LENGTH OF BLACKENAKES.
Rapidly of Movement Makes Them Seem Longer.
One of the significant features of this snake season, and of any snake season that occurs, which is every year, is the very long length of the blackenakes that are seen, says the Ohio State Journal. This is not at all remarkable, for about the only thing a blackenake has to show for itself is its length. It has no musical tail like the rattlesnake, nor the puffed-out head of the hissing viper, nor the livid, languid manners of the house snake—it has only length, and when with amazing speed it whips through the deep grass or dead leaves it seems to be thirty or forty feet long. So truly does this little illusion exist that when a person tells of a blackenake seven or eight feet long, he prides himself on great modesty of statement. And, by the way, we have noted many blackenake stories this summer, and we have not encountered a snake under seven feet.

There was that story of a girl out in York State, who heard her little dog barking violently out in the stable. She went there to discover the cause, and lo! that little dog was in fight with a blackenake seven feet long. It was a great fight and the dog was doing heroic work, keeping the python at bay until the little girl hunted up a pitchfork and with that dispatched the serpent, which, the account says, was seven feet long. Of course, it had to be seven feet, for there is no other kind. Is there a moral to this? There is, of course, to every snake story. It is this: Be exceedingly careful not to make bigger than it is the horrible incident in your life which you encounter. See that your blackenake is under seven feet long.

New Monthly Magazine.
A bright, new monthly magazine has made its appearance on the Pacific coast, and looks as if it had come to stay. It is the Coos Bay Monthly, published at Marshfield, Oregon, the business center of one of the most resourceful districts of the entire Northwest. The November number consists of about 125 pages of good reading matter, mostly local in nature, nicely illustrated, and of general interest to all who wish to know anything of the Great Northwest. The number also contains nearly 30 pages of local advertising. This speaks volumes for the business enterprise and energy of the citizens, as well as for the ability of P. C. Levar, editor and manager, and F. B. Cameron, advertising manager.

Belief and Understanding.
"Does that man really believe all he says?"
"Believe it!" echoed Senator Sorghum, "why he doesn't even understand it."—Washington Star.

The Ideal Family Laxative
is one that can be used by the entire family, young and old, weak and strong, without any danger of harmful effects. It should have properties which insure the same dose always having the same effect, otherwise the quantity will have to be increased and finally lose its effect altogether. These properties can be found in that old family remedy, Brandreth's Pills, be cause its ingredients are of the purest kind, and every pill is kept for three years before being sold, which all we them to mellow. We do not believe there is a laxative on the market that is so far fully made.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used. They have been in use for over a century and are sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

First Appearance.
"Who are you, sir?" asked Eve, in surprise.
"Madam," answered Adam, with his most engaging smile, "I am Exhibit A of the ethnological department."
It was then that the serpent, having escaped from the zoological department, entered upon the scene, and the real trouble began.

A PUBLIC DUTY.
Montpelier, Ohio, Man Feels Compelled to Tell His Experience.
Joseph Wilgus, Montpelier, O., says: "I feel it my duty to tell others about Doan's Kidney Pills. Exposure and driving brought kidney trouble on me, and I suffered much from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. Sometimes there was retention and at other times passages were too frequent, especially at night. There was pain and discoloration. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief from the first, and soon infused new life. I give them my endorsement."
Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foeter-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Medium—Have you had experience? Cook—I've had tin plates this month.—Harper's Bazar.

Tommy—Pop, what is fret-work? Tommy's Pop—Wrinkles, my son.—Philadelphia Record.

She—So you have had a great many thrilling escapades? He—Yes—I am still a bachelor.—Detroit Free Press.

"Is he a criminal or a corporation lawyer?" "Both. He's a criminal corporation lawyer."—Omaha News.

Eddie—How long have the New-Yorkers been in society? Bob—From the way they play golf I should judge about two days.—Judge.

Baron—She says she is 28 years old. Egbert—Well, she looks as if she would say she was about that old.—Yonkers Statesman.

Tommy—How do girls spend their time? Jimmy—Trying to make little boys stop asking questions and big boys begin.—Exchange.

Medium—I see a large dark obstacle rising suddenly in your way, Railroad Magnate—I guess that's my coal stock.—Baltimore American.

"Life is so uncertain," she said. "I know it," he replied, "let's get married. One of us may die within a few years."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"De man dat nurses unreasonable hopes," said Uncle Eben, "may be foolish, but ain't so foolish as de one dat nurses vain regrets."—Washington Star.

