

WALL STREET MINING.

RECENT developments in Wall Street in the matter of the bankruptcy proceedings against Monroe & Monroe, stock brokers and promoters, have disclosed the inwardness of some of the "mining" operations in New York. It seems that this firm is backing the Montreal & Boston Mining company of British Columbia. The stock was manipulated to a price of four dollars per share and when Lawson took a whack at "copper" recently the stock went down from the high mark to practically nothing. Monroe & Monroe, in an effort to keep up the market, bought and offered stock as far as possible and in order to secure capital to create a fictitious market, arranged to borrow $60,000 daily for eight successive days from a leading bank, the casher of which is one of the underwriters of the M. & B. stock. With this money from the bank the brokers got in on both sides of the market and endeavored to stay the falling price, by what is known as "wash sales." Of course in the end the brokers were unable to accept all the offered stock at the fictitious price that they had created and a receiver was appointed. We have no means of knowing whether the Montreal & Boston stock is worth five cents or ten dollars, but the disclosure in the court proceedings, now under way, as to the manipulation of the market for this stock and the relation of reputable financial concerns to such a questionable practice casts an interesting light on the rotten places in Wall Street finance, high and low. It has been disclosed that the original capital of the syndicate was only 11,600 and its elaborate offices were furnished on the installment plan. It is safe to say that not one dollar of the money raised by this flotation ever went into the ground, and if the public had been more successfully gouged it is questionable whether any then would have found its way into the mine.

This disclosure will help legitimate mining by rousing the people to the practice of these frenzied financiers and the result in the end will be altogether beneficial. Of course, legitimate enterprises will be discredited, too, in this general exposure, but the sooner these fraudulent practices and swindling operations by the Wall Street "miners" are thrown in the lime light of publicity the better it is for all legitimate business.—Mining World.

OREGON ORES REQUIRE DIFFERENT TREATMENT.

THE New York Commercial publishes on the 7th instant an annual mining review, in which appeared the following from General Manager Fuller, of the Sumpter smelter:

The mining outlook in Oregon is excellent. The completion and operation of the new Sumpter smelter has given the producing properties of the district an opportunity to ship their ores to us in the shape of concentrates and crude ore. The smelter, which has been operating on one shift a day, will soon start to run on its full capacity of 100 tons per day. When in full blast this means that the various mines that are contributing ore to the smelter will receive about $3,500 per day.

A peculiar feature of the mine development in this state is shown by the fact that the character of the ore has changed, so that a new process must be submitted to properly treat the ores. Heretofore, most of the ores have been free-milling, and the mining men of the state are slow in realizing the necessity of changing their mills so as to treat their ores to the best advantage.

The product of the mines during the year was smaller than the 1903 output, but 1905 will show a substantial increase over 1903. The Sumpter district suffered through the year through the revelations that have occurred in connection with the affairs of the Red Boy and Gelconda companies, but with the re-organizations which are under way the properties should again enter the producing list. I would estimate that about sixty companies are operating properties in this vicinity.

AFRAID OF STRONG MEDICINES.

Many people suffer for years from rheumatic pains, and prefer to do so rather than take the strong medicines usually given for rheumatism, not knowing that quick relief from pain may be had simply by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm and without taking any medicine internally. GEMS IN VERSE

Only a Baby.
Something to live for came to the place,
Something to die for maybe,
Something to give even sorrow a grace,
And yet it was only a baby!
Cooling and laughter and gurgle and cry,
Dimples for tenderest kisses;
Chaos of hopes and of raptures and sighs,
Chaos of fears and of blisses,
Lost you like all years, the same and the same;
This year a wilderness maybe,
But heaven stooped under the roof on the morn,
That it brought there only a baby,
—Woman's Life.

Denies Complicity.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Senator Mitchell, commenting on the new indictment returned against him yesterday, made the following statement today:
"When Francis J. Heney gets through with his character-blackening process, and court shall meet in April, I shall be on hand, if living and well, in Portland to meet in the open, before court and jury, Heney and his allies and all accusers and accusations which in any wise seek to connect me with any land frauds, bribery or other offense. Of the final outcome I have not the slightest fear, but in the meantime I assert in the most positive manner: I never in my life had any conversation with Frederick A. Kribs in reference to any lands or any other business matter.

"I am equally positive in the statement that I never received from Kribs or any other person for him, directly or indirectly, any checks or checks for any amount whatever, either on the Roseburg Bank or any other bank, in consideration for any services rendered or to be rendered by me as Senator or otherwise, or for any purpose whatever."

Senator Mitchell says he welcomes searching investigations of every charge against him, saying nothing but distorted and misconstrued innocent acts of his, "sought to be supported by the testimony of convicted felons," can connect him with land frauds.

He says Kribs never contacted with him for the services of A. H. Tanner and himself to appear for him before the Land Office, because his partnership with Tanner stipulated that he (Mitchell) could not be interested in department business.

POISONS IN FOOD.

An Aid to Exhaustiveness.

"How do you like this climate?" "First rate," answered the native. "It's so full of malaria an' things that folks that won't bora here don't generally stay long, an' it kind of keeps the society clear of immigrants."—Washington Star.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY THE MOTHER'S FAVORITE.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of small children, for colds, croup and whooping cough, and as it always affords quick relief, and as it contains no opium or other harmful drug, it may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. Hurrying up the Baby.
A correspondent sends us an extract from a poem which recently appeared in a South African paper, thinking we shall approve of its sentiments. We do, we do. The inspired verse is entitled "Making a Man" and begins:
Hurry the baby as fast as you can,
Hurry him, worry him, make him a man;
Off with his baby clothes, get him in pants,
Feed him on brain foods and make him advance;
Hustle him, soon as he's able to walk
Into a grammar school, cram him with talk;
Fill his poor head full of figures and facts,
Keep on a-jambing them in till it cracks.

GRAVE TROUBLE FORESEEN.
It needs but little foresight, to tell, that when your stomach and liver are badly affected, grave trouble is ahead, unless you take the proper medicine for your trouble, as Mrs. John A. Young, of Clay, N. Y., did. She says: "I had nervousness of the liver and stomach, my heart was weakened, and I could not eat. I was very bad for a long time, but in Electric Bitters, I found just what I needed, for they quickly relieved and cured me." Best medicine for weak women. Sold under guarantee by Benson's Pharmacy, druggist, at 50c a bottle.

SICK HEADACHE.
This distressing ailment results from a disordered condition of the stomach. All that is needed to effect a cure is a dose of two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. In fact, the attack may be warded off, or greatly lessened in severity, by taking a dose of these Tablets as soon as the first symptom of an attack appears. Sold by The Modern Pharmacy.
