FOR CORNER.

In Dr. F. M. Day the republicans of Lane county made no mistake in selection of a candidate for county corner.

Dr. Day was born at Preston, Minn., December 18, 1874, and is therefore 29 years of age. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, practiced medicine in Minneapolis before coming to Oregon, and was house physician at St. Mary's hospital at Duluth, Minn., for one year.

Dr. Day since coming to Eugene has built up a splendid practice, and is already well known throughout the county.

Dr. Day is married, has a wife and child. He is affiliated with the Masons, I. O. O. F., M. W. A., M. B. A., F. R. A., F. of A., K. O. T. M. fraternal orders, and is also a member of numerous medical associations.—Eugene Register.

THE CHATTANOOGA ADVERTISING

The Chattanooga Medicine Company, with laboratories and general offices at Chattanooga, Tennessee, and branch houses at St. Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, Cal., has become one of the largest proprietary medicine concerns in the world. In the growth of this great business two factors have been dominant: The merit of its products—Wine of Cardui and Thelford's Black-Draught—has been widely recognized and the original advertising methods adopted have excited great comment. The publicity for these medicines does not consist of the catch phrase and extravagant statement, too often employed in advertising today, but instead the plain story of experience with the medicines given in the plain language of the people themselves. The following letter is a fair sample of the thousands of Wine of Cardui testimonials published during the past twenty years.

Of Photographer Boyd who will soon return to this city the Lebanon Express says: "Photographer Boyd has now on display some remarkably fine photos. The photos show much artistic ability in the posing and in the fine quality of work. Then, too, the cards are very neat and handsome, being the latest things out in that line. We doubt if any photographer in the valley can make a better showing than this."

We learn that quite a large amount of stock of the Oregon Mineral Springs Association, which has recently been purchased by our local people among the purchasers are David McFarland, James McFarland, J. A. Powell and John Sutherland. The money received from the sale of stock is being used by the company in beautifying the grounds, enlarging their plant for the manufacture of salts, which are being placed on the market with success. These springs are but 12 miles from Cottage Grove, connected with our main line of best wagon roads in the state. They are destined to become one of the best pleasure and health resorts in the state.

J. N. Boyd, the well known photographer will soon return to Cottage Grove. Last week's Lebanon Criticism said of him: "Last week Photographer Boyd, the busy man, side stove case with a new supply of photos. Among the new display may be found some of the finest finished photos that are made anywhere both as to workmanship and quality. They are without doubt the finest lot of pictures ever displayed in this city and should be seen to be appreciated. Lebanon can boast of one of the very best photographers in the state."

Hon. Edwin O. Potter, republican nominee for district judge, is a strong man and should be elected. He was born in Lane county and received his education at the public schools and afterwards at the University of Oregon, from which he graduated in 1887. Subsequently the university conferred on him the degree of A. M. Upon the completion of the classical course he entered the law department of the University of Oregon, graduating from there in 1890, with the degree of Bachelor of Law. In June of the same year he was admitted to the bar of Oregon, and immediately commenced practice at Eugene. From 1890 to 1894 he served as deputy district attorney for Lane county. In 1896 he was elected county judge, and served four years, since which time he has devoted himself to practice of his profession.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

LOUIS POTRAS KILLED.

On last Saturday in the early afternoon Archie Elliott shot and killed Louis Potras.

The altercation took place about six miles northeast of Lane. The two men owned homesteads adjoining and have for some time past had trouble over the dividing line. Saturday morning Potras had been to Roseburg and returning discovered Elliott cutting washings and threatening to trash him if he did not desist.

Potras drew a revolver and started toward Elliott who also drew his revolver shot Potras through the body killing him almost instantly. Elliott returned home and told of the shooting. The coroner, sheriff and district attorney were telephoned of the affair.

The officers repaired to the place and held an inquest near the body where it had lain for 24 hours.

The testimony of the witness was to the effect that Potras was an eccentric and quarrelsome man, that when first seen after the shooting he had a revolver in his hand, that he had threatened others of the neighborhood, which taken together with Elliott's testimony, caused the jury to render the following verdict:

Lane, Ore., May 22, 1904.

We, the jury in this case, find that Louis Potras, aged 62, came to his death by internal hemorrhage, caused by a gun shot fired by Archie Elliott, and furthermore, we find that the evidence given indicates that the shot was fired in self-defense.

W. A. EVANS, Foreman.
H. W. RENNE,
G. W. SANBORN,
A. A. KELLY,
T. E. MCKELLY.

The verdict of the jury released Elliott, from the charge of murder and gave him his freedom.
