WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1906

The Uren anti-pass law has no enacting clause incorporated in it, and consequently can not be put before the people for vote, under the new state law.

The order of the Interior Department of the Government revoking the withholding patents from the State of Oregon, is hailed with joy by all the people, and gives the land holders a fair show.

The Whitelake Times says that its office is over run with letters of inquiry about Whitelake and Klamath county. In fact they received so many letters it is impossible for them to answer all.

Two new democratic candidates are in the field: Chas. V. Gallo-way of McMinnville for congress from the first district, and J. Scott Taylor of Klamath Falls for state printer. Mr. Taylor favors the purchase by the state of a first class printing outfit, and the placing of a state printer on a salary.

The Oregon City Enterprise says "that registration there is good and that it is progressing satisfactorily and further that" To date 1834 voters have registered. This represents nearly one-half of the voting strength of the county which ranges from 4200 to 4500. No one thing is doing more to encourage this registration than the meetings that are being conducted throughout the county for the purpose of explaining the details of the direct primary law. If voters continue to register as lively in the ensuing eight weeks as they have to date, all of the voters of the county will have registered. This should be the case. The voters themselves constitute the nominating convention this time and they will best show that they appreciate the responsibility conferred upon them by complying with every feature of the direct primary law. It seems that meetings are being held to explain to all the working of the direct primary law and that these meetings are accomplishing much. This is what we need in South Lane County. The registration here is low. Many people do not understand that every person who wants to vote at the next election must register before April 10th, for the primary election and before May 15th for the general election, and it will make no difference if he did vote at the last election in the same precinct.

ATTEND TO BUSINESS.

Don't fool away time talking politics, or other irrelevant subjects—talk business, do business immediately and hustle on to the next with a spirit of activity that becomes your position. Don't get "all swelled up" with the idea that you are an unusual person, but keep in mind that the assessor and his deputies are only servants of the people and that the people are the "boss" and are generally reasonable, so be reasonable yourself, use common sense, have the courage of your convictions and be fair both to the individual and the county and all will be well.

Cottage Grove For Womens Suffrage?

Mrs. Emma Smith DeVoe, an Illinois speaker of ability, addressed a fair audience of our citizens Monday night on "equal suffrage." Mrs. DeVoe is a good speaker and free from many of the traits which have done much to hold back the work of such lecturers.

Her talk was direct and tended principally to point out the good things that women would accomplish, should they be given the privilege of voting, and what they have accomplished elsewhere.

The campaign is being ably pushed throughout the state, and the women expect to carry the election. It seems that the last election the women lost by some 2000 votes, and they claim to have secured many thousands of new voters this year. The vote on the two elections was as follows:

Vote on womens suffrage in Oregon in 1884.
Votes cast.....39,399

1900 vote.

Douglas Co. was carried at the last election by 70 votes.

Heavy Winter Travel In And Out of Oregon.

Baker City, Ore., Feb. 14.—The heaviest west bound travel to Oregon that has occurred in any January in ten years is recorded for the January just closed, and is now continuing in February. In fact, travel is heavy in both directions to and from Oregon by all the gateways and it is particularly noticeable in the tourist class, including hundreds of people who are coming to Oregon to personally investigate conditions here for agricultural investments, more particularly. On one train which passed Baker City Saturday there were 44 tourists from the middle west; most of them went through to Portland, but a number expressed a determination to return to Baker City and eastern Oregon after they had used the limit of their tickets.

It is estimated that this year, 1906, will see even heavier travel in this territory than during the Lewis

Doings in our Homes

A very pleasant evening was spent by several young people of this city Saturday evening at the home of Miss Antoinette Burdick. All kinds of games were indulged in until a late hour. Refreshments were served and all report having had a fine time. Among those present were: Neva Perkins, Lula Curran, Miss Grant, Misses Mundy, Prof. Harvey, Fred Waschite, Earnest Sears, Herman Palmer and Mr. Anderson.

