Does not let go of you when you apply lotions or liniments. It simply loosens its hold for a while. Why? Because to get rid of it you must correct the acid condition of the blood on which it depends. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thousands.

WIZARDS OF THE POSTOFFICE.

They Work Out Tough Puzzles to Defective Addresses.
The staff of men in the New York postoffice who are called upon to guess out defective addresses are wonderfully successful at their brain-torturing tasks.

One absent-minded person addressed a letter "2242 Broadway" and it was promptly delivered to 2242 Broadway, to correct address. Not long ago O. A. Menger, the chief of the "good guessers" in the New York office, struck a letter mailed from a town in Italy, addressed in vile handwriting to "Vincenzo Marchese, Harpoon Harland, Spinal Carcinoma."

Applying the phonetic method, he quickly wrote in red ink at the bottom of the envelope, "Quarantine Station (Hospital, Hoffman Island). The next day the letter was placed in the hands of the immigrant for whom it was intended.

The Italian, Russian, Hungarian and Greek mail bring most of the "billed" addresses, which are worked out phonetically. A few recent examples of the originals, with the translations by the postal experts are:

"Strimmostr, Tonville"—Sarah Ann Street, Tompkinsville.
"Merryno"—Matthewan, N. Y.
"Htoehchtoehnoeh"—East Kingston, N. Y.

"Scotophol"—Scotch Plains. Under the name of one address appeared the following: "Chaplin Pommilian." After some study the "guesser" wrote across the envelope "Care J. Pierpont Morgan," and the letter was only delivered to an Oriental in the financier's employ.

A tougher problem was presented by this: "Hop Lee, 4 10 Colock, Complice, Texas." Long and hard study led to the conclusion that the correct reading should be "Hop Lee, Fort Hancock, Camp Rice, Texas." The letter was sent there and Hop got it.

A letter addressed to "Mr. Frederick A. Swift, with the initial 'L' beneath it, was sent to Lowell, Mass. Its intended destination.

Kentucky Man's Duty.
Jamboree, Ky., August 29 (Special)—After suffering for years with pain in the back Mr. J. M. Coleman, a well known citizen of this place, has found a complete cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills. Knowing how general this disease is all over the country, Mr. Coleman feels it is his duty to make his experience public for the benefit of other sufferers.

"I want to recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to everybody who has pain in the back," Mr. Coleman says. "I suffered for years with my back. I used Dodd's Kidney Pills and I have not felt a pain since. My little girl too complained of her back and she took about half a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and she is sound and well."

Backache is kidney ache. Dodd's Kidney Pills are a sure cure for all kidney aches, including rheumatism.

Tawritten Colonial History.
The captain of the Mayflower had given orders to reverse the engine and swing into port.

Plymouth rock was near at hand. "Why do you plan to land here?" asked William Bradford, with some acerbity.

"Why?" responded the captain, in great disgust at the other's ignorance. "If we didn't how would poultry-breeders ever get a name for their big 'domineer' chickens?"

So humiliated was he by this reply that Mr. Bradford forgot for two hours to electors for the governorship—Baltimore American.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running or itching ear, which is the result, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and when the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

They had been engaged a long time, and one evening were reading the paper together. "Look, look," he exclaimed, "only fifteen dollars for a suit of clothes!" "Is it a wedding suit?" she asked, looking nervously at her lover. "Oh, no," he replied, "it is a business suit." "Well, I meant business," she replied.

A military officer went downtown with his little daughter one morning. Before long the little lady found herself unable to keep up with her father's swinging stride, and she was obliged to cry a bit. During the late Boer war, just after the fall of Bloemfontein, soldiers were called upon, owing to the scarcity of civilians, to work the railway. The weary men were lying in camp one night, after a hard day's work, when a sergeant called out: "Any of you wish to put your name down as railway porter, driver, stoker, guard, or any other appointment connected with the railway?" The silence was broken only by snored. Then one of the men slowly raised his head. "Put me down as a sleeper!" he shouted drowsily.

