Dancing Party.

Only a moderate attendance resulted at the dancing party given at the opera house last Friday evening. During the winter months of 1904 there was continued interest on the part of the younger set in the dances that were arranged. The spirit of Terpsichore seems naughtless to have departed from the minds of the light-stepping generation. How?

EMERGENCY MEDICINES.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in case of accident and slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite if not necessary is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn it allays the pain and eases the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a swim may be treated before inflammation sets in, which causes a quick recovery. For sale by New Era Drug Store.

DIED.

Gladys, Coel, daughter of Z. T. and Dora Collins, aged 2 years, 2 months 11 days.

Through our hearts are numb with anguish. When our loved ones, one by one cross the border land of heaven To the land of endless sun.

Though it is hard to still the yearning. Oh, we want to let them go. But our brave lips strive to utter "God knows best, the better so."

Some sweet day we'll meet together. In that happy shining land. All our loved ones standing round us. Then Ah, then we'll understand. A Friend.

LONDON BRIEFS.

Among the many interesting things that have occurred at the Oregon Mineral Springs was a banquet at the tent of the Messrs. Family. All the old pioneers at the time being at the Springs were invited. Robert and Billy Landy, Mrs. Zimmer, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young, Frank Brattain, C. Brattain and Miss Mary Brattain all living near Eugene Ore., all having been acquainted with each other for a period of fifty years. This was in all respects a reunion of old pioneers who all crossed the plains in the early fifties.

Following this was a free ice cream social given by Mrs. Hart who has charge of the Mineral Springs Hotel in which all the villagers of London were invited, to which all responded in mass and about 7:30 o'clock the spacious sitting room was filled to its utmost capacity and was entertained by Mrs. J. B. Bartle and others who rendered some good music.

After which Mrs. Hart announced the invitation to the dining room which was immediately responded to by twenty of the older ones. The repast was well prepared and a merry time was enjoyed.

There was forty one guests in attendance and all so good humoredly that we were sure there was no one to play the part of the croaker desired in this unique poem.

Berry the croaker out in the woods in a beautiful hole in the ground, where the wood pecker pecks, and builds his nest in Eugene, Ore. And the straddle bug straddles around.

VERITAS.

A TONOPAH LETTER.

Tonopah Nevada, Aug. 21st-04.

Editor Nugget. Cottage Grove, Ore. We left the Grove on the afternoon train July 27 and reached this place on Sunday evening the 31st at 9 o'clock having been delayed by a cloud burst which covered several miles of the Carson & Colorado, R. R. track with rocks and mud and washed out lots of the road bed.

To say it was a hard trip is putting it mild. On the trip from Sodaville into Tonopah after the passengers helped to fix the road bed so it was safe to go over and we thought sure we would reach our destination, one of the drivers on the engine broke leaving us with a crippled engine out on the desert with nothing to eat, excepting a lot of fruit in one end of the combination express and passenger car, to have seen the passengers helping themselves to the fruit while the Express Agent was helping repair the engine, one would have thought they were half starved.

The S. F. Examiner reported that the "passengers on the ill-fated train had to swim six miles and that the waters of the Nevada desert were strewn with dead bodies the number of which would never be known." There was not a single casualty, although a deserted mining town in the mountains back of Sodaville consisting of some fifteen or twenty houses was washed out of existence.

On last Saturday another cloud burst occurred along the line of the C. & C. road more severe than the one we were in. Workmen on the R. R. had just about succeeded in repairing the damage when another one occurred washing out the road bed again so that for five days we were without mail.

This is a very prosperous camp, although just now all the excitement is centered on Goldfield, Diamondfield and Columbia about 27 miles further on where some phenomenal strikes are being made almost every day. One of the latest is one lease where they are now sacking the dirt in the road which crosses the claim and which assays $7000.00 to the ton. The R. R. which has been built in here is not near capable of handling the business of the town, it being a narrow gauge. One mine alone having more than enough ore on the dump to keep them going for the next year, besides having one hundred and five million dollars worth blocked out.

Everything is high here common lumber $50 per m, flour $2.60 per sk, 50 lbs, potatoes 3cts lb hay $50 per ton, milk 12 1/2 per pint chickens $1.00 each, water 2cts per gallon, carpenters wages $6.00 per day 8 hrs., miners $4.00, clerks in store 12 to 16 hours $4.00.

Yours truly, E. C. LAUDER.

Special Services.

On Sunday, September 18th, a service in honor of the veterans of the Cross and Pioneers of this country, will be held at the Methodist Episcopal Church under the auspices of the Epworth League of this city.

All the veteran ministers of this section will be invited to participate in the exercises. One of the special features of the services will be an old fashioned experience meeting, where will be related, "How we used to go to church and do things."

Conveyances will be provided for any who have none would be unable to attend the services.

Invitations will be sent to the pioneers in the country for miles around