Wednesday evening was the occasion of a jolly evening for the girls of Miss Jessie Berg's Sunday School class of the Methodist Church. The party was given at the home of Miss Berg and all of the girls in attendance enjoyed themselves and they all are agreed that their hostess knows how to entertain.

One of the main features of the evening was the excellent music rendered by the hostess' sister, Miss Georgetta, after which partners were found by matching hearts made of fancy paper, then the fun of the evening commenced.

Many of the late games were played, one of which was the shooting of Cupid, which was very interesting and in which the girls showed remarkable ability in accurate shooting with the bow and arrow. Marguerite Jones was the most successful and was presented with the little bow and arrow as the prize.

The game played with candy hearts was another feature that created a merry time. Elva Warner won the prize, a beautiful burnt birch-bark picture frame.

Later on in the evening all repaired to the beautifully decorated dining room where refreshments were served where also the girls found their fortunes on a small strip of paper tied to the chandelier. Much curiosity was manifested during the reading of each. Late departure was taken.

Those present were Misses Eunice VanDenBerg, Marguerite Jones, Sophie Osberg, Cora Huff, Luella Gover, Fanny Johnson, Ethel Moore, Elva Warner, Jennie and Nora Hull, Ethel Storms, Lydia Shipman, Hazel Hazelton and Vera Cochran.

Reforms in Printing Office.

One of the offices to be filled at the coming state election is that of state printer. One of the men that seeks nomination for this office is W. S. Duniway of Portland, a member of the firm of Anderson & Duniway, printers. He is a republican and believes that the expenses and manner of management of the state printing office can be reduced and improved for a more economical administration. The expenses of this work are tremendous, and can under efficient management be greatly reduced.

Mr. Duniway feels himself qualified by his years of experience, to fill such a position, and trust that having found his personal record to be a good one he will have the support of all good republicans.

He says as follows:
"If elected, I hereby pledge myself to a great reduction in the enormous cost of the office, and declare upon my honor that I shall seek neither to perpetuate the old abuses of the office nor engage in new schemes to loot the treasury. (And the public may rest assured, if I am elected state printer, that those who will oppose me will take pleasure in helping me to keep this pledge.)"

"The following questions, it seems to me, are proper to ask about a candidate who seeks a republican nomination:

- "1. Is he an honest man?"
- "2. Has he the necessary qualifications?"
- "3. Is he a republican in fact as well as in name?"
- "4. Had he given such service to his party's principles and standard-bearers as to deserve his party's recognition?"

"Unless the candidate's record will command affirmative answers to these questions, he ought not reasonably to expect favors of the party."

and Clark fair. This time it will be for business only, and the stream of people that will flood the country will include many who visited Portland in 1905 and became impressed with this territory. Now is the time for Baker City to get in its fine work and through the work of committees and leagues stop off some of these people and put them next to the good things in Baker county.—Journal.

Rev. C. A. Wooley of Eugene was a visitor in town Thursday.

The High School

Seniors.

Prof. C. L. Strango went to Eugene Friday to attend the examinations.

Miss Mundy was in Eugene Saturday.

Katie Knowlton is back at school this week.

The bi-monthly examinations come again the first week in March.

"The seniors of '06

Are in a bad fix

Trying so hard to think

To find the missing link

Of their minds which are so poor,
And the books which are a bore."

The entertainment to be given in the Opera House Wednesday evening, February 28, by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Phipps of New York City, for the benefit of the public schools of Cottage Grove, promises to be a very enjoyable event for the amusement and music loving public of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Phipps have been entertaining all over the United States for the benefit of schools and colleges and have just closed a successful engagement in Portland where they entertained for twenty one of the largest schools of that city besides giving two entertainments for the Y. M. C. A. of Portland. Mr. Phipps is certainly an entertainer and artist of rare ability, as his letters and press clippings show. We bespeak for them a liberal patronage as their entertainment is certainly in a good cause, the benefit of our public schools.

Mrs. F. B. Phillips entertained all the teachers of the public schools on Wednesday night at a Valentine Party, each teacher bringing with her a valentine written and prepared by herself.
