Harriman seems to be squelching because Hill has got the No. Pacific Terminal Co. in Portland bottled up so it cannot enlarge its yards, and has acquired the lands for his road, when Harriman was after them. All sides seem to get it now and then.

Millions Celebrate Labor Day.

Monday was Labor Day throughout the United States and in almost all of the larger towns, parades and great celebrations were held and it is said that more people were in line in these parades than ever known before.

Irrigation Congress in Session in Boise.

The great Irrigation Congress is assembled in Boise, with hundreds and thousands of delegates and interested men in attendance. Train loads of people from all the Western states were present with their governors and men of note. The opening was graced by vice-president Fairbanks. Great is the work of the Reclamation Service and the Congress hopes to forward not only governmental work but private work as well.

Sixty-seven years ago, on February 11, the University of Missouri was formed. This is the oldest state university in west of the Mississippi river. From the beginning of its courses of instruction April 14, 1841, this university has been in continuous operation except for a few months during the civil war. Its buildings, grounds, books and other equipment are valued at about $2,000,000.

The Krupp plants in Germany on July 1 employed 5,065 superintendents and 62,553 workmen, an increase of 7,000 in one month. In the steel works alone 36,000 men are employed. The average wage is about $1.40 for a nine hour day.

The mines at Courmieres, France, where 1,101 lives were lost by explosion some months ago, have 14 shafts worked by nine shafts producing in 1905 about 2,400,000 tons of semi-bituminous and anthracite coal, or about one-fifteenth part of the total for the whole country, the company employing more than 8,000 miners.

Gold stealing is a lucrative occupation for miners. In Russia authoritative estimates place the population at 10 to 15 per cent of the annual gold output, and in the Kalgoolie field of West Australia the loss to mine owners is variously calculated at $350,000 to $5,000,000 annually. It is claimed that the largest stealers are officials at the mines.

In mining the apex is the highest point of outcrop of a mineral vein or lode. This is the common definition of the term, though its legal significance must be interpreted in accordance with the local conditions. According to the Revised Statutes of the United States for 1872, the owner of a mineral claim which includes the apex is allowed to follow the vein along the dip for an indefinite distance, without regard to the ownership of the overlying surface, so that the proper location of the apex is of the utmost importance in establishing the lines for a claim. The courts have decided that the apex need not appear necessarily at the surface; hence the term does not exactly coincide with the term outcrop. In the case of an inclined vein whose apex is concealed, but which outcrops at some point lower down, the right of mining is conveyed to the owner of the outcrop claim, most European countries have mining laws that grant the owner the right to mine only within the vertical limits of his claim.

The Great Northern mines in the Blue River District are about to be sold to Eastern capitalists through the J. C. Lee Co.

W. A. Hogate drove in from the Vesuvius on Wednesday and brought Mrs. Hogate and the children down with him. Mrs. Hogate left that same evening for Salem to attend the marriage of her sister.

Frank Skillman and wife with Mrs. Fields have returned from their camping trip above Wildwood and it is said Frank got all the fish there were in the streams but left a few of the game for others. What he did with his catch is hard to tell.

W. T. Hankins of the Star Lumber Co. was in town on Wednesday and reports everything in fine condition, and the mill doing well. He says the car shortage has been much relieved recently, and while they have some lumber piled in the yard, yet it does not amount to much.

Fred Russel of the Chambers Lumber Co. was in town Tuesday, and came back Friday again, going north on business. The party that has been spending the summer at Mr. Russel's camp broke up and Mrs. Russel made a trip to the great Yellowstone Park with the party and is now returning home. Mr. Russel has found it rather lonesome after the whole jolly camp left, leaving him in solitary glory, with the Japanese cook.

Mothers Meeting.

A very interesting "Mothers Meeting" was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. LeRoy Woods.

Topic, "Parental Responsibility" for what our children read. Devotional exercises consisted of a hymn, prayer by Mrs. Baker and scripture reading from Matt. 9, 37-48 and Joshua 1, 1-9 by Mrs. DeSpain, who believed the scarcity of laborers was largely due to disregard of the command "pray ye the Lord of the Harvest that He will send forth more laborers into His harvest. When God commands to pray, He pledges Himself to answer, and if laborers continue few, we must be at fault; our part is to be strong and very courageous" and to pray for more laborers while doing with our might what our hands find to do. The W. C. T. U. had its inception in prayer and must so continue if at all successful.

After a song by Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Wheeler read "The Atrocities of the Colored Supplement and "Finding a Substitute."

A general discussion brought out such points as the child's initiative faculty, which prompts him to do what he reads of and the need of high ideals in their literature; close parental censorship of home literature; co-operation between father and mother on this point, with many interesting illustrations from real life.

This meeting was followed by the annual meeting for reports of superintendents and election of officers.

Mrs. John Baker was elected president, Mrs. M. J. Chamberlain recording and corresponding secretary and Mrs. LeRoy Woods, treasurer.

A very interesting report from Flower Mission Supt. Mrs. Chamberlain, disclosed much quiet but effective work. Hundreds of bouquets accompanied by texts, have cheered the sick and mitigated the terrors of the grave for those left behind; food and clothing have been distributed to the needy and in many ways has the command to minister to the sick and distressed been fulfilled.

Owing to the previous meeting, most of the reports had to be continued to another meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. John Baker on Friday of this week, when superintendents will be appointed. All members please attend.

Stensland Caught in Tangiers.

Paul O. Stensland, the defaulting president of a Chicago bank, was captured in Tangiers, which country has no extradition laws, through a hint given by a woman he had scorned. While Tangiers has no extradition laws, the Sultan of Morocco is on friendly terms with America and permits prisoners to be taken out of the country.

How's This London Mineral Springs?

In 1860 nearly 47,000,000 gallons of mineral waters from springs in the United States were sold, in 1900 59,000,000 gallons, and in 1905 about 75,000,000 gallons; while in the current year there is promise of an increased output, may be to 80,000,000 gallons. It is calculated that Americans spend annually something like $20,000,000 for mineral waters; of this the actual producer gets about $12,000,000 or 60 per cent, the balance being accounted for by expense of freight, bottling and retailers profit.
