J. F. Spray, a brother of Mrs. J. V. Thornton has been visiting here for several days. He is a stockman on John Day river in Eastern Oregon, where he has been very successful. He was raised here in Cottage Grove, but has not been here for twenty years until this year. A large congregation greeted Rev. S. E. Meminger, the new pastor of the Methodist church, who preached both Sunday morning and evening. All the members as well as attendants at the church services are very highly pleased with Rev. A Reception.

A reception was given Friday evening in Jones' Hall by the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in honor of their new pastor, Rev. S. E. Meminger.

The hall was beautifully decorated and at an early hour a large company gathered and a very good time was had, after which ice cream in cones was served.

F. B. Phillips presided and also delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the church, after which the other departments of the church work, class teachers, Sunday School, Primary Department, Epworth League, Epworth Forum, Intermediate and Junior Leagues, welcomed their new pastor through the addresses of the leading officers of the departments. All the addresses were well rendered as was the music and solos from the choir.

Dr. C. Wire represented the district and Rev. R. C. Grace of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church after which Rev. Meminger responded very ably.

Seale-Miller.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized Monday evening at 8 o'clock p. m. at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McCoy.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McCoy of Gowdsville, was the scene of a very happy event Monday evening, when their daughter Maggie was united in marriage to Lesley Seales of Douglas county. The house was decorated with a profusion of potted plants and cut flowers, which gave the whole place a very cheerful and pretty appearance.

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. Ollie McCoy, a sister-in-law, delighted the guests by some fine instrumental music, also some good old time songs were indulged in by the guests. "O Promise me," "Our Country," "Kentucky Home" etc. The bride was beautiful in a lovely ashen of rose Henrietta gown trimmed in white silk laces and carried a bouquet of cream brides roses. The groom was attired in the conventional black and during the ceremony both were unattended.

The ceremony was performed by Justice Vaughn and vows were exchanged in a very impressive manner which if lived up to will insure a very happy and exemplary life.

After the genial squire had assured us it was "open season" for seals and that Mrs. Maggie had made a fine capture, congratulations was most heartily extended by all present after which all repaired to the dining room where an elegant and substantial dinner was served after which the evening was spent in reminiscences of our old "Missouri homes" and other places and at a reasonable hour the guests took their departure. The only regret of the evening was voiced by a brother of the bride who remarked he was sorry he had no other sister to get married that we might have the opportunity to again share the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. McCoy. The young couple were recipients of a number of nice and useful presents and best wishes of their many friends.

The happy couple will make their home in Springfield where the groom has employment and a house awaiting the bride to transform it in "home sweet home" in its truest interpretation where they will be at home to there many friends after the 20th of the month.

Dr. Macy is making a number of improvements in his office adding new equipment to keep abreast of the times.

"Ben-Hur."

Klaw & Erlanger's colossal production of General Lew Wallace's impressive biblical romance, "Ben-Hur" startling in its immensity, can only be considered as second in comparison to the Lewis and Clark Centennial as a feast for the eyes. This great play, which has commanded the attention of the Pope of Rome, King Edward of England, President Roosevelt, Archbishop Ireland and other prelates, rulers and important personages of the world, aroused the interest of the entire states of Oregon and Washington, when staged in the city of Portland two years ago. And now with the announcement that it is again to be enacted in that city at the Marquam Grand Theatre for six night performances (exclusive of Sunday) starting Thursday October 19th, will no doubt cause many to journey there to witness it the same as before.

In order to accommodate the out-of-town public Calvin Heilig, manager of the Marquam Grand theatre will give his personal attention to all orders for seats through the mail, it accompanied with remittance. The scale of prices governing the engagement will be $2 and $2.50 on the lower floor and $1, $1.50 and $2 in the balcony. All railroad lines entering Portland are to make low excursion rates, so by inquiring of the local railroad representative, full information concerning the same can be ascertained.

Miss Elizabeth Brent, vice president of the District C. E. Union, is in receipt of a letter stating that Rev. W. J.