A curious and amusing mixture of early piety and worldliness came to light in a city school room one day when the teacher had asked the children to write on their pads of paper something about the profession or occupation in which they would like to engage when they became men and women. One little girl wrote briefly but effectively, "I would desire to be a lady rider at a circus if it was the Lord's will." Another little girl with equally mixed ideas wrote, "Missionary, but if not that, millinery or clerk in candy store."

The Difference.
"Far as I can learn," said the Princeton philosopher, with his usual rapishness, "the only difference—excepting, of course, in the size of their bills—between the fashionable city physician, with several mysterious initials after his name, and the plain, every-day village doctor, who is commonly called 'Doc,' and swaps horses on the side, is that the former diagnoses your malady and the latter simply tells you what's the matter—that is, you s'pose they do."—Woman's Home Companion.

SLEEPING VOLCANOES
A thin, vapory smoke, lazily ascending from its crater, may be the only visible sign of life in the sleeping volcano; but within is a raging sea of fire, molten rock and sulphurous gases. Those who make their homes in the peaceful valleys below know the danger, and though frequently warned by the rumblings and quakings, these signs of impending eruption go unheeded. They are living in fancied security; when the giant awakes with deafening roars, and they are lost beneath a downpour of heated rock and scalding ashes. Thousands of blood poison sufferers are living upon a sleeping volcano, and are taking desperate chances, for under the mercury and potash treatment the external symptoms of the disease disappear, and the deluded victim is happy in the belief of a complete cure; but the fires of contagion have only been smothered in the system, and as soon as these minerals are left off will blaze up again. Occasional sores break out in the mouth, a red rash appears on the body, and these warning symptoms, if not heeded, are soon followed by fearful eruptions, sores, copper-colored spots, swollen glands, loss of hair and other sickening symptoms. Mercury and potash not only fail to cure blood poison, but cause mercurial rheumatism, necrosis of the bones, offensive ulcers and inflammation of the stomach and bowels. The use of S. S. S. is never followed by any such bad results. It cures without the slightest injury to the system. We offer $1,000 for proof that it contains a mineral of any description. S. S. S. is an antidote for contagious blood poison, it destroys every atom of the virus and purifies and strengthens the blood and builds up the general health.

Bowling Green, Ky., Mar. 24, 1902.
Gentlemen: For over four years I suffered greatly from a severe case of contagious blood poison. I went to Hot Springs, staying there for months, and procured Mercury and Potash, who prescribed Mercury. Nothing did me any good; in fact, the treatment proved more harmful than beneficial. I mentioned my case to a friend, who told me that S. S. S. had certainly cured him. I at once commenced its use, and after continuing it for some time could find no trace of the disease whatever. This was about two years ago. I can truthfully say I am entirely well.

"No," replied the other, "by being punctual in keeping my appointments with others."

A JAPANESE HERO.
All Japan has been ringing with the fame of Takeo Hirose, the first great naval hero of the Japanese-Russian war, who was killed in Admiral Togo's second attempt to block up Port Arthur. Hirose was leader of the volunteers who set out to sink their ships and, if necessary, themselves, in the mouth of the harbor. He was killed by a projectile from a Russian quick-firing gun while seeking to save the life of his friend and subordinate, Petty Officer Sugino. The New York World tells of other deeds of courage performed by Hirose.

He first proved his bravery in the war with China. After that war Lieut. Hirose, who spoke Russian and French well, was sent as naval attaché to the Japanese legation at St. Petersburg. He came into prominence there through an incident which occurred at a banquet. A Russian officer declared that the Japanese, so small of stature, could not, as individuals, hold their own in any war. Hirose smilingly defied any three Russians to overcome him at wrestling. Roars of laughter greeted the challenge, for in those days Japanese Jiu-Jitsu was not described in every newspaper.

At last, for the fun of it, the Russian officer sent for three large and sturdy soldiers. The little Japanese threw the Russians, one after another.

Hirose remained in St. Petersburg three years. The daughter of a Russian naval officer fell in love with the gallant young Japanese. Her father, who greatly admired Hirose, let it be known to him that he would not be welcome as the young girl's suitor. Hirose, who also cared for the girl, struggled with his affection for three days.

