

Mines Will Bring Wealth.

The Prineville Journal publishes the following: "The preparations for operation of this new cinnabar furnace have been very quickly made, and the results promise so well that still more satisfactory developments may be expected from the working of the new drier. While miners are familiar with the value of the native sulphide of mercury, the general reader may be informed that this mineral is only found and worked to advantage in a few localities. The Rothschilds have been the owners for many years of the Spanish mines at Almaden, whence Europe draws its chief supply of quicksilver. Mines at New Almaden in California have been successfully operated for some years. The mineral is found also in Peru. Its successful working in Oregon on any considerable scale will be a matter of much congratulation.

"Pure, white quicksilver, worth $40 a flask, flowed from the new cinnabar furnace on Lookout Mountain for a short time Wednesday and then operations were discontinued until a drier can be built. A few hours work at the furnace, which has been undergoing the process of being "blown in" during the past ten days demonstrated two things: that the ore is rich with mercury, and that owing to the excessive amount of moisture which it contains will be necessary to absorb this water before the ore can be successfully treated in the furnace built for the purpose.

"About ten tons of ore were burned Wednesday out of which there was condensed about 150 pounds of quicksilver. A large percentage was lost in the tailings and escape of the gases caused from too sudden slipping of the ore down the pitch of the furnace when the ore matter became dry. Otherwise results are highly satisfactory and construction will begin at once on a drier so that as little time as possible will be lost before getting the maximum daily output from the furnace."

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by The Modern Pharmacy.

Round Trip for One Fare

The Southern Pacific railroad has decided to make a rate of one fare for the round trip from Portland to all points in Oregon to as far south as Ashland, for visitors from the East to the Lewis and Clark Exposition, to enable them to look over western Oregon, that they may have an opportunity to locate or invest.

The tickets will be good for 15 days, with stop over privileges. Holders of Exposition round trip tickets from the east can purchase these tickets this rate, it will depend upon the energy shown by the community as to the number of visitors secured.

HOW TO CURE CORNS AND BUNIONS.

First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general ointment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by The Modern Pharmacy.

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by The Modern Pharmacy.
