The Care of Umbrelles.

More umbrellas are spoiled through areless treatment than wear out from actual hard work. One great mistake that many people make is to leave an umbrella standing on its point to dry after it has been used in the rain. This is most harmful, as all the water trickles down and settles in the folds at the narrow end of the silk, and this not only causes the allk to rot, but the wire frame to grow rusty. The right way to treat a wet umbrella when rought into the house is to open i vide and wipe it as dry as possible hen half close it and leave it standing n its handle to drain. Wet umbrellashould never be put near a fire; this also is likely to cause the silk to split

The same may be said of many American girts and women, and it offers one good reason for not huying the very beat materials in everything, as one is often recommended to do. "It is commonly supposed that a lovest her money in, with confidence that she will get every dollar's worth of wear out of it," says an authority. Yet how many women find themselves with a $75 suit on their hands which is demode, which they cannot afford to give or throw away, and spon which they have to lay out often a considerable sum to make it wearable. Almost any woman would say under these circumstances the person in question would have fared better to have laid out only $40 or $50 on her suit originally. When she had 'shabbled' it, or it had got out of style, she could then have bought herself a ew one with a clear conscience and at hardly any extra expense, considerget the old suit renovated. Supposing the woman in question has only one tallored suit, and has to wear it four rears; she would certainly cut a smartappearance on two suits at half the gice. This seems to be one of the istances where, while it is never prudent to buy the cheapest. It is certainly not wisdom to buy the highest riced. A good part of the accumulations of clothes from which women suffer is due to buying too expensive things, as well as too many of them,"

A suit has been filed in the second livision of Pulaski circuit court which akes one back to the days of the confederacy, when the currency in circuation was that issued by the Confed erate States of America.

The suit is a petition filed by the heirs of Mark Kelly, through their at-torneys, Rose. Hemingway & Rose, raying a writ of mandamus directed Francis E. Conway, State land comissioner, to compel him to issue patent to certain lands in Green coun ty, purchased by Kelly in 1858, and which were paid for in confederate

The petitioners are J. W. Kelly, C. E. Stone, H. L. Stone, Allie Stone and Frances Valley Bowen, by M. F. Collier.

Mark Kelly purchased at a sale by the common school commissioner of Greene county the west balf of the southeast quarter of section 16, township 18 north, range 6 east, consisting eighty acres, located in the north ern part of Green county, about eight niles from Paragould. Later, "when he civil war was flagrant and when the only circulating medium was con-federate money," Kelly paid for the land in confederate money, which was accepted by the State as good and sufficient payment.

However, Kelly neglected to secure from the State a patent for the land. He entered upon the land and remained in full and undisputed possession thereof until his death, since which time the heirs have continued in posession, claiming it as their own.

Recently they applied to the State and commissioner for a patent on the land, which he refused to issue on the confederate money.-Little Gazette.

AN INDESCRIBABLE TORTURE

Because Rheumatism sometimes comes on suddenly it doesn't sole ground that it was paid for in prove that it is a chance disease or one due to accidental causes. Last winter I had a severe attack of Rheumatism. It started in the right elbow, and from there to my wrists; the right wrist was the worse. It hecame swellen and extremely painful. My left knee joint was the heav place to be attacked. It became swellen and of course painful. The next point to be affected was the hip and ankle, which gave much trouble. I was burly able to get about for some time. I was under treatment of a physician for awhile, but getting no better I began S. S. S., and after raking it for some time. I was cultively relieved of the Rheumatism. All swelling and accesses disappeared. I consider S. S. an excellent remedy for Rheumatism in the blood.

Rheumatism is a disagreeable companion even in its mildest form. It grows worse as we grow older, draws the muscles out of shape and breaks down the nervous system. A disease that originates in the blood, as Rheumatism blood must be restored to its normal purity and strength, so that all poisonous substances may be carried out of the system, and no medicine accomplishes this in so short a time as S.S.S., which not only neutralizes the acids and counteracts the poisons, but builds up the general health at the same time.
