IRRIGATION SCHOOL

Big Gathering for Boise for the First of September.

Only one on coast this year.

Hundreds of Letters Are Received. Discoveries—Rare-

Boise, July 7.—The Portland Irrigation congress, which was last held in 1891, met in Denver last week to arrange for the next session. The congress was opened by a meeting of national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who was elected president. The convention adjourned until the first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the

first of September, when it will meet in Boise.

The Portland congress was opened by a meeting of

national luminaries to be held under the presidency of Rep. John C. St. John, who

was elected president. The convention adjourned until the first of September, when it will meet in Boise.