FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1903.

It has been said that the city is powerless to act in the matter of providing a sewerage system for this city, notwithstanding that the town is badly in need of legislation along this line. It appears that there is no provision made in the charter under which the city is now doing business. If this is the case, it is to be regretted, and is one of the most serious things with which we have to deal at the present time. Good health among the inhabitants of any city or community, depends almost entirely upon the sanitary conditions surrounding it. When we stop to consider things as they really are in this city, it is astonishing that there is as little sickness in this community as there is. But it does not hold that because we have escaped fevers, and the various contagious ills that flesh is heir to, that we will always escape. We have made no effort to purify this city, even with the means that is always at hand. The city has passed certain ordinances that are in the province of the charter, and they have been received, in the majority of cases, indifferently by citizens upon whom said city ordinances had bearing. A complicated condition arises here. The citizen appears to make a bluff at the city government in refusing to comply with the requirements of the ordinance in question, and then the city, or the city's official, upon whom the execution of the ordinance falls, becomes timid and fails to execute the authority vested in him. The citizen is to blame for not complying cheerfully and promptly to all ordinances that are of general benefit, especially in the matter of improving the sanitary conditions of the town. The city is to blame for making an ordinance the constitutionality of which is beyond question, and not seeing that it is most religiously executed. For years the ground in the corporate limits of Cottage Grove has been soaking with poisonous gases. Homeholders, in the absence of sewerage have dug shallow vaults, and as they have filled up, and become obnoxious and unbearable even to the owner, for the use for which they were intended, they have again been covered with a scanty pile of dirt, and a new pit dug. In many instances several pits have been dug, used and filled on one lot, and the fumes and stench and poisonous gases festered in the air. The householder allows his family to dump the cabbage, potatoes, and other vegetable leavings on the surface of the ground, as well as all the slops, and some times they are not particular as to whose ground is used for the garbage. We have no sewerage. It may be that we are powerless until after the next session of the state legislature to secure authority in the matter of placing this city on a sanitary basis, but there is nothing to prevent city council and citizens in working together for one common good, nor to prevent the city using the power already vested in it. We can keep our streets clean. We can force the citizen who demonstrates no desire on his own part, to keep reasonably clean for the benefit of his neighbors and the city at large.

It would seem from present indications that Secretary Hitchcock is determined to thrust upon the State of Oregon every insult within his power simply because of some petty differences existing between himself and Hon. Binger Hermann. Not only has he used his personal influence to prevent the appointment of land office officials recommended by both senators and representatives but seems determined to make the people angry by throwing into the forest reserve the best lands in the state. Already he has succeeded in placing about one fifth the area of the state in the reserve and for no other reason than that he has been informed that the citizens of the state do not want it. Just why an officer should use his high official position in the manner that Secretary Hitchcock is using his is more than the average citizen can understand. When such men as Mitchell, Fulton and Hermann recommend a man for office there is reason to believe he is worthy, regardless of Hitchcock or any other man.

These days it seems to take a considerable amount more talk than cash to build a railroad. Generally this talk comes about from scarcity of news in some other field. This is a noticeable feature in the Coos Bay-Salt Lake end of the Gould system, however it is fair to presume that the railroad will be built sometime in the not far distant future. A large amount of territory now covered almost entirely by stage and freight wagons would be opened and thousands of dollars of wealth as also thousands of people would be added to the grand old State of Oregon.

TO BURN COAL.

There will be no more passenger engines on the main line of the Southern Pacific railroad burning wood. The freight engines on this section of the road, and the engines on the branch lines, most of them, will burn wood for a time yet—a few of them, possibly, for a long time. But there will be no more wood choppers to get into the eyes of the passengers on the main line. The coal will come from Bellingham Bay in Washington, until a more convenient supply may be had. It is likely that oil burners will finally be put on this division, as on the California and other southern sections of the road. Some of the engines burning oil now come as far north as Ashland, and a tank for the storing of the crude oil will soon be established there. So far the oil is secured there from tank cars.

GREAT EXPOSITION AND CARNIVAL AT PORTLAND.

"The Merchants and Manufacturers Exposition and Carnival will be held at Portland September 14th to 26th inclusive." For this occasion the Southern Pacific Co. will sell tickets to Portland and return, including coupon of admission at rate of $6.50 from Cottage Grove. Sale dates September 15th, 16th, 22nd and 23rd. Tickets sold at stations south of Fair Grounds will allow stopovers at that point, enabling holders to visit the Oregon State Fair. The Exposition will be held on Multnomah Club Grounds and adjacent streets, and in addition to exhibits by merchants and manufacturers, Jambou Circus, with its many attractions, has been secured. A special feature will be the grand Spectacular Ballet "When Knights Were in Flower" by sixty trained dancers in gorgeous costumes for the occasion.

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something that will relieve and cure the most severe and dangerous forms of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, it is possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the only remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles. "Bo-schere's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease, but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a quick and sure relief, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. You can get this reliable remedy at Garman & Hemenway Co. Price 25c and 75c.

A REMARKABLE RECORD.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many millions of bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, honey children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by The Modern Pharmacy.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to the undersigned, will please call and settle. I have sold my stock of goods and wish to close up my accounts at once. A. B. Willmot, my successor in business, is authorized to receive and receipt for any accounts due me. Dated August 5th, 1903.

Mr. D. P. Dougherty, well known throughout Oregon and Washington, W. Va., most likely owes his life to the kindness of a neighbor. For sale by The Modern Pharmacy.

"B. L. Byer, a well known cooper of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month with what the doctors called bilious dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good until he tried this remedy. It gave him immediate relief," says B. L. Byer, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by The Modern Pharmacy.
