pector looking over the reserve.

The Brown Lumber Co. mill is being steadily improved and enlarged and nearly every day cuts a little more lumber than the preceding day. Mr. Brown stated to us the other day that the mill would cut 50,000 per day before long, and that it was cutting over 40,000 now. The company logger, Frank Thomas, is rushing the logs in rapidly. Every morning's train of the O. & S. E. as a good big load, besides the regular logging train.

Allen Eaton of Eugene, republican candidate for State Representative was in town Monday and Tuesday making friends and lots of them too. Mr. Eaton is a quiet, business like man, a graduate of the University of Oregon, and a man that has built up in Eugene a business that is thoroughly new to that town in a high class art and book store. Mr. Eaton has made his business a success and is now taking an interest in moulding the affairs of the county. To the younger generation of the nation who are making political affairs a careful study and who are evolving new solutions of our political situations, the coming battles are gradually being prepared for by their presence in the political arena. Mr. Eaton is a municipal ownership man, and withal a sane and sound reasoner, and one who proposes to see that the county gets its monies worth, and that everything is run on a business like basis.

Willamette valley may be irrigated, says government expert, Elwood. He has been making investigations along this line, and thinks the Willamette valley should support a greater population that even the whole of Southern California.

"Scotty" got into trouble by boasting that he "fooled the court" and by buying a $4150 automobile, after entering a plea of poverty, when bail was to be issued to release him from a San Bernardino jail. His bail is 10,000 cash now, instead of $2,000 and he can't raise the needed.

Cut off in His Youth.
Wm. Bennett, a young man from Massachusetts, was accidentally killed in the woods near Dorena last Wednesday, by being crushed by a falling tree. An especially sad thing about his death was that he should have to be buried here, thousands of miles from his home, with no one but friends of a month, and his fraternal brotherhood to grieve over his untimely death.

Womans Club
The Cottage Grove Womans Club is approaching the end of its work for the year, and is especially gratified with the work that has been done. The committee is very busy getting out the programme for the next years' work, but are laying out work for only every other week, as it has been decided that a weekly meeting is too great a tax upon the members. The ladies are not going to allow the civic improvement work, nor the flower contest work to lapse in interest, although the summer months are approaching when they will not be stirred to renewed interest by their weekly meetings. The limited membership of the club has been such that every place has been taken, and each member feels that a great deal has been accomplished. Miss Jennie Woods is chairman of the new programme committee for the ensuing year's work.

Extend S. P. Local to Cottage Grove
The Commercial Club on Monday evening voted to send a letter to J. P. O'Brien of the Southern Pacific asking that the Eugene local be run to this point.

The club after long and wordy discussions voted to post a resolution that the dues of the club be reduced to $1. per month and the initiation fees be reduced to $10. for the securing of 20 additional members.

Messrs. Hall and Hardy spoke about the franchise asked for by the Willamette Co. and stated the intention of the company was to build up the country and not in any way to restrict the coming in of any other company to do business in the same territory.

Allen Eaton, Republican candidate for Representative made a short speech on the work of the company and the wisdom of thoughtful consideration of the granting of franchises.

Election Supplies

Harry Brown, Deputy Sheriff came in Monday afternoon from Eugene with the election supplies for this district and has been busy ever since distributing them. It is a big job and takes a lot of time and means a good deal of extra expense to the county. Frank Wheeler, L. F. Wooley and W. H. Blair are the judges for east Cottage Grove and the voting place will be at the Nat Martin building on the corner of Fifth and Main streets and T. J. Markley and N. W. White are judges for west Cottage Grove with voting place in the Masonic Hall.

One Ton of Cable

David Griggs informs us that a ton of cable has been ordered by the Pacific States Co. and that he has the shipping receipt for it. When the cable is received it will be run up and down Main Street, the small wires being removed. Until the cable is installed and in working order about thirty to fifty phone contracts which are being held back on accounts of the inability of the company to connect the phones, will be held, but this work will soon be done and the Cottage Grove directory will be greatly increased. More phones up and down the valley are being put in right along, and the two girls now given employment in the office are kept very busy.

Mrs. Cardwell is making a great many improvements to her place on Second street. She is going to fence her lots and put everything in good condition.

Binger Mermann has secured a postponement of his trial to Thursday. The charge against him is the destruction of public documents, and grows out of the alleged burnings of papers relating to land frauds when the Congressman was Commissioner of the land office.

