United States Steamboat Inspector Causes Sensation in Slocum Case

New York, June 23 .- Evidence of a start ing nature, which doubtless will have an important bearing on the ulti-mate result of the coroner's inquiry into the General Slocum disaster, was forthcoming at the inquest today. Perhaps the most unexpected incident was the continued refusal to answer questions of Henry Lundberg, a United States steamboat inspector, who was supposed to have inspected the life preservers and the hull of the ill-fated steamer. His refusal was based on the ground that an answer might tend to ncriminate him, and he acted on the advice of his counsel.
