WEDNESDAY, MAY 31, 1905

Eastern capitalists are figuring on building interurban electric lines through the Willamette valley. As several times suggested in these columns, it will be well for county courts and the people generally to be careful what kind of franchises are given the electric lines on the public highways. Electric lines are desirable, but experience has shown that franchises that are given away are soon offered for sale at a price expressed in the millions. Too often, also, a franchise that is worth millions when it is for sale is worth only a few thousands when the assessor comes around.—Oregonian.

Memorial Day of last year was considered a very successful one in Cottage Grove.

It seems to be the universal opinion however, that there was more interest taken in the day this year than ever before.

The exercises were all good and the speeches of unusual strength and interests.

An American yacht will win the Kaiser's cup that is being raced for at the present time. The latest report from the boats indicates that the American three-masted schooner yacht, Atlantic will be the winner. Another grudge against the American pig.

If the local news is a little short this week, it is for the reason the office force observed as far as possible Memorial Day.

What it Costs to See the Fair.

Visitors at the Lewis and Clark Exposition in Portland this summer will be surprised to find how cheaply the big Fair may be seen. The expenses of a trip depend largely, of course, upon the individual who makes the trip, but a schedule of the fixed expenses has been prepared which enables one to get a fairly accurate idea of the cost of seeing the Exposition.

The visitor in Portland will find an abundance of suitable accommodations, and it may be said authoritatively that no one need pay in excess of one dollar a night for clean, comfortable lodgings. Within the past few months temporary hotels and lodging houses with a grand total of 2679 rooms have been erected near the main entrance to the grounds, while the American Inn, within the grounds, has 586 rooms. In addition to these accommodations, the Hill Military Academy and St. Helen's hall will be available, while almost every house in the district between the downtown portion of Portland and the Exposition will take lodgers during the summer. In most cases accommodations may be found within easy walking distance of the grounds, and a five-cent street car ride is available from any part of the city. While the average price charged for lodging will be one dollar per night per person, many rooms may be obtained, especially in the temporary hotels near the grounds, for seventy-five, fifty or even twenty-five cents.

Most people will find it more convenient to take breakfast at their lodging place or at a downtown restaurant than at grounds. Twenty-five cents should pay for breakfast, and twenty-five cents for luncheon within the grounds, while for the evening meal fifty cents may be considered a fair price, making the cost of three meals one dollar.

Admission to the grounds costs fifty cents, and an allowance of a similar sum should be made for incidentals, which include admissions to several attractions on the Trail, the amusement street.

The schedule of expenses per day for the average person of economy then, is as follows:
Lodging, per day.....$ 1.00
Meals.....1.00
Admission.....1.00
Trail shows, etc......50

This schedule is on the basis of a five-day stay at the Fair. All who can possibly do so should spend at least ten days, however. For these the expense need not be quite so great per day, as it may be possible to get rooms at a lower rate by engaging them for a week or more, and the entire expense per day may be reduced to $2.50. The person who spends the longer period should take advantage of the opportunity to view some wonderful scenery within a short distance of Portland. A five-cent fare by street car takes one to Portland Heights where a wonderful view of the city, the Willamette and Columbia rivers, and the snow-capped mountains may be enjoyed. Other delightful but inexpensive trips include a visit by street car to City Park and a ride on the Willamette river by boat. The cost of these trips may be deducted from the fifty cents a day allotted for Trail attractions and souvenirs. Since the total expense for these features need not exceed the $2.50 laid aside in figuring the cost of the five-day trip.

Figuring as above, then, the expenses of a five-day and a ten-day stay at the Fair, may be reckoned as follows:

Five-day visit:
Lodging.....	$5.00
Meals.....	5.00
Admissions and incidentals.....	5.00
Total necessary expense.....	$15.00
Ten-day visit:
Lodging.....	$ 7.50
Meals.....	10.00
Admissions.....	5.00
Incidentals, including souvenirs, Trail attractions and car and boat rides.....	2.50
Total necessary expense.....	$25.00

Resolution of Condolence.

