

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

A Very Hard Man.
"I am really and sincerely proud of the common people," said Mr. Pomphrey. "I am fond of the plain, everyday fellow who can never hope to be great. Call it Quixotism, if you wish."
"Oh, I wouldn't say that," interrupted Peppery. "I'd call it egotism."—Philadelphia Press.

"Say, pa," quizzed the Councilman's small son, "is it true that George Washington never told a lie?"
"I have no reason to doubt it, my son," answered the local statesman.
"Then," continued the little fellow, "how did he manage to get such a pull in politics?"

Against a Cat-Astrophe.

Frank R. Stockton's "Reformed Pirate" had a harmless and absorbing occupation. To keep himself out of mischief, he had taken to knitting tidies. M. A. P. says that among the classes held at the East End of London for the instruction of the poor was one devoted to ambulance work.

One day a woman came to say that her husband had been drinking immoderately, and to beg that something might be done for him. A clergyman sought him out, persuaded him to become a member of the club, and put him into the ambulance class.

In a short time the man became earnest in the work, and was a regular attendant.

"How is your man doing now?" asked the clergyman, the next time he met the wife.

"He never goes to the 'pub,' sir," said she, proudly. "He spends his evenings at home, bandaging the cat."

Rated to Do It.
During the last congressional campaign the candidates for the honor of representing a certain East Tennessee district, says the Washington Post, gathered to meet the voters at a country courthouse.

There was a rough-looking old mountaineer in the audience. He looked over the aspirants on the platform with a critical eye. One of them had done him several favors, and he felt in duty bound to vote for him.

"Not a very promising lot, are they?" he remarked in an audible whisper to a man three seats away.

"Then's only the kind we used to run for constable when I was a boy. There's my candidate—that yaller-headed chap, third from this end. I've got to vote for him, but I'd give ten dollars if I hadn't seen him first."

For bronchial troubles try Pico's Cure for Consumption. It is a good cough medicine. At drug stores, price 25 cents.

It is literally true that a new broom sweeps clean. If a new broom is examined, the ends of the straws will be found to be straight and the brush square. After it has been used a while the ends split and become sharp, and the shape of the brush becomes irregular. To renew the youth of the broom dip in hot soap and trim the softened straws to the proper shape.

United States' Great Wealth.
The world transacts its business, according to the annual report of the director of the United States mint, on a stock of gold money amounting to $5,000,000,000. Of that total, the United States possesses $1,300,000,000. That means that in this republic, with about one-twentieth of the population of the world, we have almost one-quarter of all the gold money there is.

Oldun—What a terrible cyclone we had last night!
Newpop—Did we?
Oldun—Good heavens, man, didn't you hear it?
Newpop—No; our baby is cutting teeth.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Lizards that Walk on Two Feet.
Lizards of several sorts can walk and run easily on their hind legs. The Australian water lizard, which is three or four feet in length, keeps quite erect when traversing long distances on land. It is found in the neighborhood of river banks and passes much of its time in shallow water.

The frilled lizard of Queensland also travels on its hind legs on level ground, keeping the frill folded while running. When attacked it expands this fold of skin, which stands out like a ruff at right angles round the neck, giving it a formidable aspect, so that dogs that attack and kill larger lizards will often retreat before a frilled lizard at bay.

There is also a tree lizard in Australia that moves in a similar way.

All these species walk on all fours when merely moving about or going short distances.

Firemen rush into a house in response to an alarm of fire—are met by a small boy. Ralph—Say, if the house burns down, don't save my flannels—'cause they scratch me.—Life.

Lena—Fred didn't blow his brains out because you jilted him the other night; he came and proposed to me. Maud—Did he? Then he must have got rid of them in some other way!

Mr. Skinfint—The paper says skirts are to be worn longer than ever! Mrs. Skinfint—Well, you needn't be 'figgerin' on me wearin' mine any longer. I've worn it five years this fall already.

Some one asked Lincoln how long a man's legs should be. He replied he had not given the subject any thought, but should say they should be long enough to reach from his body to the ground.

"You kin help de cause of honesty a heap," said Uncle Eben, "by preachin' about it, but you kin help it a heap mo' by not danglin' your chicken under a hungry man's nose."—Washington Star.

"Billings' wife is a most accomplished woman," remarked the man who sneers. "Indeed!" "Yes; she understands five languages and knows how to keep quiet in all of them."—Washington Star.

"Is your friend a good shot?" "Yes," answered the sportsman after some hesitation. "He never hits any game, but then he never hits any of the people in his hunting party, either."—Washington Star.

Medium—I can tell you about a buried treasure. Patron—Please don't! My husband is always tooting that in my ears. Medium—Does he know anything about a buried treasure? Patron—Yes; his first wife.—Tit-Bits.

"You say he has a visionary and impractical nature?" "Yes," answered the girl who is employed in the postoffice; "he is one of those people who write 'rush' on an envelope instead of putting on a special delivery stamp."—Washington Star.

"The trouble," said the dentist, as he probed away at the aching molar with along slender instrument, "is evidently due to a dying nerve." "Well," groaned the victim, "it's up to you to treat the dying with a little more respect."—Chicago News.

Young Man—Say, you—er—remember the engagement ring I bought of you yesterday? Jeweler—Yes. What's wrong with it? Young Man—Nothing; but there's something wrong with the girl. Would you mind taking it back and giving me collar buttons for it?

