STEAM LAUNDRY NEXT

Mr. C. A. Davis (late of the Dalles) is in town looking over the situation and will probably locate here. He says he has had his eye on this place for some time and now that he has been here he is more than ever convinced of the good chance for a first class laundry. He is here to talk and do business. The council and the club are giving him their assistance and he has met with a cordial reception by all the merchants. He has just recently sold out his business at the Dalles and is a capable man, and will come here to make a success, as he has done elsewhere. Later, Mr. Davis says he will wait a little time before making any decision and see how things look here in a couple of months.

Hard Luck.

W. T. Hankins of the Star Lumber Co. had a severe accident Saturday morning when he fell off the back of the mill and very badly bruised his right shoulder and arm. He came into town and the injury was dressed by Dr. Job, who said that it was a wonder that he was not more badly hurt. The right forearm is badly strained and will have to be worn in a sling for some time. Mr. Hankins says that the mill is getting along very nicely and that the work is getting there now rapidly. They expect to be kept busy all the time, just as fast as they can run. Mr. Hankins thinks it is hard luck to be laid out just when they are beginning to get things going so nicely and need all the help they can have.

Sees "America First."

Gus Venske, a brother of H. Venske, of the Cash Grocery, who has been visiting here for some weeks, left on his way homeward Monday. Mr. Venske is a farmer of Fall Creek, Wisconsin, and on Jan. 20th left for a western trip, stopping in St. Louis, Denver, Colorado Springs, Salt Lake, all the principal towns of the coast and now starts north to visit some more of the North Coast country, before getting home about April first. He expects to begin the years farming on April 15th, and expects a big crop. He is much pleased with the west, but prefers Wisconsin, with all its cold. He suffered greatly from the heat in Los Angeles, and says Denver, Colorado, is the finest town he ever saw and that it discounts all the towns of the coast for beauty and for cleanliness it can't be beaten. He hopes to make more trips each year, seeing the whole U. S.

May Lose Sight of Eye

Fletcher Orpud had a gathering in his left ear a couple of weeks ago, and on a week ago Sunday it was lanced by Dr. Hockett. It seemed to get all right but a little pain was felt in the left eye so the doctor gave him some medicine which seemed to relieve it, but his right eye became swelled and on Sunday morning the 11th when the doctor was called he found the right eye all swelled up and protruding from the head. Medicines failed to relieve him, and on Monday he was taken to Portland by Dr. Hockett, and an eye specialist will be consulted. The eye will undoubtedly have to be opened and it is hoped that no serious results will follow, but it looks as though he would lose the sight of the right eye.

W. D. Garman moved to Portland with his family on Monday. While his interests here will still be held by him, he will devote his entire time and energies to forwarding his merchandising system, called the W. D. Garman Co. He reports that the company is in a flourishing condition and the business is growing each day. Five people are now employed at the Portland office and more agents are being put out constantly. Mr. James Hemenway will be in charge of the store here, and the stock will be improved.

Albany has just condemned some property, and vacated two streets in order to give a location for a big sawmill plant that will locate there, directly upon the bank of the Willamette. The town is getting a rustle on herself, and is going to try to capture every enterprise that comes. Mr. Suitor says that the railroad situation there is one of the best in the state, and that it is the best town between Portland and Sacramento, and will soon be still better. The mill site offered to him lies on the banks of the Calapoia, where logs can be taken from either that stream or the Willamette.