Hall Cottage Grove Lodge No. 68, Cottage Grove, Oregon, May 27, 1905.

WHEREAS, it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the universe, to whose will we all must bow to take away our brother, J. P. Taylor, therefore be it

RESOLVED, Cottage Grove Lodge No. 68 has lost one of his esteemed members, the order, a kind and generous brother, his a good example of what the term "Odd Fellow" means to the fraternal brotherhood and the world—the community a genial, hospitable neighbor, and the wife and son, a dearly loved husband and father.

RESOLVED, That in this great loss we are reminded that all must pass through the valley of the shadow of death by the path that leads to eternal life, and while we know that words avail little in such a bereavement, yet they are the only medium through which we can express our respect for our departed brother and extend our sympathy to the afflicted family.

RESOLVED, That our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, a copy of these resolutions be placed on record, a copy under seal of the Lodge be sent to the bereaved wife and a copy to the Bohemia Nugget for publication.

Tokio, May 29.—Reports received from Admiral Togo at the Japanese Headquarters.

"First report received morning of May 27.

"Immediately on the receipt of report that the Russian squadron was in sight, our combined squadron started for attack. Weather is fine today, but with heavy seas."

"Second report, received night of May 27:
"Combined squadron attacked Russian squadron near Okinoshima (southeast of Tsushima) and defeated it. At least four Russian ships were sunk and others were heavily damaged. Damage to our ships is insignificant.

"Our destroyer and torpedo flotillas delivered attacked after sunset."

"Third report, received Monday May 29:

"Main force of our combined fleet continued pursuit since the 27th, and attacked on the 28th, near Liancourt Rocks (northeast of Okinoshima). Squadron, consisting of Nicholas I., Orel, Senavine, Apraxine (battleships), and Izumrud (cruiser). Izumrud fled, while remaining four vessels surrendered. No damage to our ships.

VICTORY OF MAY 27.

"According to statements of prisoners, vessels sunk in engagement May 27 were Borodino (battleship), Alexasder III, (battleship), Jemteuhg and three other ships.

"Rear-Admiral Nebogotoff and about 2000 other Russians were taken prisoners.

"The following are damages suffered by the enemy, in addition to those given above since commencement of battle, as reported by commanders not under immediate command of Togo and by observation stations:

OTHER VESSELS LOST.

"Sunk—Admiral Nakhimoff, Dmitri Donskoi, Svetlana, Irutshuk and three destroyers.
"Captured—Vladimir Monomach foundered after capture; one special service ship, whose name unknown, and one destroyer.

"Russian losses definitely known so far may be classified as follows:

"Two battle ships, one coast defence ship, five cruisers, two special ships, three destroyers were sunk.

"Two battle ships, two coast defence ships, one special service ship, one destroyer were captured.

"It is not yet clear whether three vessels stated by prisoners to have been sunk are included or not in above list.

MORE THAN 3000 PRISONERS.

"There are more than 1000 prisoners, besides 2000 taken by main force of combined squadron.

"The naval engagement is still in progress, so that it will take time before the final results can be known."

A REMARKABLE CURE

Of Deafness by Dr. Darrin at the Hotel Smeede.

Guard.
Mr. Geo. Prutton, of Pleasant Hill, was in town today and is very enthusiastic over the cure of deafness by Dr. Darrin. Mr. Prutton is well known in this county, having formerly lived near Junction City. His cure will go far to introduce Dr. Darrin and his electrical treatment to our citizens. Below we give Mr. Prutton's card:

Mr. Editor:—Please say to your readers that I have been deaf since a child from the effects of scarlet fever. I wish to state that Dr. Darrin has so far cured me that I can hear ordinary conversation across a room and feel very much encouraged, I am successfully treated for constipation and general debility. Refer any one to me at Pleasant Hill.
