

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Money in Sheep. An official report of the department of commerce and labor declares that for years to come there will be more money in sheep than in any other agricultural product...

Fattening the Lambs. The lambs should be put in the feed lots at three to six months old and forced to an early market at eight to nine months old...

Breeding Horses. The item that absorbs the average profits in horse raising is the raising of "plug" horses. Many farmers seem to think a stallion is a stallion and can sire colts as well as any other...

Needs of Poultry. By this time the temperature at night makes it necessary to provide comfortable housing for the poultry. Remember the three great necessities for success—dry floors, dry interior, plenty of fresh air without drafts or currents blowing through the houses...

Improve the Flock. Always try to improve the flock. Good care all the time is the main thing, not necessarily coddling them, but giving them a plenty of what they like. Next to this is frequent infusion of new blood...

Prune Fruit Trees. Many fruit trees have made too much growth the last season, and there are many useless branches that will be in the way of the best results next year. No one who has even a small number of trees can afford to neglect them...

Starting a Balking Horse. A simple way to start a balking horse is to take a hammer and tap the horse's hoof. The creature will be so surprised that it will go without further trouble. This was done by a new hand to one of our horses recently with success...

Selecting the Glits. A pig out of a pig, the sire of both being pigs, is much weaker in vitality and the constitutional vigor to withstand disease or hardship than the product of mature parentage...

Keep the Calf Growing. From the day the calf is first fed it must be kept growing. This means that there shall be no setbacks due to underfeeding or overfeeding...

The Farm Tools. Exposure to weather damages vehicles and farm implements more than actual wear, and a farmer's most profitable investment is the money necessary to provide shelter for his vehicles and tools...

Care of Hogs. The feeder who keeps his hogs in a muddy yard without shelter in stormy weather has to shovel in corn enough to warm the hogs and Robin Hood's barn as well...

SELECTIONS

AN ESKIMO TRIBE

It Was Isolated For Centuries Until a Few Years Ago.

At the north end of Hudson bay is an island about the size of the state of Maine, which is called Southampton island, on which has been discovered a lost tribe of Eskimos which has been without any intercourse with human beings for centuries...

The tribe is composed of about fifty-eight individuals, about evenly divided between the sexes. They speak a dialect peculiar to themselves, quite unlike that spoken by any other tribes of Eskimos...

Peanut vendors now have competition from an unexpected source. In the vicinity of school buildings in certain sections of Manhattan may be seen sheet iron cylindrical shaped cans of generous proportions...

Dutch Champion Smokers.

A parliament of smokers which was organized at Laeken, in Holland, by a society which calls itself the Vlaamsch Pijpenrookers has ended in the victory of one Frank Kos in the principal contest. Kos established a record by keeping his pipe alight for three hours and seven minutes without asking for a second match...

Curative Value of Fear.

A case has been reported in Germany which suggests the curative value of fear. The subject, an old woman, had been bedridden on account of paralysis for ten years. Last August a tempest burst in the region where she lived. Her door was blown down...

THE OLD SONGS.

Once Popular Ballads That Have Passed Into Obscurity.

How the popular song dies past all resurrection is emphasized by the death in Providence of Samuel N. Mitchell, who was the author of some of the most widely known in their day. We suppose that not one in a thousand of the young people who greet with avidity the new songs of this day ever heard of "Touch the Harp Gently, My Pretty Louise," and yet it had a sale in this country of more than 4,000,000 copies...

A Kiss Album.

A clever young woman in London has devised a new kind of autograph album. It preserves the imprints of her friends' kisses. The book is equipped with a little pad of soluble, carmine tinted substance, upon which the lips are first lightly pressed, so as to take up a little of the pigment...

Wanted to Show Her Love.

A Frenchman of Caen entered a police court the other day with a saucer full of trips, which, he said, his wife had sprinkled with corrosive sublimate to poison him. The worthy woman admitted the crime, but denied the motive. Her purpose was to make her spouse a little sick, so that he might experience the tenderness of her nursing...

The Travels of Taft.

Secretary Taft has traveled 100,000 miles, or four times the distance around the world at the equator, since May 21, 1900, when he became governor-general of the Philippines. A Record Officeholder.

E. W. Sweeley, a justice of the peace in Loyalsock, Lycoming county, Pa., claims the record for officeholding in that state. Altogether he has held various township and county offices whose terms aggregate 109 years during his life of sixty-eight years, and he is still adding to his record. Mr. Sweeley is a Democrat, and that he is popular is shown by his record as follows: Justice of the peace, 35 years; assessor, 29 years; supervisor, 8 years; school director, 15 years; overseer of the poor, 6 years; township auditor, 12 years; county auditor, 4 years; jury commissioner, 3 years.

Wouldn't Meet Carrie Nation.

Carrie Nation was in St. Louis a short time ago on her way to fill a lecture engagement. Hearing that Miss Phoebe Couzins, the noted woman suffragist, was at one of the hotels there, Mrs. Nation called and sent up her card. Miss Couzins told the bell boy, "I do not want either to see or talk with Mrs. Nation." Carrie departed in triumph, saying Miss Couzins was afraid of an interview. The latter dryly coincided in this view on hearing of the saloon smasher's remark.

Asking Mother.

"Mother, say, now, can't I go Hunting in the woods with Joe?" "Willie's mother, says he can't. I'll take care, I'm not a man. Do, please, mother, let me go Hunting in the woods with Joe?"

Joe stands waiting in the street, Tossed hair and rough-shod feet. Tight he holds his battered gun. Hears the pleading of each one. Stands and listens anxiously. Thinking, thinking, soberly.

"Guess their mothers think I'm tough, Wild and reckless, like enough. Hardly trust their boys to me. With they would, and then they'd see Just how careful I could be. I don't have to ask my mother, For she's dead. There's none to bother If I stay or if I go."

Wouldn't I be happy, though, To hear mother's voice? "No, You can't go hunting, Joe?" —Ruth Fletcher, in Washington Star.
