Parents Attention.

The old method of teaching a child to read by the uninteresting meaningless plan of learning his A, B, C's has long since been supplanted by the word system. The method of teaching music has kept pace with the improved methods of teaching school. The old tedious, discouraging method of teaching the finger exercises and scales has given place to a method which interests and delights children as well as grown people.

Mrs. Roy Welch has taught music for eight years during which time she has won twice to study. Recently she had the privilege of a year's continuous study under an own pupil of Calvin Gandy of Boston, Mass., whose genius has revolutionized the method of teaching music.

Drop a card in the P. O. and Mrs. Welch will call upon you and give you an idea of the method whereby one can begin reading and writing music from the first lesson.

SCIENTIFIC SHINE IN THE HOME.

A London physician claims that radium has cured a man of the wife-beating habit.

Jim Smith he used to beat his wife. He didn't like to do it. But since he'd done it all his life he got accustomed to it. So Dr. Brown recommended to him, "You're in a dreadful way. Before the case grows chronic, Jim, please take this radium ray."

Jim Smith he took the doctor's dose. Indifferent to danger. At once beginning to blush. Traits that grew strange and (stranger.) No more his third wife he beat. In his old, rickety way. His air waxed gently, soft, and sweet. Through that one radium ray.

That little dose of radium ray. No harm's made poor Jim. That he discovered, first he knew. His wife was beating him. Then Smith heaped humbly to comply. [plain.]

To Dr. Brown one day, "Oh, doctor, please give Mary Jane One kindly radium ray."

The doctor treated Mrs. Smith. The influence was calming. For soon her soul seemed brimming (with) Thoughts ladylike and charming. Then arm in arm, demure and nice, The Smiths went home to stay. In one fair radio-Paradise. Lit by a radium ray.

Parties using water for irrigating should use as little as possible. While there is plenty of water at the head, the pipe is too small to convey all that is needed. It might be needed in case of fire.

A Little Hero

Last Saturday evening Merton Comer and Ellis Harding were wading in the river just above the mouth of the mill race.

Owing to the water being diverted further up stream the water was very low.

When the gate above is opened it causes the river to rise very suddenly. With little warning the water rushed down and Merton sprang to the rescue, saving his friend, but he discovered him being swept away, without a moments hesitation he ran down the river to a narrow place and wading in saved his little comrade, and dragged him to the shore, where Mrs. Comer, who had accompanied the boys, cared for the little fellow until he could go to his home.

BAND AT THE SPRINGS.

The Cottage Grove band boys, accompanied by their wives and sweethearts, spent last Sunday at the Oregon Mineral Springs. The object was an all-day practice as well as recreation. The morning practice was done in the portico of the hotel, which extends the full length of the building. Mr. Geer, who is a prince of entertainers kept the boys amused with the famous Geer Springs Mineral water carbonated, and says, "it is a nectar of the gods."

At noon the young folks went to the nicely kept grove, adjoining the hotel where round tables and benches had been provided for the accommodation of campers and picnickers, and spread their lunches.

After making themselves uncomfortable, hammocks were strung (in some instances straws were taken just to get away from the madding crowd you know) and all enjoyed in their own way a couple of hours rest. There was a horse power merry-go-round furnished free, and many enjoyed the fun. The hand organ attachment was sorely missed but the monkey was in evidence. About 2 p. m. in the land went to the bandstand in the grove and had a three hours practice. There are a great many people from town who went to the Springs that day and the proposed day's practice had been noised about the neighborhood adjacent to the Springs, the whole country side was there so quite an audience greeted the music, especially the national airs. The practical joker was there also and he coaxed an innocent, unsophisticated country dog back of the tuba section and fired one end of the rope to the dog's neck and the other end to the back of Billy Wallace's Helicon tuba. Say, when that dog commenced to play, there was something a-diddling.

Leader Berry thought the trombone section were out of tune and rapped to stop playing and was quite disgusted when he saw Wallace trying to disentangle his instrument from the canines rope. Frank McFarland was on hand to help but from the fact that H. R. Bills was 40 feet away and splitting with laughter, which by the way is his normal condition, the writer thinks he was the perpetrator of the joke.

K of P Did Business on the Diamond

Wednesday.—A Hot Day—A Hot Game.

EUGENE O. K. BUT DIDN'T KNOW THE GAME.

It was a hot day and also a hot game—that K. of P. game played here last Wednesday afternoon.

For a long time all kind of hot air has been flying between Cottage Grove and Eugene, among the K. of P. boys, as to which was further, in base ball prowess. A couple of weeks ago Juveniles lodge of this city, sent its team, accompanied by a goodly number of rooters, down to Eugene to play the first of a series of three games with Helmet lodge. Out of courtesy to the home team, we won't mention the result—just draw our own conclusions, and prepare to hear the report of Wednesday's game played here. The day was hot, also the game. Nine innings were played, and laying all joshing aside, it was perhaps the best game played here this season, the score standing at the close of the ninth inning four to ten in favor of Juveniles lodge, the score being even up to the sixth inning. When our boys got to some of their smooth scratches, and did old Helmet lodge.

The game drew a large crowd, and was one of jolly good natured from first to last. Graceful Harry Dunbar and Judge Wintermiller were easily the favorites among the Eugene boys especially with the ladies, with Harry, as of yore, a full length in the lead, and the "Jude" just a "teetle" upst about it, but who regained his charming composure later in the evening, and in this writing, the breach which, for a time, appears to be beyond repair between Dunbar and Wintermiller, bids fair to be spanned. The third and last series will be played at Eugene next Thursday.

Dutton, left fielding, and Medley pitcher, were the stars in the home team, and both did clever work.

The line-up as follows:

Eugene—Cottage Grove

Dunbar ss Baker

Griffin c Wallace

McClanahan p Medley

Knox 1st b Johnson

Traver 2nd b Wheeler

Barger 3rd b McQueen

Hayes lf Dutton

Wintermiller cf Knox

Polandexter rf A. Wallace

In the evening the Knights held their regular meeting followed by a social good time in their hall until the train arrived to carry the visitors home.

Score—10 to 4.

Errors—A. H. Eugene 10.

Hits—by C. G. S. Eugene 2.

Struck out by C. G. S. Eugene 3.

Walks by C. G. S. Eugene 1.

Umpire—Peg Bennett.

Score Keeper—Ben Bingham.

IN THE EVENING.

At 8:30 in the evening the boys gathered at the Casino and after the routine work, the K. of P. was exemplified by the home team, after which lunch was served and then a jolly good time was made until train time.

This is a sunny set of fellows that belong to the Helmet lodge. They are not only members of the Knights of Pythias order but they are Knights of Pythias, in the truest sense of the word, and incidentally, it may be mentioned that Helmet No. 32, is one of the best working lodges in the Donaul of Oregon.

Aside from those named in the line-up, the following members of Helmet were present:

D. E. Yoran, E. J. McClanahan, J. D. Hamlin, W. G. Martin, Walter Ross, O. E. Roberts, M. Schwarzchild, Otto Olston, S. W. Taylor, Andy Taylor, E. R. Mumme and C. C. Kauffman.