A. J. Stewart who bought two lots of Mrs. Cardwell, has moved a neat little house onto the lots, has torn down part of the old barn, and will put up a good fence, and thoroughly fix it up to get a good return from it. He has in mind the continued prosperity of the town.

Uncle Burn Veatch was looking over his garden patch the other day as we went by and spoke of the fact that the slugs had destroyed a greater portion of his radishes and smaller vegetables. He is one of those hardy old pioneers that have made Oregon what she is, and hope to still be on hand to see her a greater Oregon still.

The Monday's Guard says Lane County is out of debt once more. That the state treasurer has been sent Lane County's share of the state tax, which amounts to $14,437.50, and that a call has been issued for all outstanding registered county warrants and that this is the first time in a number of years that this has been the case. Good for Lane County.

Sheriff Fisk of Eugene is before the people for nomination again on the democratic ticket. He has given good service and is well liked by men of both parties, and will get many republican votes undoubtedly over the county. He is a brave and efficient officer.

C. A. Hardy of Eugene, a lawyer for the Willamette Valley Co., who is also a candidate for the office of State Representative was here Monday on company business, and incidentally to pick up a few extra votes. Mr. Hardy represents a class of large business holdings, and is interested in the political situation and expects to carry the nomination.

E. W. Hall of the Willamette Valley Company was a visitor in town Monday looking after the franchise proposition. Mr. Hall has great hopes of what is coming to the valley. He says that the Hill line will undoubtedly come down the valley, and the Milwaukee & St. Paul come up from San Francisco. In speaking of the squabble over the bridge proposition in Portland, he said that if the fight continued to keep Hill out, the result would be that St. Johns would get all the building, and the business and Portland would be left out. Mr. Hall is a worker and represents great capitalists, who believe that the Willamette valley has most wonderful possibilities, and that with the natural advantages around Cottage Grove as the center, that the town should be a factor in the years to come.

The Little Country Paper.

'Tisn't filled with cuts and pictures, nor the latest news dispatches; And the paper's often dampened, and the print is sometime blurred. There is only one edition and the eye quite often catches Times of a missing letter and at times a misspelled word. No cabigrams nor "specials" anywhere the eye engages; The makeup is, mayhap, a trifle crude and primitive. But an atmosphere of home life fills and permeates the pages Of the little country paper, printed where you used to live.

How the heart grows soft and tender while its columns you're perusing Every item is familiar; every name you know full well. And a flood of recollection passes o'er you as you're musing On the past, and weaves about you an imaginative spell. You can see the old home village, once again, in fancy, seeming To be clasping hand of neighbor, and of friend and relative. And their faces rise before you as you're idly, fondly dreaming O'er the little country paper, printed where you used to live.

And you seem to leave the city, with its rush and roar and clamor; With its busy, bustling atmosphere of turmoil and of strife; Leave the multitude of surging, eager workers and the glamor, For the quiet, soothing blandishment of restful country life. And you note a vine-clad cottage, with the roses nestling 'round it; Hear the voice of mother calling for the long-gone fugitive. While the echo of her pleading, memories repeat and sound O' the little country paper, printed where you used to live.

Every paper like reminds you of the days long since departed. Here a boyhood chum is mentioned; There a schoolmate's name appears And the eye grows moist in reading, while the soul grows heavy-hearted O'er the changes Time has wrought throughout the swiftly passing years. Memory's scroll has deep impressions stamped upon its face forever. Of sweet pleasures which the busy city life can never give; And, in fancy, you are roaming through the quiet town, whenever You peruse the country paper, printed where you used to live.

Revival Services

Rev. Ross is holding great meetings at the Methodist Church every day, morning and evening. In the morning at 9:30 and the evening at 7:30. The Presbyterian Church dismissed their Sunday evening service in order to attend the revival services, and the church was packed to the doors. Great interest is being given throughout the town and much good is being done.

STATE TREASURER.

People vs. Banks of Portland.
To the Workingmen, Business Men and Farmers of Oregon:
A vote for Judge Thos. F. Ryan, business man of Oregon City for State Treasurer, means that state monies will be used for the benefit of all the people of the state.

A vote for Ralph W. Hoyt, Banker of Portland, means that state monies will be used for the benefit of the Merchant's National Bank of Portland.

A vote for E. V. Cartler, banker of Ashland means that the state monies will be used for the benefit of the First National Bank of Portland and Carter's Bank in Ashland and California.

A vote for Geo. A. Steel, politician means that the state monies will be used to benefit himself and the security trust and saving bank. Let every republican cast his vote for Judge Thos. F. Ryan and show the banks and bankers that the people must and will have their own.