Then he wrote to her father, and pointed to the inevitable war between Russia and Japan. He said: "When my country calls me to duty I shall have to turn to account all the valuable professional hints received from your kind lips and so help to do mortal hurt to your country's navy. Thus I'll must patriotic duty make me repay all your kindness. With this in my mind and in my heart, how can I presume to sue for your daughter's hand, knowing that after the outbreak of the most likely of wars the hand of fate might destroy the happiness of your daughter in the most ruthless of ways, should I have been so happy as to have won her hand."

Hirose in his poetic temperament as well as in his dauntless spirit truly represented the old warrior class of Japan, the Samurai.

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order Good Templars, of Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help me. It took patience and perseverance for I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine."
"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced."—Mrs. IDA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass. Worthy Vice Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars.
When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?"
Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. You have some derangement of the feminine organism, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as surely as it has others.
Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., says:
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I might have spared many months of suffering and pain if I had known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a few months sooner, for I tried many remedies without finding anything which helped me before I tried the Vegetable Compound. I dreaded the approach of the menstrual period every month, as it meant much suffering and pain. Some months the flow was very scanty and others it was profuse, but after I had used the Compound for two months I became regular and natural, and so I continued until I felt perfectly well, and the parts were strengthened to perform the work without assistance and pain. I am like a different woman now, where before I did not care to live, and I am pleased to testify as to the good your Vegetable Compound has done for me."
Sincerely yours, Mrs. TILLIE HART, Larimore, N. D.
Be it, therefore, believed by all women who are ill that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they should take. It has stood the test of time, and it has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit. Women should consider it unwise to use any other medicine.
Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women. Perhaps she has just the knowledge that will help your case—try her to-day—it costs nothing.

P. Q. DEPARTMENT IS BUSY.

Many Changes Made in Names of Old and Familiar Offices.
The Postoffice Department has been playing havoc with the old familiar names of offices throughout the country. It has been obliged to discontinue the mail service at New York. To be sure, it is not the New York of the Great White Alley whose postal facilities have been cut off, but a town of somewhat smaller size, in the State of Iowa. It has also been the unhappiness of the people of Rock Branch, in the same commonwealth, to lose their postoffice, and the records have been transferred to Correctionville. Ominous name! Let us hope the records are straight.

In Michigan the Department has amended the name Sault de Ste. Marie into Sault Ste. Marie, and it has established the office of Italy and Ilescu, in Minnesota that noble of-fice known for years as Proctorville has been shorn of its final syllable, and the famous orator is known only by his Christian name upon the mailing lists now. Skog is a new name in Minnesota, and a good one. In Mississippi Chunksy Station has been transferred into Chunky. In Oregon Needy has been stricken from the list, and in Pennsylvania Arcadia has been established.

In the Philippines Masbate has been discontinued. Equality has been established in South Carolina and a new Bunker Hill has arisen in Tennessee. Doeville has also sprouted in Tennessee, and there the much-sought John may have his home.

In Texas Hawley has been transferred into Hiesling and an Arp has appeared, doubtless a modest tribute to the humorous gentleman of that pseudonym. Virginia has a new Dot, a Pilot and a School, but has lost a Cool Well and a Dell.

Correspondents who have hitherto addressed foreign letters to Beulah, Landyast, must now use larger envelopes and write to Beulah, Newcastle, Klyn, Carmarthenshire. Likewise Llyweddafydd, New Quay, Cardiganshire.

Why has West Lias, Hants, been complicated into West Lias, East Lias, Hants? And why has Tysertofenstun, Cape Colony, been "erased from the list"? Does the change of Victoria West Road to Hutchinson indicate a disloyal tendency in the colony?

The Postoffice Department is always busy changing names, establishing, discontinuing, moving offices, reforming their spelling and generally keeping them in order. For light summer reading try the "United States Official Postal Guide," whose yellow covers appropriately hint at its interesting contents.—New York Sun.