Mrs. Mulgrew—Are ye goin' to send yer boy Tommy back to school this week? Mrs. O'Donoghue—No, indeed. Me ambition is to make an aldherman of him phwin he grows up, an' if he got too much education he'd be shipped for the position intirely.—Tit-Bits.

"What are you doing here?" said the woman to the tramp, who had got over the wall just in time to escape the bullock. "Madam," he said, with dignity, "I did intend to request something to eat, but all I ask now is that, in the interests of humanity, you'll feed that dog."

A demonstration: Jim—Dora's father is an awful fresh-air crank. Dick—How do you know? Jim—He turned me right out of the house into the cold air the other evening, and told me that it would be a good deal better for my health to stay there!—Detroit Free Press.

Mr. Lionel Brough tells a story of Douglas Jerrold which is not too well known. The wit and a friend were discussing a mutual acquaintance notable for his want of cleanliness. "How comes it," asked the friend, "that so-and-so always has such dirty hands?" "I expect," said Jerrold, "it is owing to his habit of running them over his face!"

A Disappointing Occasion.

"How was the lecture?" demanded Mrs. Sawin, with the impatience of one who had been denied a coveted pleasure, as Mr. Sawin stopped to remove his overshoes before entering the sitting room. "My cold's a sight better, I believe I might have gone 's well as not."

"I guess you did well to remain at home," said her husband, as he seated himself before the stove, "as far forth as the lecture was concerned. The entertainment opened with a selection by the band, then prayer by the Congregational minister, then the band again, then a song by the Methodist minister, accompanied by his wife at the cabinet organ, and then the lecture; after that the band once more, and then the benediction by the Episcopal minister.

"Well, what about the lecture?" asked Mrs. Sawin. "I can hear ministers any day."

"The lecture was on Scotland," said Mr. Sawin, slowly. "I never felt much drawn to Scotland, and I guess after to-night I shall give up all thoughts of ever going there. Folks that haven't got any more idea of the English language after all these years need a missionary, but I don't feel any call to be one. And as for their houses, there wasn't one single good two-story frame building in all the stereoptics that man thrown on the sheet. If it hadn't been for the band, I should almost have felt I'd wasted my 15 cents' admission."

Very Awkward.
Mrs. Norton came home from a call one day in such a disturbed condition that it was evident tears were not far in the background. She lost no time in beginning her explanation.

"John," she said to her husband, "I am so mortified I don't know what to do."

"What is the matter, my dear?" asked Mr. Norton.

"I have been calling on Mrs. Peverell. You know her husband, Major Peverell?"

"Yes."

"Well, I have just learned to-day, to my horror, that 'Major' isn't his title at all. 'Major' is his first name."

"Why, certainly. I've always known that. What is there so mortifying about that?"

"Nothing," said Mrs. Norton, with a groan, "only that I've been calling him 'Major' every time I've met him for the last six months!"

Those Loving Girls.
Edith—Was Charlie cool and collected when he proposed to you?
Mayme—No; he was awfully rattled.
Edith—Well, I always thought he had a screw loose somewhere.

"Hey!" shouted the rich man, peering cautiously over the stairway, "I want you."
"Well," chuckled the burglar, reach-

QUEEN OF AGTRESSSES PRAISES PE-RU-NA

MISS JULIA MARLOWE
Heartily Approves of Peruna for the Nerves.

In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., Miss Julia Marlowe, of New York City, writes the following:

"I am glad to write my endorsement of the great remedy, Peruna, as a nerve tonic. I do so most heartily."—Julia Marlowe.

Nervousness is very common among women. This condition is due to anemic nerve centers. The nerve centers are the reservoirs of nervous vitality. These centers become bloodless for want of proper nutrition.

This is especially true in the spring season. Every spring a host of invalids are produced as the direct result of weak nerves.

This can be easily obviated by using Peruna. Peruna strikes at the root of the difficulty by correcting the digestion. Digestion furnishes nutrition for the nerve centers. Properly digested food furnishes these reservoirs of life with vitality which leads to strong, steady nerves and thus enriches life.

Peruna is in great favor among women, especially those who have vocations that are trying to the nerves.

Buy a bottle of Peruna today. If you do not receive all the benefits from Peruna that you expected, write to Dr. S. B. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.

Good Blood Tells Its Own Story

And tells it eloquently in the bright eye, the supple, elastic movement, the smooth, soft skin, glowing with health, a body sound and well, an active brain, good appetite and digestion, refreshing sleep, energy to perform the duties and capacity to enjoy the pleasures of life. The blood is the most vital part of the body; every organ, muscle, tissue, nerve, sinew and bone is dependent on it for nourishment and strength, and as it circulates through the system, pure and strong, it furnishes to these different parts all the healthful qualities nature intended. When, from any cause, the blood becomes impure or diseased, it tells a different story, quite as forcible in its way. Itching, burning skin diseases, muddy, pallid complexions, disfiguring sores, boils, carbuncles, etc., show the sallow, in the blood, of some foreign matter or poison. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Contagious Blood Poison and Scrofula, are effects of a deeply poisoned blood circulation. These may either be inherited or acquired, but the seat of trouble is the same—the blood. S. S. S., a purely vegetable blood remedy, cleanses and purifies the circulation and makes it strong and clean. Under its purifying and tonic effects all poisons and impurities are expelled from the blood, the general health is built up, all disfiguring eruptions and blemishes disappear, the skin becomes soft and smooth and robust health blesses life. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. S. Book on the blood and any medical advice, free of charge.
