Startling Area of Coal Fields

It is estimated by experts that the area of American coal fields, at present open to mining, is more than five times as great as that of the coal fields of England, France, Germany and Belgium; the great coal producing countries of Europe. While practically all the available coal areas of those countries have been opened to mining, ours have scarcely been estimated. When we take into consideration the fact that coal is one of the great motive powers in the manufacturing world, it is evident that this immense wealth of coal will be of such an advantage to the United States as to be beyond any man's calculation.—Success.

The Earth's Diameter

Although the diameter of the earth has been roughly known for many years, it has lately been accurately ascertained after thirty years' labor and at a cost of $500,000. It is 7,926 miles at the equator and 7,860 from pole to pole.

Only the King of Korea may rear goats or have round columns and square rafters to his house or wear a coat of brilliant red. Only the King may look upon the faces of the Queen's hundreds of attendant ladies or have any building outside of which there are more than three steps. Four steps would be high treason and would cost their owner a traitor's death.—Clipping.

MALARIA IN THE SYSTEM

Holly Springs, Miss., March 24, 1903. While building railroads in Tennessee some twelve years ago a number of hands contracted fever and various forms of blood and skin diseases. I learned S. S. S. in my commissary and gave it to my hands with most gratifying results. I can recommend S. S. S. as the finest preparation for Malaria, chills and fever, as well as all blood and skin diseases. W. I. MCGOWAN.

I suffered greatly from Bells, which would break out on different parts of my body. I saw S. S. S. advertised and after using about three bottles I was cured, and for the last three years have had no trouble whatever. A. W. ZIMMER, 217 Read St., Evansville, Ind.

I began using your S. S. S. probably ten years ago for Malaria and blood troubles, and it proved so good that I have continued ever since using it as a family remedy. It is a pleasure for me to recommend S. S. S. for the benefit of others who are suffering a first case of blood purifier, tonic and cure for Malaria. Arkansas City, Ark. C. C. HEMINGWAY.

JOHN CHINAMAN AT HIS EASE.

Celestial Dignified When He Casts Off the Care of the World.

With the summer weather the Chinaman comes before us prominent in his artistic silks and in his native nakedness. His temperament also becomes a noticeable feature to the observant foreigner and the manner in which he takes his pleasure contrasts markedly with that of the energetic occidental human being.

In the early hours of the morning, when the rays of old sol are tempered with the dissipating dews of night, the wealthy native, as well as the worker of low degree, may be seen carrying the egg containing his favorite snigling bird to the native gardens or other tree-embowered spot and listening in contemplative ecstasy to the joyous greeting which his caged friend pours forth to the coming glory of the day.

As soon as the golden beams become oppressive he retires to his domicile, whether to labor or sleep 'tis hard to tell. In any case, he is wise, for he has not sought the beauty of the grandest part of a summer's day, the majesty of dawn! Again, when sunset's glow has fallen dead in the West, the Chinaman pours forth to his diversion. To stand for hours with varying fan on the curb of our city's thoroughfares watching the procession of vehicular and pedestrian traffic brings him apparently the delight which a Londoner can obtain from a lord mayor's show, daily repeated, while a volunteer proportionate to the metropolis' myriads called out by a royal pageant.

Thus in dignified, contemplative manner does the Chinaman display his idiosyncrasy of pleasure-taking. Again, the native of younger blood, imbued with a tinge of foreign taste, rushes madly through the streets on the warring wheel or drives, luxuriously reclining in his smartly appointed carriage, behind the fastest trotting pony, steered by a reckless native jehu, which his means are able to procure.

The visitor to the various public resorts of the Chinese in the settlements will invariably gain an interesting insight into the Chinaman and his pleasure-taking, and one striking feature cannot pass unnoticed. Whether coolie, merchant, office boy or mandarin in public, the Chinaman at play is invariably respectable. One hears much of the native immorality, but decorum when in the public eye, and absolutely moral behavior characterizes even the biggest rake among the Chinamen of our settlements. Drunkenness is a vice which is usually kept within doors, as are all other reprehensible practices.

Quarreling is almost an unknown thing in public resorts. Never does one witness anything approaching the college student of Europe on the rampage, or 'Arriet on a bank holiday. The Chinaman takes his pleasure as he takes his business, with a calm, calculating philosophy, which constitutes one of his greatest variations from the habit of mind of the vicious European.—Shanghai Times.

Bones of Ancient Red Men

The skeletons of two full-grown Indians have been unearthed by Professor William H. Hoag, of the Minnesota State University, at his summer home on Big Island, Lake Minnetonka, says the Minneapolis Tribune.

Professor Hoag was digging in the high bank on which the house is situated at the west or upper end of the island for a set of new steps for the wharf below. About two feet from the top of the bluff and a short distance under the dirt bones were discovered, and when all had been collected two perfectly preserved skeletons were laid side by side on the grass. Several round stones, supposed to be Indian money or implements, were also found.

The skulls of the Indians were especially well preserved, and it was by these that their identity as Indians was made possible. The high cheek bones show this beyond a doubt. How long they have lain in their graves overlooking the lake cannot be ascertained, the dryness of the sand at the height above the water at which the bodies were found being given as a reason for their perfect preservation.

Similar relics of the former lake dwellers have been found at different points around the lake and also on Big Island, but the new discovery is one of the largest single finds that has been made. That part of the island directly faces the setting sun, and it is believed that it was for that reason a favorite burying ground of the tribes that once populated the shores of the lake.

One of the skulls found by Professor Hoag contains a full set of perfectly preserved teeth.

Don't Exactly Know

It is generally supposed that the average Chicagoan knows something about music. He certainly has had enough of it thrown in his way. This being the greatest musical center on the American continent, most people have been acquainted at least with the names of the great composers. But there are still some who get things a little mixed.

