THIS PAPER is kept on file at E. C. Drake's Advertising Agency, 64 and 65 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, California, where contracts for advertising can be made for it.

FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1904.

We would respectfully call the attention of the city authorities, and including the property owners, to the littered appearance of the back yards of the several business houses on Main street. This is the time of year when every precaution should be taken against fire. It is the hotest and dryest season of the year and every dry box and bunch of packing straw or paper, should be carefully taken care of and not allowed to accumulate. The Fourth of July celebration is now at hand and immediate action should be taken in the matter of cleaning up the alleys and streets. One firecracker carelessly exploded in a stack of this trash might burn our town down. While we can afford to be patriotic we cannot afford to start in business anew on the 5th of July. Lets clean up a bit.

Col Irwin Mahon, Secretary of The American Mining Congress has accepted the committees invitation to address the citizens of, and visitors to, Cottage Grove, upon the coming 4th of July. It had been the intention to invite Mr. Mahon to visit this city and have him give the people a talk upon the aims and objects of the American Mining Congress, a session of which will be held in Portland during the month of August, but as his time is well occupied with the duties pertaining to his office, it was arranged to have him come at this time when he can talk about the 4th of July, and can also give us information about the Congress; also meet our mining men.

Col Mahon does not claim to be an orator, writing on various subjects; especially the mineral resources of a country is more in his line, but having known the Col for many years, we can assure the people they will be interested in what he has to say to them.

The Right Move

The Commercial Club of Eugene did a good thing when it appointed a committee of its prominent members to visit the Blue River mining district and to investigate and report upon the present conditions and future prospects of that section. The immediate reason for the appointment of this committee was to learn if the future prospects of that district would justify the expenditure of a considerable sum of money in the improving of the wagon road, between the two points, as recently petitioned for by the residents of Blue River.

The report made by the gentlemen upon their return would seem to demand the road be built at once.

Eugene is the gateway to Blue River, as is Cottage Grove to Bohemia. Nothing will be more beneficial to the rapid development of the mines than good roads between the supply points and the mining distriet.

A Great Need.

The Nugget is not disposed to make suggestions where it involves the expenditure of money upon the part of the city, especially when the sewer bonds are to be sold and a new school house is in process of erection.

Still there is one matter which should be seriously considered by all the people who own property.

A mistake was made some years ago when a 4-inch main was laid from the water supply to the city. The rapid growth of the city was not at that time anticipated and it was thought the main would prove sufficient for all purposes. It is already proving inadequate, especially in case of fire it would most likely prove very deficient

It is said by those who have given the matter considerable thought, that by laying a twelve inch main and using the 4-inch main now in use, in extending the laterals in the city to the new residents, where water is desired, the increased income would more than pay the interest on the bonds, besides creating a sinking fund to assist in paying them when due. If this is true then the investment would not be a burden but rather a source of income. The columns of the Nugget are open for the discussion of this or any other matter pertaining to the interests of the city.

TREATMENTS OF ORES.

On the subject of gold bearing ore treatment, Mr. W. J. Adams has the following to say: "All gold bearing ore is not adapted to the free milling process, and on opening a mine this point must be definitely determinded before the reduction works are erected. An assay will determine the value, a panning test will demonstrate if any of the gold is free, and a laboratory working test will inform us of the amount that can be expected to be saved by amalgamation and concentration. But if the final tailings are still very high, some method has to be found to recover this value. Should the highest percentage remain in the tailings, cyaniding must be tried, or chlorination, if the gross value of the ore will stand the expense, while sometimes a combination of all must be used. If the ore is very high grade and refractory, as well, smelting of the mass is the proper procedure. Neither cyanogen or chlorine will iconically act on coarse gold, and both processes required crushing. If our panning tests show coarse gold, and the value is too low for smelting, we have to crush, and then, either before or after the chemical work, can secure the coarse gold by amalgamation. The greatest detriment to successful milling is the presence of tellurium compounds, except the telluride of lead and copper. These can not amalagmated to a practical efficiency and yet, if these ores, as usual, show great richness in free gold and coarse gold, they are milled, and, as a consequence, hundreds of thousands of dollars are run to waste, all of which would have been saved if the whole mass had been shipped to a smelter. Therefore examine the ore for tellurium, and if of sufficient richness ship, even though at the same time rich in free gold."—The Mining World.

PRIZES OFFERED.

Portland, Ore., June 27th, 1904.

To the People of Oregon, Greeting.

The Portland Commercial Club offers two gold medals and $200 in cash for articles in Oregon, under the following conditions:

For the best article appearing in the regular edition of any newspaper or other publication printed outside of the state of Oregon, to be competed for only by persons residing in Oregon and not living in the city of Portland, choice to be a medal or $50 in cash.

For the second best article, either the gold medal or $50 in cash, depending upon selection made by the winner of first prize.

Article winning third prize will be given $25.

Fourth prize will be $15, the fifth prize $10.

To residents of Portland a gold medal and $100 will be distributed in prizes upon exactly the same basis as the gold medal and $100 are to be distributed to residents of Oregon outside of Portland.

The reason for having these articles printed outside of the State is that we want the people away from home to know our advantages, and then we desire the Portland and Oregon papers to be relieved from any embarrassment that might arise through having to decline articles. Articles containing the expression "Webfoot" will not be allowed to comete.

The Governor of the state will be asked to appoint a committee to decide as to the winners in the state contest, while the mayor of Portland will be requested to name the committee that will select the winners in this city.

One of the chief reason for offering these prizes is to give the younger generation an opportunity to do some pleasant work during vacation. This is a busy age and no article is desired exceeding five thousand words—those of about one hundred words preferred.

No articles will be accepted in competition except where the newspaper or other publication is submitted complete. The articles submitted become the property of the Portland Commercial Club, to be used as desired.

The contest closes October 1, 1904.

We believe that there will be an interesting competition for these prizes, and feel sure that many newspapers throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico and other countries will be glad to secure interesting matter relative to the most fertile state in the Pacific Northwest. Articles in any language will be accepted.

Feeling certain that this effort will result in much good to Oregon, we are

Very truly yours,
H. H. CAKE, President
THEO B. WILCOX, Chairman Executive Com., Portland Commercial Club.
