KILLS TIMBER BILL
introduced to delayaliing from becoming a law.

From my understanding the legislation has been laid on the table for two weeks but now intends to have the bill seconded by Mr. Harriman who is a member of the Senate for the three Westernmost States that he wants to have the bill seconded.

In the meantime the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington have been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

Repeal of Timber and Stone Act Laid on Table.

Washington, March 1 — By a vote of 98 to 25 the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington has been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

Grande, Wl:— The House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor have all voted in favor of the timber act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington. The act has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

KILLS TIMBER BILL
introduced to delayaliing from becoming a law.

From my understanding the legislation has been laid on the table for two weeks but now intends to have the bill seconded by Mr. Harriman who is a member of the Senate for the three Westernmost States that he wants to have the bill seconded.

In the meantime the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington have been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

Repeal of Timber and Stone Act Laid on Table.

Washington, March 1 — By a vote of 98 to 25 the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington has been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

Grande, Wl:— The House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor have all voted in favor of the timber act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington. The act has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

KILLS TIMBER BILL
introduced to delayaliing from becoming a law.

From my understanding the legislation has been laid on the table for two weeks but now intends to have the bill seconded by Mr. Harriman who is a member of the Senate for the three Westernmost States that he wants to have the bill seconded.

In the meantime the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington have been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

Repeal of Timber and Stone Act Laid on Table.

Washington, March 1 — By a vote of 98 to 25 the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington has been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

Grande, Wl:— The House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor have all voted in favor of the timber act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington. The act has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

KILLS TIMBER BILL
introduced to delayaliing from becoming a law.

From my understanding the legislation has been laid on the table for two weeks but now intends to have the bill seconded by Mr. Harriman who is a member of the Senate for the three Westernmost States that he wants to have the bill seconded.

In the meantime the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington have been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

Repeal of Timber and Stone Act Laid on Table.

Washington, March 1 — By a vote of 98 to 25 the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington has been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

Grande, Wl:— The House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor have all voted in favor of the timber act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington. The act has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

KILLS TIMBER BILL
introduced to delayaliing from becoming a law.

From my understanding the legislation has been laid on the table for two weeks but now intends to have the bill seconded by Mr. Harriman who is a member of the Senate for the three Westernmost States that he wants to have the bill seconded.

In the meantime the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington have been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

Repeal of Timber and Stone Act Laid on Table.

Washington, March 1 — By a vote of 98 to 25 the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington has been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

Grande, Wl:— The House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor have all voted in favor of the timber act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington. The act has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

KILLS TIMBER BILL
introduced to delayaliing from becoming a law.

From my understanding the legislation has been laid on the table for two weeks but now intends to have the bill seconded by Mr. Harriman who is a member of the Senate for the three Westernmost States that he wants to have the bill seconded.

In the meantime the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington have been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

JOE O'FARRILL

Repeal of Timber and Stone Act Laid on Table.

Washington, March 1 — By a vote of 98 to 25 the timber and stone act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington has been passed in the House of Representatives and the Senate recently. In the House the bill has been reported as a whole and passed.

Grande, Wl:— The House of Representatives, the Senate, and the Governor have all voted in favor of the timber act and resolutions tending toward the stabilization of the State of Washington. The act has been reported as a whole and passed.