The Chattanooga Medicine Company, with laboratories and general offices at Chattanooga, Tennessee, and branch houses at St Louis, Mo., and San Francisco, Cal., has become one of the largest proprietary medicine concerns in the world. In the growth of this great business two factors have been dominant: The merit of its products—Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught—has been widely recognized and the original advertising methods adopted have excited great comment. The publicity for these medicines does not consist of the catch phrase and extravagant statement, too often employed in advertising today, but instead the plain story of experience with the medicines given in the plain language of the pe ple themselves. The following latter is a fair sample of the thousands of Wine of Cardui testimonials published during the past twenty years. during the past twenty years.
