secretary. The big test is made at Anaconda, Montana, for the reason that it is purely a smelter country, and the results of a test given at that place will be given to the world. The great feature of the new system is the consuming of the smoke and the combustible gasses with the use of any lignite coal without the necessity of using coke. It consists of a double furnace, the secondary furnace utilizing the heat from the first furnace. The heat is driven down from the first furnace and through the slag pit; up through the secondary furnace. Mr. Richardson states that his company has given the system a thorough test and they are all satisfied with the results and are confident that it will reduce all ores. Mr. Richardson states that the company's smelter is looked upon with great favor by mining men who have had occasion to examine into its merits, and that many solicitations have been received for the purchase of stock, but the stock is all taken by the founders of the company. The outcome of the tests at Anaconda will be watched with much interest, as it is claimed not only to be perfect in every detail but a great money saver over all other systems.

ABOUT A SMELTER.

In conversation with Geo. W. Lloyd, manager of the Crystal Consolidated Mining Co., now in active development in Bohemia Mining District, that gentlemen expressed his views regarding a smelter for the camp at the present time. In view of much talk now going the rounds as to the advisability of launching a smelter enterprise in Bohemia, the following brief view will be read with interest; Mr. Lloyd said:

"I do not think the erection of a smelter plant for Bohemia advisable at the present time. Two characters of ore are characteristic of Bohemia—free milling and base. The free milling ore of course can be treated by stamp mills, while the base ore is treated by concentration and smelting. The base ore carries iron, copper, lead and gold.

The deeper workings of the district shows that the ores increase in value with depth; but at the present time, owing to the limited amount of work completed the base ores do not carry sufficient values to pay for shipping and smelting. The ore, however, can be concentrated from 6 to 10 tons into one and will then pay a large profit, after deducting the cost of mining, milling and smelting.

While I do not see that the erection of a smelter would do harm to the district, still at the present time, I do not think it would pay."

LIKES BOHEMIA.

Geo. Patrick, a well known Baker City Mining man, mention of whom was made in last week's Nugget, returned to town from a weeks visit in Bohemia last Saturday, staying only long enough to transact a little business, bunch up some grub, and then hiked back into the district to continue his investigations.
Mr. Patrick speaks right out strong for Bohemia. He states that he has followed mining all his life. That he has been in all of the important camps in the northwest. In all his wanderings throughout the great mining circle of the west, he says positively, that he has never seen Bohemia's equal. He believes the time is now at hand when Bohemia will starve the world. He does not believe it has an equal. He speaks very complimentary of the Oregon Securities Co. stating that the great work the company is doing will revolutionize the camp, and bring it before the world in a manner that will place the capital of world within reach. "Few of you realize," said Mr. Patrick, "what the Oregon and Southeastern R'y means to your community and to Bohemia. Transportation is the great need. When you establish a complete transportation line Bohemia will do the rest." Mr. Patrick represents considerable capital and expects to identify himself with Bohemia.

property. There are seven claims in this group. Only about 75 feet of tunnel work has been done on these claims, but numerous shafts have been sunk on the property, and the claims thoroughly prospected. Five well marked parallel veins have been shown up and traced on this property, all prospecting free gold of good quality. The company considers that it has claims which will in time be equal to any thing in the camp. Development work is now being hard pushed, with two shifts, and the property will be put on paying basis as soon as sufficient development work can be made to justify the erection of a reduction plant. The home office of the company is at Corvallis, Oregon. Geo. E. Lilly, of that city, being the secretary of the Company.

PAINT MINE.

The existence of a body of the very best quality of mineral paint near Walker Station has long been known, but until recently the extent of it has only been a matter of conjecture. Now, however, some parties from Creswell have become interested, and they find by the most searching tests that it is practically inexhaustible and have organized a company to mine and prepare it and put it on the market. The company is composed of Dr. L. D. Scarborough, C. C. Hazelton, S. A. McKay, W. W. Scott and S. A. Gorrrell, all of Creswell. They propose to organize a Joint Stock Co. and place a limited number of shares on the market.
Samples of this paint has been exhibited at the Buffalo and Charleston expositions and is now being shown at Osaka Japan along with the Oregon exhibit. A request has come from Portland for samples of the paint to be sent to the St. Louis Exposition.—Register.

Where Racing Will Be Good.

Visitors to the Oregon state fair this fall will witness the greatest racing ever seen in the state. Salem business men have raised a purse of $2000 for 2:17 pacers to be raced for on Salem Day, which has 30 horses entered. These horses are from the best stables in Oregon. Washington, Idaho, California and Montana, and it is expected at least twenty of them will start, furnishing the largest field of highclass horses ever seen on a track on the Pacific coast. Portland, too, has contributed a purse of $2000 for 2:30 trotters to be raced for on Portland Day. This race has 27 horses entered, of which most of them will start, making two of the greatest racing events ever held this side the Rocky mountains. If you are fond of high-class racing, don't miss seeing these two events.

MINING NOTES.

E. S. Lovelace, of Fort Ransom, N. D., returned to this city last Saturday, from a business trip to San Francisco, where he went to inquire into plans and specifications with the view of equipping the Sunrise Mining Co., with a reduction plant. Mr. Lovelace laid over here two days and then continued his home journey where he will complete his arrangements, and will probably be on the ground again in a few weeks.
Lewis Hentley, Mining Manager for the Great Eastern Mining Co. was in the city this week.

YOUNG MAN DROWNED.

Son of J. S. Myers, Near Saginaw Goes Down.

Young Myers had gone in bathing, not being a swimmer, he soon got beyond his depth and drowned before assistance could reach him. The body was recovered Sunday afternoon. Deceased was 17 years old, and was well thought of by those who knew him.
