CONTAGIOUS BLOOD POISON
HUMILIATING—VILE—DESTRUCTIVE

The very name, Contagious Blood Poison, suggests contamination and dread. It is the worst disease the world has ever known; responsible for more unhappiness and sorrow than all others combined. Nobody knows anything about the origin of this brothel trouble, but people believe it to be a natural law that causes health to be invaded by a mysterious force, which they call a "contagion." No part of the body is beyond the reach of this powerful poison. No matter how pure the blood may be, when the contact of Contagious Blood Poison has once entered the system, becomes corrupted, the humiliating symptoms begin to appear, and the sufferer finds himself dishonored from head to foot with the worst and most destructive of all poisons. Finally the first symptom is a severe pain in some part, or swollen, so insignificant that it rarely ever excites suspicion; but in a short while the skin breaks out in a red rash, the glands of the neck swell, the arm and mouth become swollen, and the hair and eyebrows come out, and often the body is covered with copper-colored eruptions and sores. There is hardly any limit to the ravages of Contagious Blood Poison, and when driven from the body it afflicts the nerves, and in systems cases causes tumors to form on the brain, provoking insanity and death. No disease is more prevalent than this, or so highly contagious; many an innocent person has been infected by using the same toilet articles, handling the clothing, by a friendly handshakle or the kiss of affection from one afflicted. But no matter how the disease is contracted, the sufferer feels the humiliation and degradation that accompany the vile disorder. Contagious Blood Poison is the most offensive and infectious of all poisons. It is a disease to which no one is immune, and the minute one of its symptoms exists it will continue to its end, and cause as much suffering as possible.
