Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Walker entertained a number of young folks at their home in this city. A most delightful time was had by all present. The best of refreshments were served and altogether it was voted a success. Departure was taken early in the morning.

Congressman Williamson, Van Gessner and Biggs are making a desperate fight to avoid sentence, after their conviction last fall. A huge bill of exception covering some 160 pages was presented Monday to Judge W. H. Hunt, of Montana in the Federal court at Portland and this bill has been denied signature because of incompleteness. A long and hard battle will be waged to escape the law.

The United States Weather Bureau commences this week to issue weekly bulletins in detail, which bulletins succeed the weekly crop bulletin issued last year. We note that the highest temperature of last week that was noted, was at Roseburg and at Drain, both 82 and the lowest at Forest Grove 28. On Thursday and Friday the temperature was higher than it had been previously recorded in 20 years.

L. F. Orpud returned from Portland on Saturday night's overland, after having had treatment from a specialist there for his eyes. A short time since he had a case of grippe which settled in his left eye and was driven from it, but later returned and settled in the right eye so suddenly and severely as to entirely destroy the sight. He was taken to Portland where the eye was removed, and the other one treated. He is now practically recovered from the sickness, but is still exceedingly weak and feels the loss of his eye very much.

Pot Hunters Pay High for Slaughtering deer.

Gamewarden Baker is much gratified over the arrest and fining of three men at Pendleton for killing deer out of season. It was alleged that three men, Fay Le Grow, Sam Pamburn and Frank Grasty of Athena killed 16 deer at one time in a canyon in the mountains on the north fork of Meacham Creek, after having driven the deer into a corner so that they could not escape, and a Pendleton paper says of it: "This seems to be the culmination of unlawful deer killing which has been going on in the neighborhood of Meacham and on the head water of Unatilla for a number of years.

The gamewarden has been hard at work on the case for a long time, and detailed Deputy J. D. Wilson of Yoncalla, who is one of the best of his deputies to trace the matter up, and as a result the evidence was found necessary to secure a conviction. The men were fined $125 each, after having plead guilty.

Able Sons.

Ex-Mayor Veatch was down at Eugene recently to hear his son, who is attending the University, debate on the rate question. Along with him was an old friend, Mr. Galloway, whose son was also debating and both men listened to the debate with great attention and interest, for they found in the speeches evidences of ability they had not imagined and each went away feeling rather as though they had mighty good reason to be proud of their sons, such able and powerful boys as they had found them to be. Mr. Galloway is the father of Chas. V. Galloway of Corvallis who is a candidate for Congressional Representative. If you want to hear Mr. Veatch talk about a good man, listen to him about Chas. V. Galloway, he says there is the man and would like to see him win out, for he is an honest strong and powerful man.

G. O. McGilvray has his force of men busily at work getting the pits dug for the foundation for the new electric plant engine, unloading brick, and getting ready for the construction of the new plant. The foundations of the engine are to be sunk deeper than first intended, and the boys are already down to the water. When the engine is mounted it will be on a foundation made to stand for years. On Wednesday a crew of men will go out on Mosby Creek and load gravel on O. & S. E. cars for the foundations. Some little difficulty was found in securing the right kind of gravel in sufficient quantities, but it is thought that by screening the rock it can be gotten all right.
