Dr. C. T. Hockett has purchased of C. Ross King, the Yoncalla drug store including the lot and building in which the drug store is located. Dr. Hockett is merely making the purchase for an investment at present.

A local option victory doesn't necessarily mean that it will be dry picking for the lawyers. Better have electric freight cars in the streets than a rank growth of grass. Be a booster for your town. Tell the knockers to move on to the next county.—Guard.

Ladies or Misses double brim, lingerie hats. Box crown shirt waist sailors. Round crown, high back bandeau sailors. Ladies or Misses docket crushers, children's rolling brim outing sailors, a few of the many styles in white hats offered by Miss Mary Bartels.

Two travelling evangelists, Mr. and Mrs. Bomar sent out by a Missionary society of Boston to preach to the heathen, were here on Saturday and Sunday at their work. They spoke and sang in front of the Hotel Blair Saturday afternoon and evening, and Sunday held several open air services. Mrs. Bomar has a very fine voice and both are good speakers, and did good work in their cause. Earnestness such as theirs always wins support and does good.

Mr. Harry Webber states that they are forming a new quartette out in his neighborhood that will be able to sing some of the best music. A new high first tenor has recently moved there and the new store owner at London is an experienced quartette second tenor so with Mr. Webber for base and one of his neighbors for baritone, they expect to be able to practice up and promise to come in to town and give us a musical treat some day, in the way of male quartette work.

Andy Nelson states that the machinery for the Alaska Mining Company of which he is chief engineer and electrician, has not yet been shipped and unless it is shipped within a few days the probability is that it will not be shipped until next spring, on account of the very short season in Alaska, consequently Andy is looking forward to a number of more months wait before going to Alaska to install the big plant. He says he does not mind the waiting much, but must keep busy in the meantime, for idle hours go hard with him.

The new dam on North Creek is all completed and the entire ditch has been dug to connect with the main pipe line, but Contractor Hart is waiting, patiently waiting for the pipe manufacturing company to ship the wooden pipe to be used in the addition to the system. If the pipe was on hand it would be but a few days work to complete the work, but the delay in the shipping of the pipe may mean a great deal to Cottage Grove in the summer months, if the connections are not made before the dry season sets in. Mr. Hart has done his best, and will rush the work when the pipe comes.

Felix Currin was in town on Monday and says that the new house, built on the site of the old landmark which was recently destroyed by fire, is now nearly completed and that they are occupying it, and find it very convenient and comfortable. He is in a hurry to get it all fixed up as he does not like the litter around, and wants it just as comfortable as possible for the old folks.

The new Farmers and Miners telephone Co. telephone line is being completed to the Red Bridge as fast as possible. Most of the poles are in place, and the brackets have been put up. The work of stringing the wires will be commenced very soon, and it is hoped to have the line completed to the bridge within a short time, after which the work of extending the line up to the mines will be commenced.

There is room today in Oregon for 10,000 more men to work at common labor, at wages higher than ever before been paid for common labor in time of peace in the United States. The Pacific coast is calling to the East for its surplus working population. Here in Oregon the working man may find the most healthful conditions, the best living, the pleasantest surroundings, the warmest welcome and a climate that will permit him to work out of doors the whole year.

Harry Webber came in from his ranch Monday with a couple of crates of very fine strawberries. Mr. Webber has recently received from an eastern man, that is making strawberry culture a specialty, 600 choice plants of 20 varieties which he will plant, and from which he will have premium berries. All the plants received are of registered and pedigreed growth. Mr. Webber is paying especial attention to this work and hopes to make it a very paying proposition in the years to come.