Standing in front of the new Thomas orchestra building on Michigan avenue one day last week were three well-dressed men. One of them was reading the names inscribed in the stone facade of the building.

"Bech," he read, "Beethoven, Mozart, Wagner, Schubert."

Here he paused for a second, and then, turning to his two companions, asked:

"Is that the same Schubert that's mixed up in the theatrical business?" "I guess it is," said one of the other men.

"Now," said the third man, "I've heard my wife speak about the fellow whose name's out up there. I think he's one of those long-haired German oboe players."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

GOVERNOR OF OREGON

Uses Pe-ru-na For Colds and Excellent In His Family Finds It an Remedy.

The magnificent State Capitol Building at Salem, Oregon.

Pe-ru-na is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Letters of congratulation and commendation testifying to the merits of Pe-ru-na as a catharrh remedy are pouring in from every state in the Union.

Dr. Hartman is receiving hundreds of such letters daily. All classes write these letters, from the highest to the lowest.

The outdoor laborer, the indoor artisan, the clerk, the editor, the statesman, the preacher—all agree that Pe-ru-na is the catharrh remedy of the age.

The steps and rostrum, recognizing catharrh as their greatest enemy, are especially enthusiastic in their praise and testimony.

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catharrh. Catharrh is well nigh universal; almost omnipresent.

Pe-ru-na is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catharrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catharrh of its victims.

Pe-ru-na not only cures catharrh, but prevents it. Every household should be supplied with this great remedy for coughs, colds and so forth.

The ex-governor of Oregon is an ardent admirer of Pe-ru-na. He keeps it continually in the house.

CARAVAN ROAD 5,000 YEARS.

Scenes Along One of Most Ancient Highways in the World. The road from Hama to Hama runs almost due north, a straight white line cutting across the green fields. It is one of the oldest roads in the world. Caravans have been passing along it for at least 5,000 years. Just as we saw them—long strings of slow moving camels with their bright colored bags of wheat.

One could almost imagine that Pharaoh was again calling down the corn of Hamath to fill his granaries against the seven years of famine. But even here the old things are passing. Just beyond the long line of camels was a longer line of fellah women, their dirty blue robes lifted above their knees, carrying upon their shoulders baskets of earth and stone for the roadbed of the new French railway. The carriages of the French, too, and a very good road it is. Some men were repairing it with its most ingenious roller. It was a great round stone, drawn by two oxen, and having its axle prolonged by a 20-foot pole, at the end of which a bare-legged Arab was fastened to balance the whole affair. If the stone had toppled over, the picture of the Arab dangling at the top of the slender flagstaff would have been worth watching.

All along the ride we were reminded of the past. It is a fertile soil; but the very wheat fields are different from ours. Only a few yards in width, they are often of tremendous length. I hesitate to commit myself to figures; but it is certain that the thin, green fields would stretch away in the distance until lost over some little elevation. At one place the road was cut through a hill honeycombed with rock tombs, which the haj said were Jewish. Every now and then we passed a tall, or great hemispherical mound, built up of the rubbish of a dozen ruined towns; for even as late as Roman times this was a well-cultivated and populous country. There is now no lumber available for building purposes, and in a number of villages the houses are all built with conical roofs of stone. Where the rock happens to be of a reddish tinge, the houses remind one of nothing so much as a collection of Indian wigwags; where the stone is white, as at Tell el-Bsheh, it glitters and sparkles like a fairy city cut out of loaf sugar.—Scribner's Magazine.

Miss Rose Peterson, Secretary Parkdale Tennis Club, Chicago, from experience advises all young girls who have pains and sickness peculiar to their sex, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many beautiful young girls develop into worn, listless and hopeless women, simply because sufficient attention has not been paid to their physical development. No woman is exempt from physical weakness and periodic pain, and young girls just budding into womanhood should be carefully guided physically as well as morally. Another woman, Miss Hannah E. Merriam, Colingswood, N.J., says:

"I thought I would write and tell you that, by following your kind advice, I feel like a new person. I was always thin and delicate, and so weak that I could hardly do anything. Menstruation was irregular.

"I tried a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and began to feel better right away. I continued its use, and am now well and strong, and menstruate regularly. I cannot say enough for what your medicine did for me."—$5000 profit if original of above letter proving usefulness compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure any woman in the land who suffers from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, and kidney troubles.

MONEY HIDDEN IN BOTTLES.

Queer Freak of Two Brothers Who Owned an English Inn.

An interesting little treasure hunt is causing some excitement in a Staffordshire village, says the London Mail. The treasure hunters are not rushing round with surveyors' chains and pickaxes, but they search very patiently and very persistently in old bottles and stockings, pieces of newspapers and in black bottles. They are searching for the accumulated wealth of one Joseph Atwood, who, with his brother, kept the Vine Inn at Delph, Brierley Hill. Joseph died not long ago, and his brother being unable to transact the business it was transferred.

The brothers Atwood had curious ideas as to the conduct of their business and the employment of capital—ideas which would commend themselves to no self-respecting economist. When the elder brother died there was a hunt for the money which it was known he had saved. In one of the rooms, which had not been opened for fifteen years, £500 in gold was found, stowed away in corners of the room.

Hundreds of silver coins were found, corked up in gin bottles and beer jars. Half a hundredweight of coppers was found hidden in nooks and crannies, old gloves, stockings, paper bags and envelopes and rolled up in tea lead. Checks which had never been presented; a woman's watch and a very old hunting watch were also discovered.

Altogether £200 has been found in various parts of the house. When the treasure-seekers have torn down the walls, ripped up the floors and searched under the soot in the chimneys, claims will be pegged out in the garden.
