WOULD ACCEPT THE NOMINATION.

It is announced that I. H. Bingham of this city will allow his name to be presented to the Republican County Convention for legislative honors. Mr. Bingham stipulating "If it can be done in the interest of harmony at home." The stipulation of Mr. Bingham is a strong recommendation within itself, saying nothing of the qualities possessed by the gentleman that entitle him to party recognition. Mr. Bingham is a life long republican. He is a man largely interested in the commercial welfare of Lane county, particularly in his devotion to two of the greatest enterprises in this section of the state—mining and milling, and together with his record as an unflinching workman in whatever business he engages, he is without doubt capable of advancing our interests in the house. He has a wide circle of friends throughout the county, and if nominated will poll one of the largest votes cast.

PRACTICAL ARITHMETIC.

A teacher in a certain Ohio school received the following from a complaining parent a few days ago:

"Sir: Will you please for the future give my boy some easier sums to do at nights. This is what he brought home two or three nights ago, if four gallons of vinegar will fill thirty-two pint bottles, how many pint and half bottles will it fill? Well, we tried and could not make nothing out of it at all, and my boy cried and said he would not go back without doing it, so I had to go and buy a nine gallon keg of vinegar which I could ill afford to do, and then we went and borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles besides a few we had on hand. Well, we emptied the keg into the bottles and there was 19 and my boy put that down for an answer."

"I don't know whether it is right or not, as we split some in doing it."

"P. S.—Please let the next one be in water as I am not able to buy any more vinegar and I had a headache all night and I was awful frayed nervous prostration might set in I was always pretty good at figuring but that problem got me up. Good-by."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS.

Sheriff's Office, Eugene, Oregon, February 16, 1904.

Only the taxes for 1903 will be collected during the year 1904. At the last special session of the Oregon legislature the law made in 1901 was enacted and said law will be in force for the collection of 1903 taxes, and in substance it is as follows, to-wit:

1. If you pay your taxes in full on or before March 15th you will be allowed a rebate of three per cent.

2. If you pay your taxes between March 15th and up to and including the first Monday in April, there will not be any rebate and neither will there be any penalty or interest added.

3. If at least one-half of your taxes are not paid on or before the first Monday in April, they will become delinquent, when there will be added a penalty of ten per cent, and the tax will also draw interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum in addition to the penalty.

4. If you pay one-half of your taxes on or before the first Monday in April, then the remaining half may run up to and including the first Monday in October following; but if the last half of tax due is not paid by the first Monday in October, it becomes delinquent, and there will be added to such balance, a penalty of ten per cent, and in addition, such balance will bear interest at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the first Monday in April until paid.

5. On all personal property taxes, if one-half is not paid on or before the first Monday in April, the laws compel the sheriff to levy upon and collect the same after May 1st, hence to prevent a levy upon personal property after May 1st it will be necessary for one-half to be paid as above stated.

6. The law compels the sheriff to sell all lands on which taxes have not been paid and that such sales shall not be held later than March 1st of the year succeeding the year in which the tax levy is made.

7. The property will be sold to the person bidding the lowest rate of interest, and certificates will be issued therefor, and deeds given to such property sold, unless redeemed within three years from the date of such sales.

The 1903 assessment rolls will be opened for the collection of taxes thereon February 23, 1904.

I remain very respectfully yours,

LURCH'S

The Giver of Best Values.

THIRTY YEARS IN WASHINGTON.

By Mrs. General John A. Logan.

This magnificent illustrated volume is published with the consent and approval of the United States Government, and the fact alone is evidence of its sterling merit and of the great care that has been bestowed upon it. It is said that all roads lead to Washington. Certain it is that the eyes of millions who can not behold the marvels and glories of our National Capital in person are constantly turned toward it.

This book is a complete panorama of countless interests of the National Capital as seen by a famous woman who, as the wife of a influential Senator, a society leader, and a close friend to every mistress of the White House from Lincoln to the present time, has been in close touch with the inner life of Washington, and enjoyed rare privileges for studying the mighty activities of the Government, such as no other person has ever before been able to command.

Many distinguished men and women have long urged Mrs. Logan to give this volume to the world. She has received letters from about a hundred distinguished guests at both private and official entertainments; I have known the pleasure of personal acquaintance with prominent statesmen, courtly diplomats, and beautiful, witty, and gifted women filling with grace and dignity the highest social positions that the people could bestow.

"It has been my aim to show my readers, both by word and picture, the wonders and workings of the elaborate machinery of the Government in motion, by leading them through the great Departments and explaining what the array of busy men and women workers do when they do it; to show them the works of art, the wonderful collections of relics and curiosities from every part of the world, and the architectural glories and priceless treasures of the Capitol; to describe and explain its giant activities; to take them through the White House from the attic to the cellar, through every forbidden room, and to portray not only its daily life, past and present, but its brilliant social and official functions as well; to tell the story of every President, and of every woman who has ever reigned in the White House; to visit the Treasury, the Dead Letter office, and to solve the marvels and mysteries of every government industry; in short, to present every interesting phase of life and scene in Washington.

Its illustrations are a triumph of American art. It is worth the price of the book just to look at these 50 magnificent full-page plates, from photographs taken with government consent and aid exclusively for this volume. They portray wonderfully interesting scenes. The government generously waived all "rules and regulations" in order that this book by a woman of Mrs. Logan's standing and influence should be as perfect and complete as possible. One can linger a long time over these beautiful plates, and though he turns from each with regret he is pretty sure to find the next one of still more absorbing interest.

We do not know when 740 pages have given us more genuine pleasure. If we speak warmly of the book, it is because it richly deserves it. It is sold only by agents, and all who introduce such a work ought to be cordially welcomed. Put it into it to read it is to obtain a liberal education. We believe that the best way to keep our poor books is by introducing good ones, and a better one than this has never been brought to our notice.

The book is published by the old and well-known firm of A. D. Worthington & Co., Hartford, Conn., whose imprint is sufficient guarantee of the excellence of this first-class volume.

Mr. A. R.
