Just Like You.

Hark! o'er the mountain, bleak and wild,
Echoed the voice of a little child:
"Papa, look out! I am coming too,
Stepping in your steps, just like you!
Papa, O papa! just see me!
Walking like papa—don't you see?"

Father, pause in the path of life,
Rough with the chains of sin and strife;
When you walk with a step so free
"Monte the rocks where the dangers are,
List to the voice that is sounding awet.
List! they are coming—the little feet
Walk with care, they are coming too.
"Stepping in your steps just like you."

—MRS. L. D. AVERY-STUTTLE.

Mayor Lane of Portland and Milwaukee are having a nice little set to these days as to whether the mayor of Portland has power to stop gambling in their little town or not. The miniature "Monte Carlo" which is the life of the town was raided Saturday night by Portland officers under the direction of Mayor Lane. The principal officers of the town are employees of the resort and are very indignant over the raid.

The sight of Main street well cleaned up was a new one and was something everybody was glad to see on Thursday. The mayor hit the right key, and everybody is saying that it would be a good thing to have a similar order issued every month at least. If all the sidewalks, and street fronts along the street were required to be cleaned once a month, if not once a week, the town would get a much better reputation. It seems as though the city might almost afford to furnish a wagon to cart the rubbish away once a month, providing the people would clean up.

Oregon Plays Washington a Tie Game 12 to 12.

Seattle, Nov. 18.—Oregon, 12; Washington 12. It was a spectacular and hard game of football played here at Recreation Park this afternoon, when Oregon and Washington fought each other in a 12 to 12 score. It was spectacular because each team won a touchdown from sensational runs; it was a hard fought furious contest because the respective teams each marched to a score by straight football. Neither team deserves to have won; man for man, they were evenly matched and as for team-work there was little difference. Washington was a little the stronger on line plunging while Oregon excelled in every other department of the game. The best of spirit prevailed throughout the game. Following is the line-up:

Oregon	Washington
Hug	Grimm
Spencer	Ross
McIntyre	RGL
McKinney	RTL
Chandler	REL
Moullen	LGR
Arnsperger	LTR
Latourette (c)	Q
Templeton	LHR
Hurd	RHL
Kerron	F
	Palmer

Length of halves; 35 minutes. Referee, Best; umpire, Murphy.

Additional Locals.

James Hemenway of Grants Pass was in town over Sunday and Monday.

Blankets, just the kind to cozy you to bed early. Take a look at Lurch's and get the best.

R. E. Mason, of Albany, A. C. Smith and Walter Jackson, of Portland, were in town Sunday.

Lurch's pillow display is fine. A very artistic window full of beautiful and serviceable cushions.

Charlie Sutor, the successful saw mill man, is in the city. It is hoped that some day soon he will say he is here to stay.

Does your daughter want a piano. Veatch & Lawson have them at the price you want to pay and the best for the money too.

Geo. Rouse and wife expect to take charge of the hotel, store and postoffice at Mineral for the Golden Rule Mining Co. this winter.

A balloon ascension is being planned for to occur on the 30th at this point. No further announcement can be made at this time.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society will have good things to eat on display at the Wynne Hdwe. Co. store Saturday. Don't miss it.

J. H. Tansies came from Portland yesterday and will remain until the machinery is installed in Bartels new market and cold storage building.

Garman & Hemenway are having a sale on linen for the table and home. A neat attractive display that looks even better when you see the real goods.

The Fashion Stables are making an improvement in the addition of a ladies waiting room in the front of the stable where their lady patrons may wait while their horses are being cared for.

A. Graham has just received a dozen new mattresses for the hotel. They are made of the finest silk floss and represent an expenditure of $200. Mr. Graham claims to have the finest beds of any hotel anywhere around the state.

Rev. Gardner filled the Methodist church pulpit Sunday morning and the church was closed in the evening as Rev. Mewinger has grippe so badly he cannot get out. The whole family is sick as well, and much anxiety is felt over them.

Mr. Baker's display of Chinese Pheasants and Golden Pheasants and Oregon Quail are worth a good long walk to see, for they are very fine. Mr. Baker is going to build a large and more comfortable house for them soon so that they will have better protection from the winter's storms.

Peace & Johnson are showing forth their talent in window decorations in their store. Mr. Johnson has been the first to have an inning at it and has won first place with high honors. They are ready to have designs for decorations submitted, but don't believe they can be beat themselves.

Mr. Bartels expects Mr. Nelson of the American Cement Co., of Eugene, an experienced cement man, here on Monday to commence the work on the floor of the new building. The cold storage machinery is built ready for shipment when the room is prepared. The walls are being covered with cement, which will be painted in order that they may be washed down with soap and water at any time without any damage.

In the windows of Bensons Pharmacy on Saturday there appeared some things which looked more tempting than drugs. There were delicious looking pies, fine cookies, home made bread, cottage cheese, etc., temptingly displayed and some of us were in a better humor on Sunday for having enjoyed them. They are sold to aid a worthy cause—the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church. Watch this window and be sure to get something next time.

An Adder Added.

The first National bank is keeping right up to snuff. They believe the town will grow and expect to grow with it. In order to better take care of and attend to the needs of their many patrons in the prompt balancing of their books the first of each month, they have installed a new Burroughs Adding and Listing machine at an expense of several hundred dollars. These machines are supposed to save the work of at least one man and certainly do. They are a wonderful invention and seem to be human in most respects, except in that they do not make mistakes as most people when they try to do much adding.

A Wheel in the Groove.

There is a little too much mud for wheeling just now, but there was a jolly bicycle party at the Commercial Club rooms on Friday night, nevertheless. It was planned by Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Bakin, and the ladies certainly did themselves credit, and the guests enjoyed themselves hugely. The first part of the ride was spent in answering questions about a wheel. Both the questions and answers caused much mirth. Mrs. Veatch answered the greatest number correctly. They all stopped for a rest while Miss Kelly read a pretty little poem about a bicycle courtship and Mr. Fisher sang a solo. Then somebody found some quarts and after pitching those for a short time, the gentlemen went fishing—they were strange fish each having a name written on its back which upon investigation proved to be that of a lady who was to be the gentleman's partner during the refreshments.

Suddenly there was a noisy shower—everybody was scrambling for kernels of corn—it paid to scramble hard too, for the more you got, the more you had to eat—alternating a pile of doughnuts was in one corner of the billiard room, in another delicious looking pies, and in a third were coffee and milk—each of which received so many kernels for their purchase—some of the more fortunate brought something for their hungry neighbors who hadn't succeeded in finding much corn.

The party then dispersed carrying their wheels with them.

Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Hockett, Mr. and Mrs. Veatch, Mr. and Mrs. Awbrey, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Abrams, Mr. and Mrs. Lurch and The Misses Lurch, Mr. and Mrs. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Miss Ellie Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, The Misses Berg, Miss Kelley, Miss Wheeler, The Misses Mickey, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Griggs, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Eakin, Miss Currin, Miss Elsie Lee, Miss Oglesby, Mrs. Oglesby, Mr. and Mrs. Garman, Mr. Geo. Comer, Mrs. Goodman, Mrs. A. B. Wood, Miss Taylor, Miss Perkins, Mr. Bruneau, The Misses Mundy, Mrs. Merryman, Mrs. Chambers and her little son, Victor.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—DR. G. G. GAZER.

¶The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

¶There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boesche's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

¶It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

¶But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

¶New trial bottles, 25c. Regular size, 75c. At all druggists.
