WEDNESDAY, JULY 12, 1905

Russia seems to be getting in a worse way all the time, with more revolutionary outbursts, mutinys, riots, let alone the troubles the Japs are digging up every day. No wonder the czar is said to be breaking down under the strain.

Our American oarsmen do not seem to be able to make a sufficiently high speed to enable them to beat their English brothers. The Vespers, the picked All-American team from Philadelphia was beaten in the Grand Challenge Cup races at Henley, last week.

The President is trying to cut out of Army and Navy promotions any element of "pull". He has something of a job ahead of him there, for it has been claimed, and seemingly with good cause, that the service was greatly hampered by the poor officials installed through their ability to secure help from higher officials or politicians. It is one place above all others, where real merit honest attainments, and length of service should constitute grounds for promotion.

Dates Made Famous by Paul Jones.

- 1747—Born July 6, at Arbigland, Scotland, and named after his father, John Paul, a gardener.
- 1759—Apprenticed at White Haven to a Scotch merchant engaged in the American trade.
- 1773—Determined to seek his fortune in America, sailed for Virginia; engaged in the slave trade, which he soon quitted in disgust.
- 1785—December 22, enlisted in the American navy, assuming the name of Jones.
- 1777—In command of a small fleet, he harassed the coast of Scotland and attacked the port of Whitehaven.
- 1778—Went to Paris and took command of "The Bonhomme Richard."
- 1779—Sailed around Scotland and Ireland, taking prizes; boldly took practical possession of the English Channel.
- 1779—September 23 fought his world-famous battle with the British ship Serapis, which he captured.
- 1781—Received a letter of thanks from Washington and a gold medal from Congress.
- 1782—Entered the Russian navy (there being peace at home) with the rank of Rear Admiral.
- 1788—Being refused command of the Black Sea fleet, he resigned from the Russian service.
- 1790—Returned to Paris, where he lived in poverty, lacking his promised Russian pension and prize money due him from the United States.
- 1792—July 18, died in Paris, and buried in an obscure cemetery.
- 1905—April 14, Paul Jones's body found.
- 1905—July 8, "The Brooklyn" starts for America with the body of Paul Jones.

At last has America begun her actual tribute to the memory of that famous old admiral. And not alone France, but all the world with her, have done honor to the man so long forgotten by his country. To Gen. Horace Porter belongs the honor of having by years of patient and untiring energy, by sacrifice of money, personal interests and strength, sought out the burial place of the renowned dead. To him that first compelled the nations of the earth to respect Americas navy we now turn with deep appreciation.

The Square Way.

The vice of so-called reciprocity, under present conditions, is that it would give the countries which propose to discriminate against us advantages over countries which now treat us fairly. Germany is one country which proposes to discriminate against imports from the United States. It should not be forgotten that this discrimination is not urged by those German manufacturers who now export goods to the United States. It is not advocated in any spirit of retaliation against our alleged high Tariffs on German goods. It is a policy advanced in deference to the urgent demand of the agrarian element, which seeks to cripple our present export trade to Germany and cares nothing for Germany's present export trade to us. No concessions which might be made in Tariff rates by the United States would weaken the opposition of the agrarian element to the importation of American foodstuffs into Germany.

The square way of dealing with the situation is to give Germany precisely the same treatment that Germany accords the United States. If Germany charges higher duties on imports from the United States than from other countries, then the United States should charge higher duties in identically the same degree on all imports from Germany, preserving the present Tariff rates on all goods imported from countries which do not discriminate against us in their Tariff laws.

If this were first done, then there would be a basis upon which this country could negotiate with Germany for a reciprocal arrangement on precisely even terms. As it stands any negotiations for reciprocity with Germany now must be on the basis of our granting to Germany special privileges over all other countries in our markets in return merely for treatment with other countries in the markets of Germany. Uncle Sam certainly would exhibit little sound business sagacity and little sense of fair play to the other nations which now treat him fairly in making any such one-sided bargain.—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

What a Comma Cost.

The story is told of an inserted comma which cost the United States Government $2,000,000. When the Congress was drafting the Tariff bill, it enumerated in one section the articles to be admitted on the free list. Among these were "all foreign fruit-plants." The copying clerk omitted the hyphen and inserted a comma after "fruit," so that the clause read "all foreign fruit, plants, etc." The mistake could not be rectified for about a year, and during this time all oranges, lemons, bananas, grapes and other foreign fruits were admitted free of duty, with a loss to the Government of at least $2,000,000.—Lawrence (Mass.) "Telegram."

