"You got a typewritten copy of this speech in silhouette, didn't you?" asked the speaker of the party on one.

"Yes," replied the reporter of the opposition party. "The speaker was at me or two other people in the courtroom so hard that they were afraid no big talker as myself."—Washington Star.

"Well, then, what are you taking down now?"

"The 'shouts' and 'whistles' and shouting 'yours' and 'grousers'."

In fifteen out-of-doing 1880 infectious, 120 are not proofs of more than sixty years ago, as stated 73 in England and 79 in Germany.

Spring Humors

Impure or effete matters accumulated in the blood during the winter cause in the spring such disfiguring and painful troubles as boils, pimples, and other eruptions, also weakness, loss of appetite, and that tired feeling.

The best medicine to take to rid yourself of them is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which thoroughly cleanses the blood, and effects permanent cures by giving healthy functional activity to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and skin.

This is the testimony of tens of thousands who have taken this great spring medicine.

Accept no substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, but insist on having Hood's and get it today.

Sold by druggists everywhere.

A Judge that Failed Twice.—Miss Adelbert had just returned from a vacation spent at a tiny village on the Maine coast. In recounting her experiences she talked somewhat for the benefit of a cousin, a quiet person, who was visiting her city relatives for the first time in many years.

"There was just one store in the place," said Miss Adelbert, "and they kept everything; that is, everything they had to keep."

"One day I went in to buy some soap, and just on a venture I asked the clerk if they had Browning. He stared at me a second, then went off and looked under the counters and on the shelves.

"Presently he came back and said, 'No, miss, we ain't got none. We got blacking, an' we got linseed, an' we got whitening, but we ain't got a bit o' Browning in the store!'"

Miss Adelbert had to make several protests to assure her audience that this really happened. Finally the cousin asked, gravely, "But, Cousin Bert, who didn't you say varnish in the first place?"

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. Now, however, through the efforts of Dr. Hartman, it is easily cured.

Science has proven catarrh to be a constant disease, and one requiring constant treatment. Hall's Patent Remedy is the only internally effective treatment on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and lungs, and is especially useful in cases where the heart fails to respond to ordinary treatment.

"Pa," said little Willie, "what is the difference between a magnet and a magnet?" "A magnet, Willie, is a metallic substance, generally of iron, which will attract certain metals, but not gold or silver. A magnet is a metallic substance, invariably of brass, which will attract gold and silver only."—Judge.

A huge touring car tore past with the extra-emergency tire strapped securely to its side. Two street gamins gaped after it intently. "Say, Jimmie, what's that round thing a-hangin' on the side?" STRAY Cow's Act.

A stray cow, picked up by the police on the South Side, nearly put the officer out of business and created lots of fun for the urchins in the neighborhood. The cow was captured by the newly appointed subpoliceman, and, wishing to distinguish himself by an arrest, he determined to take the bovine to the station house. Pursuing a rope, he fastened it to her horns and started down Cottage Grove avenue. The thoroughfare was slippery from a rainstorm, and in a lily the policeman was sliding down the asphalt on his stomach, with the cow on a dead run. The officer was game and hung on to his captive for a square, when the boys headed the animal off. He landed his prisoner and then begged off for the night to clean up.—Chicago Inter Ocean.