"I see, Kattie, that New York is to have one politician to every 521 inhabitants," said the lady of the house. "Well, ma'am, I've got mine," was Kattie's reply.—Yonkers Statesman.

He—Do you remember the night I asked you to marry me? She—Yes, dear. He—For a whole hour we sat there, and not a word did you speak. All that was the happiest hour of my life.—Exchange.

"I would deem it a great favor if you would give me a little writup," said the poet to the editor. "Nothing would please me more," replied the editor. "When do you contemplate dying?"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

"You must change this ending," said the theatrical manager; "I want a play that ends happily. 'All right,' replied the obliging dramatist; 'I'll have my hero and heroine divorced in the last act.'—Philadelphia Record.

Not the Kind He Wanted.—A smart young fellow called out to a farmer who was sowing seed in his field. "Well done, old fellow, you sow; I reap the fruits." "Maybe you will," said the farmer, "for I'm sowing hemp."
Grandfather (enthusiastically)—Say, Willie, don't you want to go through a toy shop with me this afternoon and see all the pretty things? Willie (indifferently)—I'm willing to, pop, if you will get any pleasure out of it.—Life.

"Mr. Jones," said the office boy, "I got ter get off dis afternoon. Me gran-mother is dyin'." "I've something for you to do to-day, Johnnie," said Mr. Jones; "but you may go at 4 o'clock." "Aw! wot good is 4 o'clock?"—Judge.

News Editor—Here's a cable from Constantinople saying the Sultan's principal amusement is scaring his wives into fits. Managing Editor—Well, head it "A Harem Scarem Fellow," and run it in the joke column.—Philadelphia Record.

"You say you wouldn't like to get out?" exclaimed the prison visitor. "Why, I thought you were in for life." "Oh, worse than that, ma'am," replied the convict. "I'm in for a double life. I've got two wives waiting outside."—Philadelphia Ledger.

First Girl—What are you waiting for? Why don't you finish your letter to Ella? Second Girl—I don't know whether to say "Ever yours with truest love," or simply "Yours affectionately." You see, I can't endure Ella—I think she's detestable!—Tit-Bits.

Gracie—Oh, Mr. Nocoynne, how lovely of you to bring me these beautiful roses. How sweet they are, and how fresh! I do believe there is a little dew on them yet! Mr. Nocoynne—Well, yes—there is; but I'll pay it to-morrow.—Illustrated Bits.

First Auto in Bogota.
A. G. Snyder, consul-general at Bogota, reports as follows, says the New York Times:
"Last week the first automobile made its appearance on the streets of Bogota and the excitement was unparalleled. Crowds have blocked the highways for squares, rendering traffic almost impossible, and great interest has been aroused as to the possibilities that this mode of transportation may offer in the future."
"This automobile is an American machine, and some business may result from the present enthusiasm. I shall be pleased to receive catalogues from automobile manufacturers of the United States for filing in the reading room here."
"It is rumored that a concession is shortly to be given to a transportation company for the exclusive use of the Camboia road, which leads from the upper Magdalena River to Bogota. Automobiles are to be used exclusively by this company."

Judicial Acumen.
The late Justice Daly of New York frequently enlivened the tedium of legal proceedings had before him by his knotty wit.
One day a suit was brought before him in which damages were claimed for reason of an assault. Plaintiff had been knocked down by the defendant and severely pummeled while prostrate. One of the witnesses seemed very reluctant to answer the questions put to him on cross-examination, in which he was upheld by the court.
"With all due respect to your honor," complained the attorney for the plaintiff, "the court does not appear to take cognizance of the underlying principle in this case."
"In my opinion," replied his honor, good-naturedly, "the underlying principle in this case is your client, Mr. Attorney."—Harper's Weekly.

Judge and Juror.
Judge Adams, the County Court Judge of Limerick, is one of the witliest of Irishmen, but occasionally from an encounter he emerges second best. The other day a juror asked to be excused from serving on account of deafness.
"Were you in court during my charge to the jury in the last case?" asked the Judge.
"Yes, yer honor," replied the juror. "Did you hear it?"
"Yes, yer honor, I heard every word of it, but I couldn't make any sense of it!"
The reply evoked a roar of laughter, in which Judge Adams heartily joined. But he did not excuse that juror.

Look but Do Not Touch.
"Has your wife got your den fixed up yet?"
"Yes, and you ought to see it. It's the coziest place in the whole house."
"I suppose you find great comfort in it, don't you?"
"Oh, she won't let me go in it. It's merely to look at."—Milwaukee Sentinel.