HOW CROSS EYES ARE CURED

Among Dr. Darrin's specialties he is an expert operator in straightening cross eyes, and can straighten the worst eyes in less than twenty minutes. The worthy poor treated free. The operation is rendered painless by a local anaesthetic, and no chloroform or ether used. Patients can return home the same day, with no detention from business or occupation. Cases may call now and make appointments, for treatments during the two days, July 15 and 16, and avoid the rush the doctor has on his special days. The following references, taken from many, prove the doctor's success:

- Mrs. B. Bickford's son, Roseburg cross eye; cured.
- Miss Maggie Synhorst, La Grande, Or, cross eyes; cured.
- Miss Lucy Norman, Monmouth, Or, cross eyes; cured.
- Miss Mary Walter, Portland, both eyes crossed; cured.
- A. Taylor, Pendleton, Or: stricture cured.
- W. W. Thompson, Vancouver Wash. hydroce; cured.
- A. J. Armstrong, 110 Third street Portland, varicoele; cured ten years ago.
- Mrs. Hayes' daughter southwest corner 29 and Marshall streets Portland, goitre (large neck) for years; cured with electricity alone.
- Mr. G. W. Dunlap of Halsey Ore. says: "For over 21 years my wife has had inflamed eyelids and granulated lids Dr. Darrin has cured her."
- D. J. Graham's child, Springfield Or, painfully afflicted with granulated conjunctivitis, complicated with ulcers of the eyeballs for nine months cured years ago.
- J. A. Lindsley, new agent on S. P. R. R. residence Mt. Tabor Or, Consumption bronchitis and catarrh cured and gained fifteen pounds.
- Ernest Rhodes, Pendleton, Oregon; kidney trouble and diabetes, he had to relieve his bladder hourly, night and day, all his life, cured in seven months by Dr. Darrin.
- Dr. Darrin can be consulted free from 10 to 5 daily; evenings 7 to 8 at the Smeeds Hotel, Eugene, until Oct. 1. All curable chronic, acute, and diseases of a private nature treated with electricity and medicines; before and after July 15 and 16. Letters of inquiry answered. Circulars and question blanks sent free.

STRANGE ADVICE!

Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. (New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.)

VALENTINE—Miss Ruth Valentine, born at Wardina, Minnesota, Sept. 3rd 1880, died at Cottage Grove, Ore., July 1st 1905.

When the deceased was about 10 years old, her parents moved to British Columbia, where she has resided ever since till a few days before her death. For two years Ruth had been planning to make her folks, who reside in this vicinity, a visit; while on her way here and in fact before she started for her journey she began to feel ill which gradually grew worse till the time of her death.

About two years ago she had a fall from a wagon causing an injury and enlargement on her spine which together with some extra heavy duties recently at a drug store where she had worked faithfully for seven years, lowering her resistive powers until they were the causes of her death.

Hers was a kind, christian character and her loss is greatly mourned by her parents and seven sisters who survive her.

D. A. and U. H. Findlay of Long Prairie, Cook County, Oregon, from whom Jeff Tarter, alias Tethrow, recently stole two horses, succeeded in tracing him to this place where he was captured on the 29th. The men had little trouble in tracing the horses as the shoes they wore were of an exceptionally large pattern. Tarter tried to dispose of the horses at many places, but awakened suspicion everywhere because of his low figure for so fine a team, but he finally sold them to Mr. Chrisman here, after which he started in to disguise himself, by cutting off his beard and mustache, and getting some new clothes, which however was of no avail. Sheriff Fiske took charge of him until the arrival of Sheriff Tom Smith of Cook, Co. Tarter was recognized by some one here as being Jeff Tarter, who formerly worked for the Pacific Timber Co. at Latham.

Ira Conner, Sr., had a very severe stroke of paralysis last Friday evening. The stroke effected his right side, his arm being completely paralyzed, and his leg partially so, however Dr. Corpron says that the trouble is now stationary, and hopes that in a month or so it will be relieved. Mr. Conner is fifty years of age and has always been very active, and until a week before the stroke had no premonitory symptoms, and even then he paid no attention to them until the day of his affliction. It is to be hoped that he will rapidly recover.

The medal contest held by the L. T. L. at the Opera house on Friday evening of last week was witnessed by a fair sized and well pleased audience.

The recitations were well rendered and showed much study and careful drill upon the part of the participants. The ruling of the judges was very close resulting in the awarding of the medal to Lucile Marson, which was perfectly satisfactory to the audience. The musical part of the program was very good and the vocal solo of the little Miss Hooper was especially so.

The flag drill and accompanying tableau were very pleasing to the audience.

The recitation delivered by Miss Stella Thompson while the judges were deliberating was a pronounced success. The closing tableau: Columbia and her handmaiden was finely shown, and the whole entertainment was voted by all present a perfect success.
