A Pleasant Party.

On Monday evening a charming "Mother Goose" party in honor of Miss Mary Curran of Roseburg, at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. S. Benson, near South Fifth street. Each one receiving an invitation was told to wear some emblem representing a "Mother Goose" rhyme, and some worn were both unique and pretty. Partners were matched for the guessing contest by ribbon buttonholes and neat score cards were furnished each having on the front a pen and ink drawing illustrative of a rhyme. These must be guessed as well as the emblems worn by each of the company.

At the close of the contest, Misses Neva Perkins, Louise Newland and Elsie Lea were declared the winners of the 1st prize, and were each presented with a dainty plate. Mr. J. J. Jones and Miss Lillian Hart secured the consolation prizes. Colored books of Mother Goose rhymes.

Light refreshments were served. A highly enjoyable evening was spent by all present, who voted Mrs. Benson to be a delightful hostess.

Commercial Club.

The Commercial club met at the regular hour Monday night.

The secretary read several communications concerning the question of freight rates, creamery and other subjects being discussed by the club.

The committee appointed to pass upon the essays for which prizes had been offered, reported: That the essays as submitted, did not meet in any respect the requirements or conditions for which the prizes were offered, together with the recommendation that all be rejected.

The report of the committee was adopted.

By motion club adjourned to meet Friday night, at which time all members are requested to be present.

Has a New Carpet.

The Ladies of the Aid Society of the M. E. Church have desired for some time past to carpet the entire floor of their church.

They recently found sufficient funds in the treasury to carry out the plan and a handsome carpet, costing nearly $200 was purchased. Monday the gentlemen of the congregation were called upon to put the carpet in place. The carpeting of the floor is a great addition to the already well furnished church.

Blaine Jackson returned to his work at the Vesuvius on Monday.

Essay on Cottage Grove by Jean Darwood.

Cottage Grove is situated in the valley of the Coast Fork of the Willamette river. Its population is about 2300. It has two large school buildings, one on each side of the river.

The one on the east side of the river has nine rooms and the one on the west side has eight rooms.

Cottage Grove is growing very rapidly. It has four churches, the Christian, the Methodist, the Presbyterian, and the Catholic. It has many large stores and a new bank building.

There is a good flour mill and a saw mill in town. There are four or five hotels and a number of boarding houses.

There is a good walk all the way to the cemetery which is about a mile from the center of Cottage Grove.

The hills around Cottage Grove yield pine, fir, cedar and a few hemlock trees. In the valley are quite a number of oak trees and on the small hills are laurel trees. There are many saw mills on the hills near Cottage Grove, and on these hills are many rhododendron bushes on which grow very pretty pink flowers.

Cottage Grove is about thirty five miles from the Bohemia gold mines. There is a railroad up for about eighteen or twenty miles from Cottage Grove. Black Butte, a large quick-silver mine, is about eighteen miles from the city.

The climate of Cottage Grove is very pleasant. The temperature hardly ever goes above one hundred and five in the summer and there is never more than a foot of snow in the coldest part of the winter.

It rains a good deal in the winter but it isn't the cold, driving rain that we get in the eastern states. Whenever it begins to rain it gets warmer and the rain generally comes straight down, but it comes so softly you hardly know it is raining at all.

There are many prune orchards around Cottage Grove, and fine peaches have been raised near there that measure nine inches.

It is a great rest for any one who has come from one of the cold states to be able to see green grass and green trees any time in the year.

Cottage Grove is about twenty miles from the city of Eugene where the state university is.

The hills around Cottage Grove have good pasturage for goats and many are raised here.

They are mostly of the Angora breed.

When the farmers want the brush cleared off their land all they have to do is to let the goats in there and they clean it off as slick as a man could.

There are two good stations at Cottage Grove, there are also three or four reservoirs on the hills close to the city.

It seems queer to the folks who have used coal all their lives to come here and see the folks burning wood.

Some of the Oregonian children have never seen coal.

There are two trees on the reservoir hill nearest town which take five children, about ten years old, to reach around.

There are many trees in the woods that measure four or five feet at the base.

JEAN DARWOOD.

Women of Woodcraft.

St. Valentine Circle, No. 121, gave a very pleasant entertainment at Woodman Hall Monday night. A fair sized audience was in attendance to witness the moving pictures and scenes of Oregon, Colorado and other states, also to listen to songs by phonograph. The circle is composed of the prominent ladies of the city and is quite prosperous.

W. O. W.

On Saturday night Bohemia Camp, Woodmen of the World, installed the following officers:

- Lincoln Taylor, Con. Com.
- J. C. Huff, Advisor
- Wm. B. Root, Banker.
- C. H. VanDenberg, Clerk.
- N. J. Huff, Escort.
- L. J. Baker, Watchman.

Following the installation, a fine euch was spread and enjoyed by the members.

Blaine Jackson returned to his work at the Vesuvius on Monday.

State Legislature.

The twenty third biennial legislature of Oregon opened at Salem Monday. A. R. Mills was chosen speaker of the lower House.

In the Senate the latest news received there was a deadlock for president. Senator Kaykendall, of Eugene lacked but one vote of securing the plum.

Recalled Injunction.

Judge G. R. Christman, who recently granted a temporary injunction restraining the Cottage Grove school board from paying teachers new teaching in the district above the eight grade, on Tuesday recalled the injunction and will probably soon set a date for the hearing of the case.

Officers Suspended.

President Roosevelt has, by request of District Attorney Henry suspended from office, Receiver J. H. Booth and J. T. Bridges at the land office at Roseburg.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS.

The fault of giving children medicine containing injurious substances, is sometimes more disastrous than the disease from which they are suffering. Every mother should know that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly safe for children to take. It contains nothing harmful and for coughs, colds and croup is unsurpassed. For sale by the Modern Pharmacy.

Next Sunday's Meetings.

It is expected that E. B. McAllister, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League will spend Sunday in Cottage Grove. He will lecture at the Presbyterian Church at 11 a. m., at the Christian Church at 2 p. m., and at the M. E. Church at 7:30 p. m.

Found.

C. Haase has found some money. The person calling at the First National Bank and describing the same, can get it by paying for this advertisement.

Mrs. Addie Cleaver, of Prairie City, has returned home after a visit in this city and at Eugene.

The Evening Telegram printed a new dispatch last week containing a startling statement. A man named Goeruke was stabbed to death by one named Thompson near Condon, and the dispatch reads: "Goeruke made a post-mortem statement, naming Thompson as his assailant." That dead men tell no tales must be a back number.

SAVED FROM TERRIBLE DEATH.
The family of Mrs. M. L. Robbitt of Barzerton, Tenn., saw her dying and were powerless to save her. The most skillful physicians and every remedy used, failed, while consumption was slowly but surely taking her life. In this terrible hour Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption turned despair into joy. The first bottle brought immediate relief and the continued use completely cured her. It's the most certain cure in the world for all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed Bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles Free at Benson's Pharmacy.

CLIMATIC CURES.
The influence of climatic conditions in the cure of consumption is very much overrated. The poor patient, and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectation in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweats. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of the consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate, you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists. German Hemenway.
