Fourth of July Claims Thirty-Three As Its Toll.

OVER ONE THOUSAND ACCIDENTS

Death and Accident List of Country But Little Behind Figures for July 4, 1905.

Chicago, July 5. - Chicago and the nation paid dearly yesterday for the Fourth of July celebration. White in some respects the day in Chicago was quieter than usual, the deaths directly attributable to the use of explosives number two, including one of a few days ago, and the injuries mount up to nearly 100. At midnight the Chicago list of maimed and hurt contained 80 names, and the reports are still com-

Throughout the country the same story was told. Independence day seemed to be less boisterous, but when the final recapitualtion was made the total of fatalities and seriously injured was large. There were 31 deaths reported at midnight from outside cities and towns, with New York and other large municipalities holding back returns. One year ago Chicago showed no deaths and 115 injured, and the country at large 46 dead and 2,505 injured.

The Fourth of 1906, then, promises to run up almost as many deaths, with the list of hurt so incomplete that only an estimate can be made. The outlook is that in minor casualities this year will not be far behind last.

Cannon crackers, stray bullets and exploding torpedo canes were responsible for the majori'y of injuries in Chicago. Following closely in their wake in numbers, and with even more serious results for their victims, came the toy pistol, the toy cannon and the re-

Oyeter Bay, July 5. - President Roosevelt spoke to a gathering of his neighbors here today. The sentiments he expressed are summed up as follows:

When it becomes necessary to curb a bers. great corporation, curb it. I will do men who own or control that corporation; and if any seek in their turn to do wrong to the men who own those corporations, I will turn and fight for hard as I fight against them when I think they are doing wrong.

If the man is a decent man, whether well off or not well off, stand by him; if he is not a decent man, stand against him, if he be rich or poor. Stand against him in no spirit of vengeance, 'but only with the resolute purpose to make him act as decent citizens must act if this republic is to be.

HILL WINS FIGHT.

Road Down North Bank of Columbia Given Right of Way.

Vancouver, July 3 .- Hill won over Harriman yesterday when Judge W. W. McCredie, of the Superior court of Washington, decided that the Portland & Seattle railway had the right to condemn across the property of the Columbia Valuey railroad along the north bank of the Columbia river. The decision is a sweeping one, and carries with it the settlement of an important question in the struggle between the two roads. Both have fought for the narrow strip along the river's edge whereon a railway can be built. Both have been at work building grades preparatory to laying rails. Both claimed certain points of conflict, the Columbia Valley by deed from the former owners, and the Portland & Seattleby virtue of condemnation suits across the property of the rival corporation. By a decision allowing this right, if sustained by the higher courts of Washington, apparently no barrier can be raised in the path of Hill that will prevent him from following his surveys down the Washington shore of the river.

The decision announces that in case the Columbia Valley desires to build a railroad down the porth bank, the court will extend the road full protection by allowing it to build a roadbed and track over the right of way parallel with the Portland & Seattle track as surveyed, without compelling the Harriman road to recondemn, providing the Columbia Vailey determines to build and does build within a reasonsble time. If the opposing road to the Hill line fails to build, then the Portland & Seattle is to have the full right of way for its own purposes.

Nearly All Were Americans Who Had Just Arrived on Steamer From New York.

Salisbury, England, July 3 .- Driving at a mad pace over the London Southwestern railway, the American Line Express, carrying 43 of the steamer New York's passengers from Plymouth to London, plunged from the track just after passing the station here at 1:57 o'clock this morning and mangied to death in its wreckage 23 passengers, and four of the trainmen. Beside those to whom death came speedily, a dozen persons were injured, some of them seriously. The late hour of the New York's arrival at Plymouth saved many lives. She carried more than 60 travelers for London, but many of them elected to travel on comfortably to Southampton in preference to the late landing at Plymouth and the long night ride across the country. If the New York had made a faster passage the somber roster of the dead and injured would have been larger.

The surviving passengers and trainmen describe the sound of the wreck as like the discharge of a series of heavy guns of varied caliber, and when the crashing of the wreck was past there came calls of the injured, some shricking with pain and fear and othersmoaning as if bewildered by the shock. Relief came quickly, although it was an hour before the last body was attracted by the noise, called ambujured. The railway yard quickly filled with police, doctors, nurses, trainmen
